Plein Air Event brings artists from six states

Artist from Bruce, S.D. receives Harvey Dunn Award

BY RITA ANDERSON
Kingsbury Journal

The well-attended 2021 Plein Air 'Paint Out' registered 59 artists, with six being online and the majority attending in person in De Smet, enjoying the weekend of painting and networking. This 13th annual Plein Air is the first year that gave artists the opportunity to participate online or in person.

nity to participate online or in person.

Roger Bommersbach, from Bruce, was honored with the prestigious Harvey Dunn Award. Artists from six states, including Maryland, Nebraska, Wyoming, Iowa and Oregon, along with many communities in South Dakota, painted out on the De Smet prairies and throughout the community.

Receiving the most votes online and winning the People's Choice Award was Mary Askren with her painting, "Country Church." Askren, from Madison, S.D., has been painting off and on for 40 years. She is a cancer survivor who exhibited extensively in the '90's but has been creating art for personal pleasure in recent years.

A new artist to the De Smet event, Joseph Eisenhart from Cheyenne, Wyo., was honored by the artists in attendance with the Artist's Choice Award for his painting of the barn at the Ingalls Homestead. He is a self-taught landscape oil painter who has been painting seriously for about ten years. He recently started plein

SMOKEOUT IN THE PARK

Lake Preston Fire Department takes the prize

A friendly competition between fire departments made for some summer fun

BY BILLI AUGHENBAUGH
Kingsbury Journal

If you made it out to Washington Park in De Smet on Saturday, your mouth might still be watering from all the delicious ribs and sides that were made in the park!

Seven teams spent the day cooking one hundred and forty-four racks of ribs, which is over four hundred pounds! Some teams even made sides including corn bread, grilled peaches, jalapeno poppers and more.

This is all sounding delicious, isn't it?

Well, if you got there early, you were lucky! The teams sold out of ribs in about forty-five minutes.

Approximately two hundred twenty-five people were served in that amount of time.

If ribs and sides weren't enough, there were desserts that were sold, and Prairie Poppers was there making fresh popcorn as well. Beer and wine was sold by Scott

Myers with the Oxbow to keep people cool in the hot sun.

HOW DID THE TEAMS DO?

Judging the competition between the teams were Matt Kees, Marina Garcia and Billi Aughenbaugh, with the Kingsbury Journal, Melissa Anderson, visiting from Colorado and Loren Zimmer, visiting from Colman. They scored the teams, not knowing which ribs were from which teams, based on taste, tenderness and appearance.

Based on their results, Woody's BBQ was first place, Checkered BBQ, 2nd place and Smokin' with Fire, 3rd place.

The fire departments competed against one another to decide on where this event will be held next year. They judged each others ribs and winning that competition was the Lake Preston Fire Department, which means that Lake Preston will host next year. A travelling trophy donated by American Engineered Products was presented to the Lake Preston Fire Department to display for one year.

People's Choice was awarded to the De Smet Fire Department.

WHO WERE THE TEAMS?

Woody's BBQ – Sponsored by LP Auto – Jeremy Woodcock (1st Place)

Checkered BBQ – Lake Preston American Legion – Jason Paul (2nd Place)

Smokin' with Fire – Arlington Fire Department – Wayne Hopkins (3rd Place)

De Smet Fire Department – Bubba Hildebrandt (People's Choice)

Lake Preston Fire Department – John Wienk (Fire Department Winner)

The De Smet Music Boosters held a corn hole contest as well. The winners for the corn hole competition were Grant and Lyