Commission hears five-year road plan

Funding for remote control of emergency sirens to be explored

BY DONNA PALMLUND
Kingsbury Journal

At Tuesday's Kingsbury County Commissioners' meeting, County Highway Superintendent Dave Sorenson presented a detailed 5-year highway and bridge improvement plan. The plan outlined projects Sorenson has planned for the next five years and included a color coordinated map that shows which projects are slated for each year. Commissioners and Sorenson discussed grants and other revenues, budget and which roads and bridges might take priority because of the amount of traffic.

Sorenson also updated commissioners on problem areas, projects that have been completed, and others that are being worked on or will be worked on soon.

Following the presentation, County Auditor Jennifer Barnard read a resolution approving the 5-year plan. This plan and resolution are necessary to apply for a grant from the South Dakota Department of Transportation.

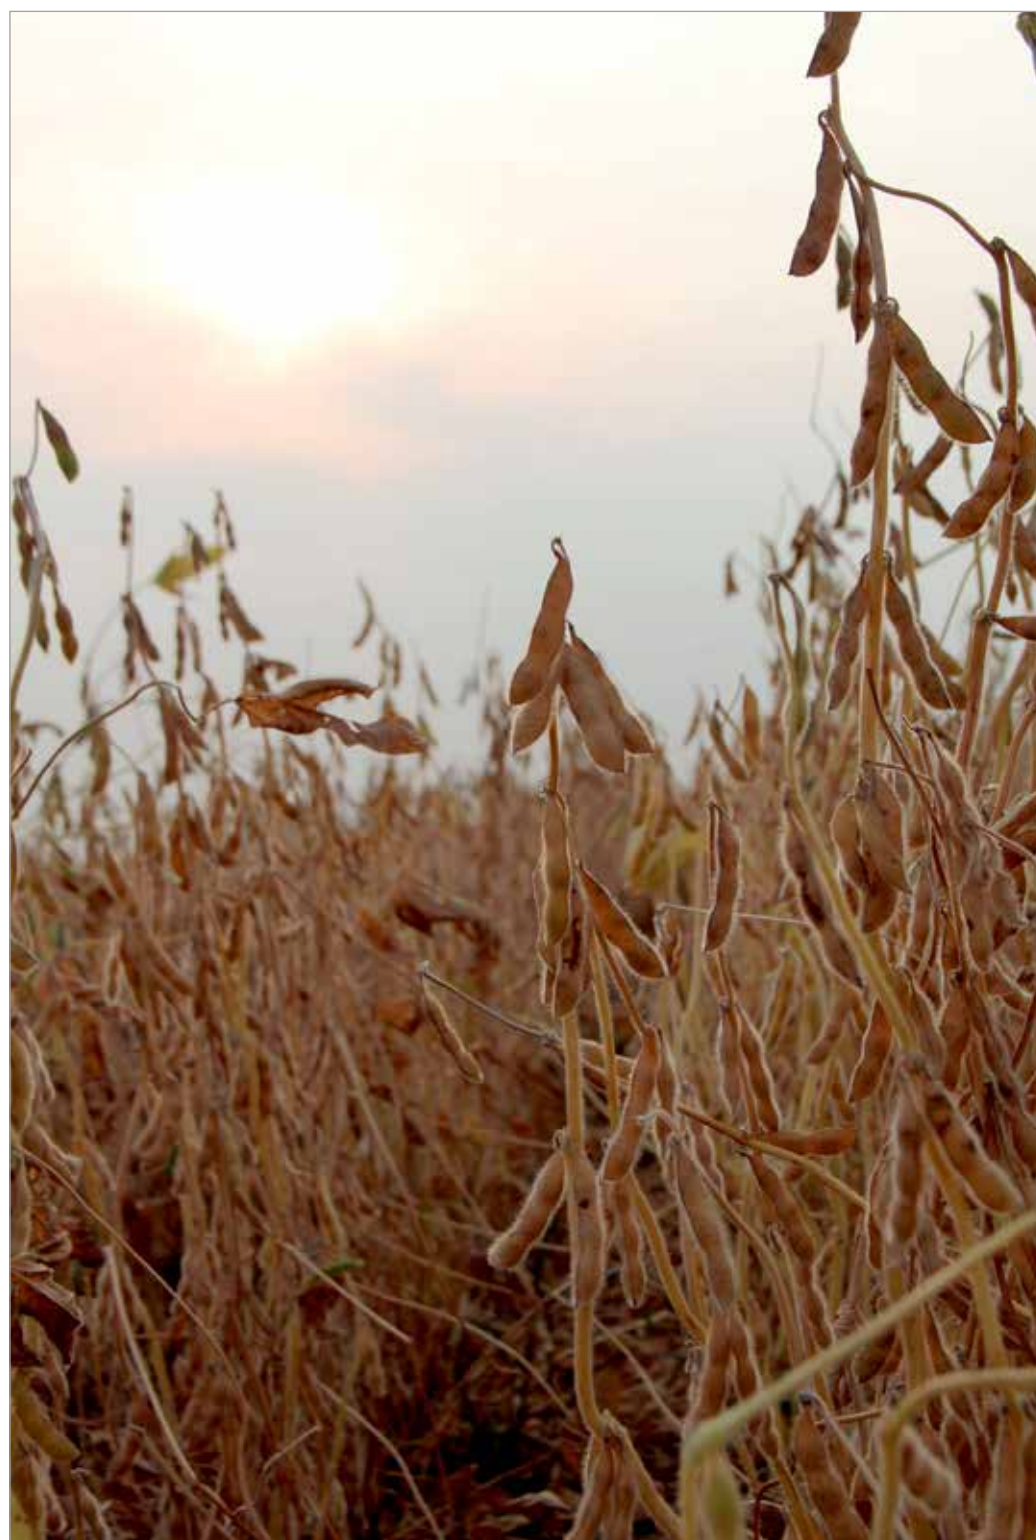

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT REPORT

Emergency Manager Cindy Bau gave her quarterly report and inquired about using money from a Dakota Access Pipeline grant for 2-way radios. Dakota Access gives the county money every two years to be spent on first response projects.

During a recent weather event that produced rotation in the clouds, the National Weather Service called about 1:15 a.m. to have someone sound the tornado sirens. She said this is not always easy to do, but sirens in several areas in the county — De Smet, Arlington, Badger, Erwin, Hetland and the Lake Thompson area — could be programmed so the weather sirens are set off by someone flipping a switch in Huron if there is no one in these communities to do it. Bau said Lake Preston is already set up for this.

Bau also stated she didn't think 911 grant money could be used for this purpose. Commission Chair Roger Walls commented that this project seems close-

ELECTION 2020

Absentee voting begins

Ballots must arrive by November 3

BY DONNA PALMLUND
Kingsbury Journal

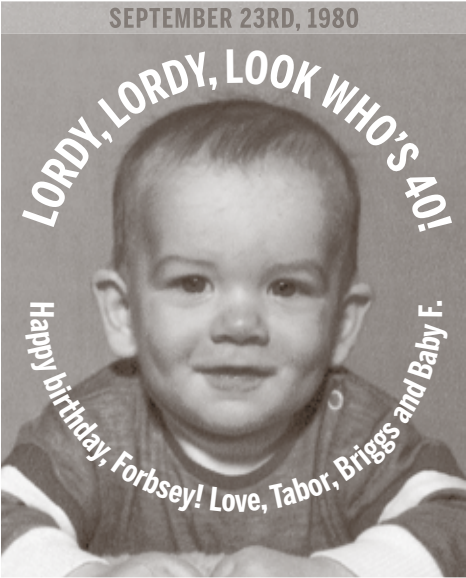

The general election is Nov. 3, but the first day of absentee voting for the general election was Sept. 18 in South Dakota. This is also the day that absentee ballots were mailed for applications that had been received.

Voters who selected "All" or "General election" on the application for a primary ballot should have received a general election ballot. If you have not, or have questions, call the auditor's office at 854-3832.

Voters can also vote absentee in person prior to Election Day. Although the courthouse is not open to walk-in traffic, people can go to the door on the east wing of the courthouse and ring the doorbell. Auditor Jennifer Barnard or Deputy Auditor Echo Steffensen will come to the door to assist you. Barnard said voters are not required to call ahead of time, but that it would be helpful.

Barnard has ordered a dropbox to be used for county business, including absentee ballots. It is expected to arrive by the middle of October. People will be able to place their completed ballots and other paperwork for the county in the dropbox outside of the courthouse. More information will be made available when the dropbox arrives and is installed.

Absentee ballots by mail must arrive by Nov. 3. They can also be hand-delivered to the courthouse by 5 p.m.

ly related to 911.

“It’s an emergency, and it’s done by 911 personnel,” he said, adding that something needs to be done.

Commissioners voted to allow Bau to look into using funds from the Dakota Access grant.

Bau also gave an update on her pre-disaster mitigation plan, including pre-disaster mitigation grants that go into effect Sept. 30. Bau said she did not attend the fall Emergency Managers conference and received a message stating that someone who was at the conference tested positive for COVID-19.

Commissioner Shelley Nelson asked if there were updates to the county’s COVID plan, which at this time restricts public access to the courthouse.

“It’s getting worse, but we can’t stay closed forever,” Bau stated.

She added that she thinks restricting access to the public has been a good thing for the employees. Bau said the numbers in Kingsbury County have increased rapidly in the past couple of days, including one hospitalization. There was some discussion about complications with flu season being right around the corner while people are still dealing with COVID.

HVAC AND THE DIGITAL AGE

Commissioners, courthouse building superintendent Lonny Palmlund and States Attorney Gregg Gass were all present in the courtroom to confer via Zoom with Travis Sichmeller of Metter and Sichmeller Engineering in Aberdeen and Tracy Kerkov, a sales representative of G&R Controls of Sioux Falls about a possible contract with G&R. The company offers tech support and access to a system that helps customers manage their heating, ventilation and air-conditioning (HVAC) equipment building controls. According to Palmlund, there was a discrepancy in costs that were quoted earlier and what was being quoted now. He requested that they receive everything in writing before they make any decisions.

SURPLUS VEHICLES

County Auditor Jennifer Barnard stated that she had to finalize the 2021 budget today.

Walls then said he should have brought it up earlier, but he had questions regarding the number of vehicles the sheriff’s office owns. He stated that maybe there are more than are needed, and they could transfer a vehicle to another county office that has requested a vehicle in their budget for next year.

Commissioner Shelley Nelson commented that they should have a discussion with the sheriff about the matter and noted that they had not visited with anyone from the sheriff’s office about it yet. Walls said if they need to sell some vehicles, they should do it before the snow flies.

The commissioners decided to leave the budget as is and to meet with the sheriff at a later date regarding the vehicles.

BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

The commissioners also convened as the Board of Adjustment to consider plats for two lots in McMasters subdivision on the northwest side of Lake Thompson and one for Gerald Moe to split some farm ground.

County Commission meetings, which have always been open to the public, can be accessed via Zoom. A link can be found each week on the County’s website.

Tough work leads to good news for ethanol

FOR YEARS, I’VE been working to advance ethanol to benefit South Dakota farmers. Our state ranks sixth in the nation for ethanol production capacity, and we produce more than 1 billion gallons of ethanol annually. Not only does biofuel production help our farmers, but it also supports additional job creation in South Dakota. We have ethanol jobs ranging from truck drivers to PhD microbiologists. I have several pieces of good news to share regarding progress we’ve made on ethanol.

The EPA recently reiterated its commitment to the Renewable Fuel Standard (RFS.) The RFS is crucial to ensure that there is a market for our farmers to sell their corn for ethanol production. President Trump also recently announced that E15 blends will be more widely available across the country. These are but the latest bits of progress for our crucial ethanol industry. As Chair of the Governor’s Biofuels Coalition, I’ve urged the Trump administration to drop restrictions on the ethanol industry, and we’ve already made progress on these goals. The Trump administration approved the use of E15 year-round. We also persuaded President Trump to reject a movement that would have waived portions of the RFS for small petroleum refineries. It’s tough work, but it’s worth it to help farmers.

GOVERNOR’S DESK

We’ve been working to convert our state’s fleet vehicles to be flex-fuel compatible, and 76% of our fleet now has such capabilities. We’re already dispensing E30 ethanol for state vehicles at sites in Sioux Falls, Pierre, and the SDSU campus. By the end of November, we’ll have added sites in Aberdeen, Chamberlain, Yankton, Huron, and Webster, with four additional sites across the state in the works for next year. State government is leading by example, and it is my sincere hope that businesses and citizens emulate this support for our ethanol industry.

As COVID-19 swept across the country, I issued an executive order to provide regulatory relief for ethanol facilities, and I instructed our state department of Environment and Natural Resources to help ethanol producers adjust their operations while still meeting federal requirements. I joined fellow governors to ask US Secretary of Ag Sonny Perdue to use CARES Act dollars to assist our biofuel industry. Secretary Perdue has taken that message to heart, pushing Congress to provide funding for ethanol in future relief packages.

The Obama administration paid lip service to ethanol, but President Trump is actually following through on his promises to farmers. His administration is taking the steps to promote biofuels and expand ethanol production. Frankly, it takes leadership from the top, and I want to thank President Trump for continuing to fight for agriculture. There is still more work to accomplish, but I’m confident that we can build on the progress that we’ve already made and get it done.

Let’s work together so we can keep schools open

I AM CONNECTED WITH every public-school district in South Dakota as well as a handful of private schools. I am here to tell you that they are all doing the absolute best they can to keep the students and staff members safe in their schools.

I can also tell you they are stressing on many levels.

The superintendents, and in some cases the principals, are the ones who are helping to track down the close-contact tracing when a positive case gets reported to them. They are making these calls to parents and guardians during the school day, in the evenings, and in a lot of instances on the weekends. They are in contact with the Department of Health as soon as they get notice of a case that is brought to their attention.

Do you all remember five or six months ago when as parents you, or we, were all wanting nothing more than for our students to be back in school? We wanted things to be back to

OTHER VOICES

ROB MONSON

Executive Director,

normal. Well, here we are. I will tell you that your school board, administrators, teachers and support staff are doing everything they can to do just that.

I have done a few media interviews and the analogy I have used is that we needed to get this airplane into the air. Once we had it there, we knew we would need to fix the engine, repair a wing, but at least we were flying. Your school is trying to do everything they can to keep the airplane in the air at whatever “level” they can. (masks, in-person, masks in passing, hybrid with some online and some in person, etc.)

I am not making this political, so please don’t attack the guy who is hearing from the people working in these schools. If wearing a mask for the day—or part of the day— will help to keep the airplane in the air, isn’t it worth a try? If taking a “breather” for a day helps the school to come back full time in a day or two or next week, isn’t it worth a try?

Keeping the teachers and support staff healthy and in the schools is paramount right now. I had a conversation earlier this week with a superintendent from one of the AA schools who told me they were 9 subs short in the high school on Monday and 5 short in the elementary. I asked how they were able to have school with that many vacancies? I was told that the teachers covered for each other that day and they got through the day, but that could not be sustained for very long. This is the reality many can and will be facing and the reason we need to do all we can to keep everyone safe. It is going to be the teachers and support staff shortages that will eventually force the change in delivery. I am sure many of you have heard of the adjustments that have had to be made in Lemmon, Burke, Selby, Pierre, and various other schools due to teachers becoming a positive case and the district not having enough substitutes. In some cases it is to just let things settle down a little to get on top of it.

Again, this is not a political post, this is a plea.

No one wants to stay in school more than the educators. This is what we do. We missed the students, we missed the energy, we missed activities, we missed doing our jobs in front of students. We all want to keep them in the schools!

The alternative is one that no one wants to think about. Just think back to March 13, 2020. That is the day we went to online learning at home. Let us do all we can TOGETHER so we do not have to go back to March 13.

If you get a chance, just throw a "Thank You" to an educator in passing, they will appreciate it.

Proverbs 3:5-6... in action

IF IT WERE UP TO ME, I would have scripted some of my friends' life stories differently. So many tragedies have struck people close to me, that if I were the writer, they would have been changed.

Fortunately, I'm not the author, because several of these people have impacted others with their powerful stories of God's redemption and God's timing. God turned their pain into purpose, their misery into ministry and mission and their devastation into wonderful messages of hope and restoration. Sudden glories fill and spill from each of their lives.

Their journeys have led them through dark valleys and back out into the light on the other side.

But if I had to decide? I would have made better choices in my 20's. A friend's son would not be addicted to painkillers. Another's daughter would not be so medically fragile. My other friend would not be going through a divorce. Another friend's daughter would not be bipolar. Another friend would not be mourning the loss of her baby.

I was flat-out angry. Angry with the situation. Angry with God.

Difficult times are bursting with glory moments — moments when we see God's plan just waiting to be birthed in the lives of those willing to labor through the pain. The key is not to allow bitterness and anger to make our hearts infertile to God's gifts. Easier said than done?

One way to avoid the darkening of the soul is by constant communication and continual acknowledgement of God's presence. Praise and Thanksgiving!

After I graduated from college, I moved to Sioux Falls so I could continue my education and land my dream job. But after I moved, I came up on one obstacle after another. And, being a single mother was never in my plans. But I had to keep going. More so then, than ever, as I wasn't just thinking about myself anymore. But more roadblocks, frustration and heartache.

I remember that I was so upset. OK, I was flat-out angry. Angry with the situation. Angry with God.

After my son was born, a situation opened up that was far better than my original plan. It was Ephesians 3:20 in action: "Now all glory to God, who is able, through his mighty power at work within us, to accomplish infinitely more than we might ask or think."

Well, why didn't God do that in the first place? Why didn't He lead me directly to that opportunity when I was ready? He could have.

But He is far more interested in developing our character than in doling out a life of comfort and ease. Got it? C.S. Lewis notes: "If you think of this world as a place intended simply for our happiness, you find it quite intolerable. Think of it as a place of training and correction, and it's not so bad."

That's where Proverbs 3:5-6 comes in: "Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight."

We are ever the students. He is still the teacher. Trials rip away the flimsy fabric of self-sufficiency and become the raw material for God's miracles in our lives. And those miracles are moments of sudden glory.

We can trust Him, even if the twists and turns never make sense on this side of heaven. That's what trusting God is all about. As we live and move and have our being in Him, life's dark places are simply opportunities to trust that God knows the way — and the perfect time to hold on tight. Especially since He's still writing the story.

Take some time today to thank God for knowing and doing what is best for us.... even when we think our way is better. He is the teacher. He can help us be good students.

Drive through or go inside — it's time for your flu shot

Lewis Drug pharmacy is hosting flu shot clinics this Saturday, Sept. 26, at the De Smet American Legion Hall from 9 a.m.-noon and at the Lake Preston Community Room from 1-3 p.m.

People can come inside for their shot, if they wish. Chairs will be placed 10 feet apart, but they encourage people to drive up and stay in their vehicles. Someone will come to the vehicle to administer the vaccine.

"We are trying to stay as safe as possible," Pharmacist Ann Nopens said.

People are asked to bring their Medicare or insurance cards. Lewis Drug will provide the paperwork to fill out and will send copies to people's physicians and verify the immunizations with the state. Nopens said they have a limited supply of the higher dose, which is for people age 65 and over and also some of the lower dose of the vaccine. If they run out of doses during the clinic, they will acquire more and administer the vaccine in the store at a later date or schedule a time for people to drive up.

Lewis is conducting the clinics in conjunction with the college of Pharmacy. Third-year pharmacy students are organizing it, and second-year students will also assist. The American Legion in De Smet and the city of Lake Preston waived the usual fees for the use of their buildings.

If you need a ride to the De Smet location, call the ROCS transit bus at 830-1676.

Students practice land judging

De Smet High School FFA has been holding practice land judging events for several years. Dave VanderWal, DHS instructor, works with Natural Resources Conservation Service to get everything set up for students to practice finding slope of a site. Three soil pits are available to evaluate in De Smet. NRCS does the official scores, and the teachers go through the results with students.

A trip to the fair through the eyes of a child

THE FAIRLANE GALAXIE 500 lurched slowly over the low curb as Dad maneuvered it into the grassy lot that served as a parking area. The dust-coated grass lay flat in the wheel tracks and footpaths that led to the front gate. The drivers of the other vehicles that filed into the lot that September morning set their sights on the first row to save as many steps as possible. Dad aimed our Fairlane toward a tall ash tree in the middle of the field, then eased it into the shade cast by the golden leaves.

Six noses pressed as close to windows as possible. At last, nearly bursting with excitement, we piled out the doors. We were going to the fair!

The man at the admissions gate stamped our wrists and the adventure began. Rows of farm machinery, dotted with colorful signs and flags, beckoned. Dad and the brothers meandered to the Green section after promising us girls that we would meet back at the front gate at 1:00.

With one hand tightly grasped by an older sister, we followed our mother through the attractions of the South Dakota State Fair. The Women’s Building housed jars of fruits and vegetables and paper plates loaded with cookies and rolls. Spectators explored glass cases of artfully displayed needlework.

Flowers and potted plants created inviting pathways as we wandered through the horticulture building. “Isn’t that a beautiful rose!” Mom exclaimed as she pointed at the delicate blossom in the clear vase. We agreed, enthralled at all the beautiful exhibits.

The morning flew by and soon tummies growled. Mom checked her watch and we started back to the front gate where the men waited for us. We ambled to the car, still shielded by the shadow of the ash. Dad opened the trunk and the brothers helped unpack its contents. The older girls spread out two large army blankets. Mom unwrapped the towels and layers of newspaper that covered the blue porcelain roaster. The enticing aroma of the still-warm fried chicken wafted to our noses as the lid jiggled. Peeling layers from a large plastic bowl revealed potato salad, embellished with egg slices and paprika. The fare included homemade dinner rolls, garden tomatoes and apple pie. Years later, we all wondered at our mother and the work she did to provide such a feast for her family’s day at the fair.

Picnicking on the wool blankets, we recapped our morning. Wedges of cinnamon-spiced pie slid down easily. Then Mom poured lemonade into plastic glasses and we rested in our shady spot.

Ready to go back, the crew repacked everything into the trunk and trekked again to the front gate. The man checked our stamps and we began the afternoon. All eight of us strolled through more buildings. In the commercial area, businesses displayed their wares. Pens, pencils and balloons lay out on tables, free for the taking. Later, Dad walked with a yardstick in his hand, like a staff clicking lightly on the stone paths.

Scattered throughout were open entertainment areas. Square dancers circled around, bright colored skirts swaying. One man carried a boa constrictor wrapped around his arm and shoulder, asking children if they wished to pet his baby. High school choruses and bands performed on wooden stages. We munched on popcorn, given out free in small red and white bags as we listened, the nearby water fountain adding to the music.

No farm family could resist the animal buildings. Hogs, cattle, horses and sheep called to passers-by. Chickens and geese and every domestic bird imaginable stared at us from metal cages. Row after row of buildings—we visited all of them.

Calliope music and fearful shrieks lured us to the Midway. Vendors waved plastic hats and swords. Tattooed men hawked their games. “Win a Teddy Bear for your girl!” Though we kids were tempted, Dad said the contests were rigged and a waste of money. Men on stilts tottered above us. Girls screamed as the Tilt-a-Whirl twirled by. Mom waved from a bench below while we rocked in the top car of the Ferris wheel. After the rides we plucked tufts of purple cotton candy from the spun sugar spheres Dad purchased for our treat.

The grandstand show for the evening was the rodeo. As we descended the steps to our seats, the cacophony of the announcer, the crowd and the calling peddlers elevated the anticipation while we waited for the event to begin. The cowgirls and cowboys gave quite a show, but my hero was the clown who ducked into a barrel when an angry bull threatened to gouge him with its sharp horns.

In later years, 4-H took the lead and the fair was full of deadlines and preparation. Our parents could boast of children who excelled. Hogs, cattle, chickens, eggs, vegetables, baked goods and demonstrations earned blue and purple ribbons and trophies. Judging contests brought top honors with one sister going on to place in national competition.

We all learned from the experiences, but my favorite fair memories are of when I was little and we went just to have fun. Maybe it was the time spent together as a family. Maybe it was the picnic in the shade of the ash tree with the best fried chicken on the planet.

Gout and the agony of the feet

THE PRAIRIE DOC
KELLY EVANS-HULLINGER, M.D.

IT IS A CLASSIC PRESENTATION: The middle-aged man who develops a painful, swollen, great toe the morning after indulging in a steak dinner with a few beers. The savvy clinician will immediately identify this diagnosis, and I imagine much of the general public might recognize it as well. It’s “The Gout.”

Gout is a unique type of inflammatory arthritis in which a substance called uric acid, accumulating in too-high amounts in the bloodstream, forms crystals within a joint. The presence of those microscopic crystals causes the immune system to attack the “foreign” substance, and the result is excruciating pain. I have seen many a patient limp or be wheelchaired into the exam room when this process occurs in their toe, ankle, or knee. In the most severe cases, patients might be admitted to the hospital.

Gout has been recognized as a disease for many centuries, being described in ancient Egyptian texts in 2600 B.C. and later by the famed Greek physician Hippocrates around 400 B.C. It was once known as the “arthritis of the rich,” and the “disease of kings,” given its propensity to occur after consuming rich food and alcohol. Uric acid crystals were first visualized under a microscope in 1679, during the microscope’s early years, by another famous historical scientist, Antoni van Leeuwenhoek. The chemical composition of what he saw, however, was not known until more than a century later.

If you have had the agony of experiencing a gout attack, know that you are in excellent company. Both Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson were known to suffer from gout, and historians have speculated that their shared experience led to their strong connection at the time of the American Revolution. In fact, reports are that Franklin, unable to walk due to a gouty attack, was carried on a chair into the Constitutional Convention by convicts. Western history and literature are full of references to “The Gout.”

Today, gouty arthritis is a fairly common disease. It tends to affect men more than women, and generally occurs in middle-aged and older adults. Treatment of the acute episode is fairly simple; often we just use anti-inflammatory medication. In patients who have recurrent problems with gout we consider daily medication that lowers the level of uric acid in the bloodstream altogether, which is typically highly effective.

“The Gout” of ancient times was a life-altering condition and as such found its way into many historical texts and literature. Today, well, it’s just gout. And usually, we can treat it very effectively.

Kelly Evans-Hullinger, M.D. is part of The Prairie Doc® team of physicians and currently practices internal medicine in Brookings, South Dakota.

Late-night baking disaster

I LOVE MAKING CAKES for family birthdays. Sometimes I try new recipes and make cakes from scratch, but in months like September, with birthdays every week, I tend to get lazy and buy cake mix and frosting.

Last week, I decided I wanted to do something special for my dad’s birthday. I spent all day trying to come up with something else I could make for him. At 10:30 p.m., I came up with the perfect idea...cheesecake.

By this time, everyone else was asleep, but I thought I’d be able to make it without waking anyone up. I’ve seen them sleep through phones ringing, dogs barking and tornado sirens going off, so I figured a little noise from the kitchen wouldn’t cause them to stir.

I gathered everything I needed and got to work. I soon realized that I could be quiet, but our two dogs in the entryway next to the kitchen began growling and barking when I turned the mixer up to medium. Low speed was the fastest I could go, and it took longer to get everything mixed smoothly.

By the time I had the cheesecake in the oven and could sit down, it was midnight. I realized I had to wait for it to finish baking — and then I had to wait for it to cool. My late-night idea might not have been so great after all.

When it was finally time to take the cheesecake out of the oven, I put it on a cooling rack and prayed it cooled quickly while I tried to find something to watch on TV to keep me awake.

By 1 a.m. I was exhausted and couldn’t stay up any longer. I tried removing the outer layer of the springform pan, but the cheesecake was still warm and sticking. At this point I admitted defeat. I put foil on top, threw it in the fridge and went to bed.

The next morning, I didn’t even want to look at the cheesecake. When I finally took it out of the refrigerator, I tried removing the outer ring, but the cheesecake was stuck to the sides. I tried prying what was left from the bottom, but even that was coming up in chunks. I took it out the best I could

Cheesecake Tips:

- USE PHILADELPHIA CREAM CHEESE. I’m all for using generic when possible, but when it comes to making cheesecake, I’ve never had one turn out using a generic brand
- DON’T OVERBEAT WHEN ADDING EGGS. Mix just until incorporated. Overbeating will cause cracks in your cheesecake
- STORAGE. Cheesecake will last five days in the refrigerator if it’s wrapped tightly in an airtight container, so it doesn’t absorb odors from other items. Cheesecake will last up to one month in the freezer if wrapped tightly in plastic wrap and then placed in zippered bags or an airtight container.

and threw it in a bowl for my husband and boys to eat. It looked too bad to bring to my dad for his birthday, but I knew it would get eaten at home.

This week I’m sharing an easy recipe for cheesecake. Hopefully you all have better luck than me! I’d just suggest not making it at midnight, when you’re trying to be quiet, and when you don’t have time to let it cool properly.

Cheesecake you dream of versus cheesecake you get when baking at midnight.

Heartland Region United Way benefits local children

BY JAMES JESSER
Kingsbury Journal

The children of Kingsbury County frequently benefit from the activities of the Heartland Region United Way.

There are families who rely on lunch programs at school to provide for their children. Iroquois School receives weekly backpacks from United Way filled with a variety of ready-to-eat, microwavable and fresh foods to supply families for the weekend. This year, children have been receiving a two-week's supply, since they may unexpectedly not be attending school. United Way is also prepared to supply food if a family has to be quarantined.

The Imagination Library is another program supported by the United Way. Dolly Parton grew up without any books. In 1995, she created the Imagination Library to give young children books, and to inspire parents to read to their children. The Imagination Library is a 60-volume home library for pre-school children. The first book that children receive is "The Little Engine That Could" by Walter Piper; the last one is "Look Out Kindergarten, Here I Come!" by Nancy Carlson.

Currently there are 85 children in Kingsbury County enrolled in this program, which is free to families. It costs $30 a year to provide books to each child. Most of the cost is covered through donations to the United Way.

Parents can register their child online at <http://imaginationlibrary.com>. Forms then are mailed to the participating United Way in their community. For Beadle and Kingsbury residents, the forms are mailed to the United Way Heartland Region, P.O. Box 652, Huron, SD 57352.

The De Smet Schools have received several grants from the United Way. One grant assisted in paying for the playground equipment at the elementary building, and another provides mental health counseling to students.

"We are so thankful for the collaboration that United Way has with our community. They've made an impact on our students with the early literacy program, inclusive playground system and mental health counseling," stated Supt. Abi Van Regenmorter.

In Iroquois, the United Way has provided face masks for children.

Kingsbury County Girl Scouts also benefit from the United Way. Troops are provided scholarships for girls to participate in programs. The local troop hosted an event at the De Smet Event Center to which they invited Huron and Iroquois troops. United Way gave toward the expenses of this event.

During the past year, the United Way has received $2,000 from pledges and donations from the people of Kingsbury County. The monies have been used to fund the Imagination Library at 85 memberships at $30 each totaling $2,550; 20 weekly back packs at $150 totaling $3,000 and 2% for administrative costs.

The amount Kingsbury County received through grants via the United Way's community impact programs is unknown. Grantees include Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and BelieveFest. These programs do not report who is benefitted and where they live. Each spring, groups are able to apply for these grants.

VISITOR SPOTLIGHT

Family meets in the middle

LIVING IN MINNESOTA but having my family roots in Nebraska puts miles between cousins and siblings. So, a couple of years ago, we decided to find a location that accommodates all of our families and gives us plenty of space and summer activities. We decided on Lake Thompson just outside De Smet, S.D.

Each August, we gather at the lake and unpack for a week of fishing, swimming, cooking contests and our trip to the Ingalls Homestead.

The De Smet area is a great recreational spot. We have yet to encounter an unfriendly person, and the life-guards at the pool just smile when the uncles try to restore diving and flipping skills from the diving boards. Thank you to the residents of De Smet for hosting us each year. Your grocery store is fantastic and has fed our hungry group many times over.

1910: Auto accident at fairground

September 22, 1910

• Seriously Injured by Automobile – Mesdames Luke and George Baird Run Over by Machine. Thursday morning at the state fairgrounds occurred the only serious accident of the week, when Mrs. Luke Baird and Mrs. Geo. Baird, who live seven miles south of Iroquois, were knocked down and run over by an automobile as they were standing, in company with their husbands and other relatives, in front of the ticket office just outside the gates. A young man by the name of Callahan, from north of Artesian, was driving a Ford car which he had recently purchased, and instead of turning to the right as he approached the grounds, steered his machine to the left and proceeded slowly through the crowds near the ticket office. In an attempting to stop the machine, which was moving very slowly, the driver pushed the wrong pedal and the car jumped into the crowd. Mrs. Luke Baird was thrown down and the machine passed over her chest, bruising and crushing her chest and ribs. Mrs. Geo. Baird was dragged some distance and the wheels ran over her abdomen. The latter sustained internal injuries. Major Bentley, of the emergency hospital, was on the spot almost instantly and the ladies were given immediate medical aid and afterwards taken to a hospital in the city. Both were seriously injured but are slowly recovering and fortunately the accident will have no fatal results following it. Mr. Callahan was sincere in his protestations of regret over the unfortunate occurrence and ordered the best of medical care given to the ladies and offered to pay all bills. It was an unavoidable accident, much to the regretted, but no blame could be attached to Callahan unless it be the criticism that he should not have attempted to run a car with which he was unfamiliar in such a crowd as there was in Huron on Thursday.

September 25, 1930:

• A fire that broke out in the dwelling house occupied by the Guy Skinner family about 5 o'clock Saturday morning was quickly subdued when the fire company arrived on the scene and turned on the water. The flames were burning through the roof when discovered and had evidently started near the floor close to a partition. There were no fires in the house and no electric wires and the origin of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Skinner and young daughter were awakened by the smoke and rushed to a neighbor's home, the latter telephoning to the central office where the alarm was turned in. The absence of wind made it easy to control the flames. The loss was about $150 to the building and $75 on furniture.

September 21, 1950:

• Farmers' Union Rally. Tuesday evening, September 26, Manchester and Iroquois Farmers' Union Local No. 1079, will hold a special Radio Rally at the Manchester hall, starting at eight o'clock. Upwards of 500 locals in South Dakota will meet at that time to launch a coordinated drive for a membership goal of 25,000 farm families in South Dakota. A simultaneous broadcast over the South Dakota network 9:30 to 10:00 p.m., and over WNAX at 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. will bring you a half hour message from your State President and State Directors. A snappy program of entertainment and lunch has also been planned. Everybody invited. Tell your friends.

Queen Madison and King Carter reign over the 2020 Homecoming Parade.

It wouldn't be a football game without some school spirit, led by the Badger football cheerleaders Mesa, Claudia, Angel, Lorena, & Lynzie!

Stop and go

Because Lake Preston elementary students were not able to participate in their traditional end-of-year field day last spring, they participated in field day activities on Sept. 18. Students in these two pictures are playing “red light, green light.” This game is played with everyone along the starting line. When the person leading the game says “green light,” players race toward the finish line. When they hear “red light,” they must immediately stop. If players are still moving when “red light” is called, they must go back to the starting line. (Photos by Donna Palmlund)

CITY COUNCIL

Unanimous vote to loosen COVID restrictions

BY JOAN WOLLSCHLAGER
Kingsbury Journal

Mayor Andy Wienk called this city council meeting to order with five members and city employees present. First item of business was reading and approving past minutes. The Council then moved on to committee reports: bringing fire extinguishers up to code and contacting Kingbrook about covering half the cost and discussing the need versus desire for an updated, reliable public alarm siren. All claims were approved, and the financial report passed unanimously. Old business saw new building permits with some talk about how other towns charge for these permits and the interest in changing, but the matter was dropped.

City Campground improvements are coming along very nicely, thanks to city employees for long hours and extra attention. More improvements will continue. Checking into more and better-placed cameras to avoid further vandalism to the newest bathroom/safe room was discussed at length. Action will be taken to prevent future problems. Some surplus machinery items will have the value assessed soon and offered for sale or trade. The council discussed the larger pay loader purchase with input by city employees Brian Zeeck and Donna Bumann. City Librarian, Deb Miller will receive a 50 cent raise as per motion by member Joe Schnell and second by Brian Verhey. Reading on the COVID ordinance was next with Mayor Wienk offering that he promised certain individuals if no more serious of a situation is withstanding in Lake Preston as of this meeting, he would follow through on relaxing the ordinance. The mayor advised that although they dropped any restrictions, they encourage following CDC guidelines. It is noted that none of those city council members or employees in attendance were either distancing or wearing masks. Motion was passed unanimous. Concerns over drooping tree limbs, blinking street lights and the rubble site carried the next part of the meeting. This was followed with a motion by Bumann and second by Schnell to purchase necessary tools for city projects.

Food pantry acquires non-profit status

Donations are now tax-deductible

BY DONNA PALMLUND
Kingsbury Journal

The Kingsbury County Food Pantry in De Smet recently acquired a 501-c-3 nonprofit status. This means that individuals or businesses can now deduct donations to the food pantry from their taxes.

Because the food pantry is only open on Tuesdays, they can only take non-perishable food. Monetary donations would help people purchase perishable foods such as eggs and milk.

They used to give out vouchers that people could use at the grocery store to purchase these things, but they have had to limit this to emergency situations only. If they gave out vouchers of $35-$55 per family, it would cost between $700-$900 a month, and that money is not available at this time.

Director Robyn Flickinger said they have had an increase in the number of people who need the service, and at the same time, many of their major donors have passed away. So, although they still have some generous donors, there is not as much funding available as there used to be.

Flickinger is hopeful that with their new 501-c-3 status, some area businesses may be willing to donate or match employee donations.

"Donations would really be helpful to a lot of people in Kingsbury County, not just De Smet," she said.

People are also reminded that Feeding South Dakota food giveaways take place the fourth Wednesday of each month, although the schedule could change because of holidays or bad weather. Locations and times are Arlington, 9 a.m., Methodist Church; Lake Preston, 10:30 a.m., UCC-UMC; and De Smet, noon, at Washington Park.

Monetary donations would allow food pantry to give out vouchers, so people can purchase items at the grocery store. (Photo by Donna Palmlund)

Society adapts to life with COVID-19

BY TESSA FLAK

Like many small museums, the Laura Ingalls Wilder Memorial Society has struggled to decide how best to proceed in 2020.

Normally, the Society can offer guided tours every hour in the summer; however, some of our staff did not return, and we had to reduce our days open and our hours. In order to comply with CDC guidelines, the Society has also limited the number of visitors per tour group, so we've asked visitors to reserve a tour in advance. All our spring and fall group tours, both school and bus, were cancelled.

In July, the Society released a mobile phone application, Discover Laura, allowing us an opportunity to reach more visitors, improve their experience in De Smet and serve as a useful resource on the museum's collection when visitors are back home. The mobile application offers numerous tours and quizzes that allow fans to read, listen and watch videos about Laura Ingalls Wilder and her family, De Smet and to tour the original homes and school.

The Society appreciates all the support from our friends and donors, without which we would not have been able to keep our doors open.

VILLAGE PEOPLE

She's the queen of quilting

BY MARGARET ANDERSON

Irene Petersen, a resident at The Village Assisted Living, has a talent that very few can beat. Since she retired from 26 years working at Good Samaritan Home, she has made over 500 quilt tops and given most of them away to those in need. Irene is a member of the American Lutheran Church where she has been active in many functions of the church, including quilting. The ladies at The Village are pleased to help Irene tying quilts put together at ALC. She is also our go-to lady whenever we need needles, thread, yarn or fabric.

Irene has made quilts for her five children, 15 grandchildren and small quilts for her 22 great-grandchildren. All the family quilts have been uniquely designed with special materials or embroidery. She embroidered pillowcases for all her children's and grandchildren's bridal showers.

Irene taught herself to quilt, starting out with fabric from torn-apart, used garments. She has made teddy bears, special dolls, crocheted doll clothes, crocheted hand towels and afghans.

Once a week, Irene volunteers to lead scripture at The Village. She welcomes everyone to participate, and we appreciate her leadership.

Irene enjoys putting together jigsaw puzzles and playing cards and games of most kinds. She is a busy lady.

SERVING THE AREA SINCE 2013, the De Smet Community Foundation continues to support efforts that help our community. The Foundation has been the community 'go-to' nonprofit organization that has made many projects a reality and encourages a legacy of community giving.

The Foundation serves as a 'pass-through' for projects as a tax-deductible way for donations to be made to worthy projects, as well as long term giving. Area organizations can use this means to give their donors the opportunity for their gifts to be eligible for an IRS tax deduction at the end of the year.

Noteworthy about the De Smet Community Foundation is that there are not any administrative fees taken from any donations given. Every penny gifted goes completely to the organization or specified projects donated to. In place of paid staff, many hours of administration and grant writing are put in by our community's volunteers.

This also means by not taking any administrative fees, there are not funds for marketing. The only method of creating awareness is by 'word-of-mouth', news articles and social media in place of expensive marketing campaigns.

The De Smet Community Foundation provides the opportunity for leaving a lasting legacy. The Foundation should be considered in estate planning as an opportunity to impact the people and projects in our area for years to come with Charitable Trusts, Bequests, Endowments and more.

There are so many ways to give. Specific accounts may be started by groups, families, employees from specific businesses or alumni and used for specified project or interests.

Donations take many shapes – from a written check to a gift of commodities, stock, a piece of land or livestock. Many financial accounts, CDs, mutual funds, annuities, life insurance policies and retirement accounts allow one to make a charitable gift using beneficiary designations. The De Smet Foundation has great flexibility with accepting gifts and how a person would like to distribute the donations.

The De Smet Community Foundation has been a part of many community projects and holds numerous funds that have been established by individuals and organizations including the Music Boosters, The Village, De Smet Concert Series, T-Ball and Baseball Fields, Veterans Memorial, LIW Playground Equipment, Impact Classes, Events Center Furnishings, LIW Pageant promotion, De Smet News purchase, De Smet Master Plan Study, Carmon Wellness Center Equipment, Athletic Complex, Midstate Theater Furnishings and the De Smet Events Center building and landscaping. The Foundation is responsible for writing many grants for the various projects.

As the end of the year comes around, you will find mailings and other means of marketing by countless organizations asking for donations. Just like remembering to shop locally, it is important to think of our local Foundations and non-profit organizations to donate to first. This money donated locally all stays local, and 100% of what you donate goes to the specific project you want it to go to.

Other De Smet Foundations to consider giving donations are the De Smet Education Foundation and Avera De Smet Memorial Hospital Foundation. Nonprofit organizations with a base in De Smet include the Food Pantry, Laura Ingalls Wilder Society, LIW Pageant, De Smet Community Women, Kingsbury Cancer Care, Kingsbury Country Club and more. There are many other worthwhile Foundations and nonprofits throughout Kingsbury County. Please contact me (605-203-0216) to make certain your nonprofit is listed or for more information about giving to any of these organizations.

Fall is in the air

BY ROSE GROTHE

Brad Magness of Huron was the speaker Sept. 20 at the Presbyterian Church.

Adah and Micah Perry, children of the Alan Perrys, visited their grandmother, Linda Perry, on Saturday and Sunday.

Thanks to all who were so helpful with the information about the phenomenon of the amazing sun of last Sunday. I guess you are never too old to learn something new. I noticed that tonight the sun was again different, more reddish than last Sunday, but still beautiful.

Janice White of Brookings came last Tuesday to have supper with her mother Rose Grothe. They attended the visitation for Karen Carlson. She was a Bancroft alumna, graduating in 1961. Her private funeral was Wednesday at the Lake Preston UCC Church. Our hearts go out to her family at this time of sorrow.

Sept. 21 is the first day of fall, and the countryside is sure looking fall-like. Cane and corn have been cut for silage, hay bales stacked along the fences, road ditches mowed and all of the other signs that the 'season has marched on'. There are several places where the land has been readied for spring already. I hope we don't have a lot of the tremendous 'cutting wind' to take away all the good top-soil and put it into the ditches where it does nobody any good. There has not been a killing frost yet, so the trees are mostly in their green finery, with only an occasional yellow one, and here and there one tinged with red. All are very beautiful.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

The first lighting system in Bancroft was a system of lamps on poles that were lighted by hand. Bill Dirksen was the lamp lighter. (I remember the lovely song "The Old Lamplighter of Long, Long Ago!") The first electric lights were powered by batteries that were charged by a one- cylinder diesel engine located in the basement of the Eilt Claassen building (later the Zell Brothers building). This engine was started by heating an igniter red hot and tossing it into a combustion chamber while the engine was being turned by hand. Failure to start resulted in doing the whole thing over again. (Sorry ladies, I don't understand it either, but to the gentlemen reading, it MAY make sense, but this is my information.)

In November of 1927, Bancroft residents filed a petition requesting a vote to sell the city's municipal system to Northwestern Public Service Company. At the Dec. 6, 1927, election, 30 citizens voted to sell to NWPS, and six voted against the proposal. As a result of the positive vote, Northwestern signed a contract with the city and agreed to build the lines necessary to tie Bancroft into the company's electrical system.

HISTORY NOTE

1885 – On May 2, H.H. Sheets, D.F. Sheets and Jane Barber traveled to De Smet, where they signed the Articles of Incorporation for the Esmond Methodist Church. That summer the Ladies Aid put on a Strawberry Ice Cream Festival as a benefit for the church. The train depot and warehouse were used for the waiting rooms and serving. Arrangements had been made for a train couch to be left on the side track, and that evening the freight train from the south would be detained until seven o'clock. At that time the coach would be attached to give the people from the north a ride home. During August, the foundation for the Methodist Episcopal Church was being laid.

Local workshop was once Opera House, beehouse

BY LORALEE NELSON

First Lutheran of Artesian will be hosting the outdoor service for the Prairie Lutheran Parish at 9:30 a.m. Sunday

The water is just trickling over the spillway at Lake Carthage these days, after gushing over several times this year, flooding Carthage Park.

Connie Hattervig had an outdoor visit Monday evening with Harriet Hattervig and her houseguests Connie and Jasmine Larson of Broken Bow, Neb.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1946, Myron Floren, then of Sioux Falls, provided entertainment in Carthage, along with a guitar player, two dancers and a girl vocalist from Augustana College. The Lawrence Welk Band played in the Opera House at one time. Silent movies, traveling vaudeville shows, dances, debates, plays and school events were all held in this building. After being vacant for some time, Royce Hollan, a beekeeper from San Antonio, Texas, bought the building and used it for extracting honey. He had to sell the business in the early 2000s because of his health.

Today the building is owned by Dave and Kim Van Asperen, and they are using it as their workshop. Items of décor are appearing around the old opera house, adding interest to the building once again!

The historical information comes from "Carthage, Gem of the Redstone," by Sally Madison.

Those present discussed the need to reopen the courthouse soon due to the weather changes and the implementation of the necessary changes to the inside of the courthouse.

Review/Discussion
Superintendent Felderman presented handbook and policy adjustments that he is asking approval on later in the meeting. One item to note is that there was not an active open enrollment policy in place. This is being remedied with the proposed updates. Principal Bothun and Supt Felderman presented a Middle School/High School Discipline Behavior Plan that has been implemented recently. Felderman wanted the board to be aware of the steps that are being taken to promote good behavior in the upper grades. And, Felderman also gave a COVID 19 update stating that there are currently zero students and staff with the virus. Earlier, there were four staff members testing positive, but no new cases and all those had recovered.

Felderman presented information regarding essential workers. Recently, the federal government had specifically identified teachers to be classified as essential workers, and he is asking the board to declare all Lake Preston School Staff as essential. He would still like the ability to treat Covid exposure on a case-by-case scenario as no two situations have been the same thus far. Business Manager Curd presented the budget along with the fund balance forecast and five year capital outlay plan. She noted that the proposed budget requests less opt out dollars and less capital outlay levies than in recent years. With the stabilization of enrollment at a greater amount than projected, it has kept fund balances higher than planned, which will allow for a lower levy. The Special Education levy did increase due to state legislation this past spring.

And, Felderman reviewed student close contact protocol that was recently changed at the state level to allow local school districts to make decisions regarding the practice. He recommends that the school's still follow the guidelines set by the State Department of Health, and Center for Disease Control.

New Business
ACTION 41- Motion by Anderson, second by Warne to approve the budget and mill levy as presented. All present voted aye, motion carried.

ACTION 42- Motion by Warne, second by Anderson to approve the MS/HS Behavior Plan as read. All voted aye, motion carried.

ACTION 43- Motion by Anderson, second by Warne to strike out the Dance Policy and approve the board policy adjustments of: Open Enrollment, Truancy, Interrogations and Searches, Reporting Child Abuse, Student Due Process Rights, Search and Seizure, Vandalism, and Sexual Harassment as amended to allow a step in the case the reporting person is the person being reported. All present voted aye, motion carried.

ACTION 44- Motion by Olson, second by Sneesby to approve the essential workers list as presented. All voted aye, motion carried.

ACTION 45- Motion by Warne, second by Olson to approve Student Close-Contact Protocol. All voted aye, motion carried.

NESC report was presented by Member Olson. He noted that they were also looking into declaring staff essential, and requested some feedback on that. He also said they are looking into the central testing that is an option to enroll in. Curd reported on the Tax Deferral Executive Order that was recently signed by the President. It would be at the discretion of the employee to request this deferral, and thus far she has had no requests to do so. Principal Bothun reported on homecoming week activities and professional development survey she has sent out to staff. Felderman reported that the oven in the kitchen is nearing the end of its useful life as parts for it are obsolete. Repair workers have done everything they could for the 1970's antique. He added that the message board on Hwy 14 is also showing signs that it is aging, and will be inoperable soon. He will obtain quotes to allow the board to decide how to proceed. He added that student enrollment is currently at 170.

ACTION 46 - Pursuant to SDCL 1-25-2-1 & 2, Motion by Anderson, second by Sneesby to enter into executive session for the purpose of discussing personnel and student concerns at 1:55 pm. All present voted aye, motion carried.

Member Wienk exited at approximately 2:30 and did not return.

ACTION 47 - President Carlson declared out of executive session at 2:47 PM.

ACTION 48 - Motion by Anderson, second by Olson to approve the open enrollment of one student into the district. All voted aye, motion carried.

ACTION 49 - Motion by Warne, second by Anderson to adjourn the meeting at 2:49 PM. All present voted aye, motion carried.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 13, 2020 at 5:30 PM at the School Library. Note date change due to Native American Day Holiday.

Divers still looking for their first win

The Lake Preston Volleyball team returned home to face the state-ranked Colman-Egan CE Hawks during Diver Homecoming Week. Unfortunately, the home court advantage was not enough to take down the tough Colman-Egan team, and the Divers lost in three sets: 8-25, 7-25, 11-25. Offensive leaders for the Divers were Annika Nelson with five kills on the evening, followed by Marissa Rober and Alice Warne with three kills each. Morgan Curd and Faith Steffensen each had serving aces to add to their season tallies. Holly Andrews led the team with six set assists with Jocelyn Steffensen contributing three.

In Monday night's match-up, the Divers took on the Coyotes from Waverly-South Shore. In an evening filled with long volleys, it looked as though the Divers might gain some momentum and win a set, but in the end, Waverly-South Shore ultimately won all three sets 25-15, 25-13, 25-22. The Divers improved offensively in this match with 26 kills recorded. Eight of these went to Nelson, with Andrews scoring five and Rober four. Serving leader of the night was Curd with two aces, and Warne and Andrews contributed one each.

With this loss, the Divers fall to 0-10 on the season. They will host another tough opponent Tuesday night as they take on Clark-Willow Lake in Lake Preston.

BADGERS: A-LP scores early and often in win

It took two plays from there, with Mason Bunker scoring from the nine for an 18-0 lead with six seconds left in the first. This time, Denison went up the middle for the two, and a 20-0 lead.

The second quarter didn't change Deubrook's fortunes, going three-and-out again and punting to midfield. Denison hit Bunker for 25 yards on first down, and four plays later, Larsen took it in up the middle from the five.

That made it 26-0 with 8:05 left in the half, and 28-0 after Denison ran for the two.

Deubrook got the ball back and went for it on fourth-and-eight this time, but a bad snap ended with a turnover on downs. That put the Badgers in excellent field position, starting the drive at the Dolphins' 34.

With Matt Steffensen carrying the load, the Badgers kept it on the ground, grinding out 17 yards to the 17. On third-and-eight, Denison kept it for seven, setting up a fourth-and-one at the 10.

A-LP went for it, but the ball squirted loose, rolling toward the end zone, where Bunker picked it up and took it in from the one for the touchdown. That made the lead 34-0 with 2:32 left in the half, then 36-0 after Denison hit Christopher Wallace for the two.

With A-LP reserves filtering in on defense, the Dolphins finally got something going late in the first half, getting their first first down and driving to near midfield, before stalling and turning the ball over on downs. The half ended with a kneeldown by the Badgers killing the clock.

With A-LP up by 36, the second half was played with the clock running.

The Badgers opened with the ball and freshman Britt Carlson at quarterback. On second down, Carlson ran for 15, with another 15 added for a late hit out-of-bounds, taking the ball to Deubrook's 39. But the drive stalled, and Wallace punted to the Dolphins' 12.

Deubrook went three-and-out and punted, and A-LP turned the ball over on downs at the Dolphins' 37. As the fourth quarter started, the Dolphins were driving, keyed by a 37-yard run by sophomore Colin Baumann.

With a first-and-goal at the Badgers' three, sophomore Treven Grimsrud gained two on first down, then took it in from the one for the score, with 8:36 left. The two-point run was stopped, leaving the score at 36-6.

A-LP got the ball back and threatened, driving to the Deubrook 20, but lost the ball on a fumble with 3:30 left. The game ended with an interception by A-LP freshman Sheldon Balderston, stopping Deubrook's final drive.

The stats were not as lopsided as the score—mostly because the Badgers pulled their starters early.

A-LP rushed 31 times for 154 yards, led by Larsen with seven carries for 66 yards and a touchdown, Denison with six carries for 34 yards and a touchdown, and Bunker with three carries for 18 yards and two touchdowns.

Denison completed three of six passes for 75 yards and a touchdown, caught by Malone. Carlson completed two of three for 42, including a 31-yarder to Riley Casper.

Deubrook ran 27 times for 100 yards, led by Baumann with 12 carries for 60 yards, and Grimsrud with 13 carries for 34 yards and a touchdown. Baumann completed four of 11 passes for 26 yards, with two interceptions.

That gave the Badgers a 271-126 offensive edge.

Divers host invite

BY KRISTI CURD
Kingsbury Journal

The 41st Annual Lake Preston Diver Invite was held this past weekend amid the COVID-19 pandemic. Many tournaments of similar make-up have been postponed or cancelled outright, but Lake Preston superintendent and athletic director, Dana Felderman, decided that with precautions, the annual tourney could go on. Such precautions included moving the tournament to Tier III attendance, which only allowed coaches, officials, players and parents to be present during the event.

Felderman limited the numbers in the tourney, making it six teams with two divisions. In the Eastern Division, teams from Arlington, Estelline-Hendricks and Sioux Valley competed in the main gymnasium. In the auxiliary gym, the Western Division teams from Lake Preston, De Smet and Iroquois rounded out the tourney. Teams with the best record in each division faced each other in the championship match; second best squared off for third place, and the worst records had a chance at the consolation match. This allowed each team a guaranteed three games apiece.

The Arlington Cardinals came away with the championship with a perfect 3-0 record. The De Smet Bulldogs were the winners of the Western Division and took second place. The Estelline-Hendricks Redhawks defeated the Lady Chiefs from Iroquois-Doland in three sets to take third place. In the consolation round, the Cossacks from Sioux Valley narrowly defeated the Lake Preston Divers in three sets. Felderman fielded many compliments on his decision to not only hold the event but for also taking steps to help ensure the safety of the teams and the spectators in attendance.

The Arlington-Lake Preston Badgers returned to the field Sept.18 for Lake Preston’s homecoming game after a bye week, beating the Deubrook Dolphins 36-6.

The win pushed the Badgers to 3-1 on the season while dropping the Dolphins to 0-5. The Badgers take on the 3-2 O-R/R Raiders Friday night in Rutland, before finishing the regular season with two games in Arlington, hosting Baltic and Hamlin.

The Badgers took a 36-0 halftime lead over the Deubrook Dolphins in Lake Preston Sept.18 then coasted, playing mostly reserves with the clock running, for a 36-6 win.

The game opened with a pair of three-and-outs, but a big punt by Jasper Denison still gave the Badgers the advantage, pinning the Dolphins back at their own six.

Two running plays moved the ball to the 10, but a third-and-six pass was intercepted by Denison and returned to the seven. It took just one play from there, with Denison taking it up the middle for the touchdown.

That made it 6-0 with 7:07 left in the first quarter, where it stayed after the two-point conversion failed.

Deubrook got the ball back at the 24, but again went three-and-out, punting to A-LP’s 41. Two plays later, on a third-and-four, Tate Larsen ran left for 16 to the Dolphins’ 37.

On the next play, Denison threw deep to Carter Malone down the right sideline for a 37-yard touchdown to make it 12-0 with 3:29 left in the first. Again, the two-point try was stopped.

Deubrook got the ball back, but went two yards backward on three plays, then punted. The Badgers took over at their own 40, ran for a first down to Deubrook’s 48, then Larsen nearly took it all the way, tackled at the 11.

BULLDOG FOOTBALL

De Smet football was back in action Friday taking on the Estelline-Hendricks Redhawks. The Bulldogs came into the matchup ranked #4, moving up one spot in the polls for the week.

De Smet began the game with some injuries, with starters Kalen Garry, Al Dobson and Ethan McCune all sitting out the game this week. The Bulldogs won the toss and received the opening kickoff and quickly marched down the field with runs from Rett Osthus and Cody Cavanaugh. Colt Wilkinson then found Tory Holland for a 16-yard touchdown pass. Cody Cavanaugh rushed for the two-point conversion and De Smet led 8-0.

On the ensuing kickoff, De Smet kicked the ball deep. The ball was bobbled by the Redhawks and Osthus made a great hustle play – jumping on the ball and securing the turnover for the Bulldogs. Two plays later, Cavanaugh took the ball for a fifteen-yard rushing touchdown. Wilkinson again found Holland on a pass for the two-point conversion, and the Bulldogs led 16-0.

De Smet would hold on defense, forcing the Redhawks to punt on their next drive. Wilkinson hooked up with Cavanaugh for a long pass play, and runs from Osthus and Dylan Zell ended with a 5-yard touchdown run by Osthus. The two-point conversion was no good and the Bulldogs led 22-0, still in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs began the second quarter forcing another E-H punt. This possession had nice carries again by Zell and Osthus, and ending with a two-yard rushing touchdown by Wilkinson. The two-point conversion was again denied, and De Smet led 28-0.

Estelline was held to 3 and out, and De Smet took over at the 50-yard line. On the first play, Wilkinson converted on a pass to Holland for a 50-yard touchdown. Cavanaugh caught the two-point conversion, and the Bulldogs led 36-0 in the second quarter.

De Smet’s junior varsity entered the game and played the remainder from this point on. Both teams would remain scoreless for the rest of the half, and the halftime score was 36-0.

The Bulldogs began the second half holding the Redhawks offense and forcing a punt. Trace Van Regenmorter found Kadyn Fast on a swing pass for an 87-yard touchdown. De Smet would hold Estelline-Hendricks scoreless for the remainder of the game. Fast found the endzone one more time with a nine-yard touchdown run and two-point conversion, and the game ended with a 50-0 score in the 4th quarter.

Leading the way for De Smet were Osthus with 7 carries for 44 yards rushing and 1 touchdown. Fast had 4 carries for 41 yards and 1 touchdown, and Zell 7 rushes for 32 yards. Wilkinson was 5-7 passing for 111 yards and 2 touchdown throws. Holland caught 2 passes for 66 yards and 2 touchdowns. Cavanaugh caught 2 passes for 38 yards. Van Regenmorter completed one pass to Fast for an 87-yard touchdown. Defensively, Zell led with 13 tackles and Fast had 7.

For Estelline, Braxton Saathoff was 3 of 9 for 30 yards passing. Joseph Mcaninch ran 18 times for 81 yards.

The Bulldogs will be in action again Friday for a Homecoming matchup versus Castlewood.
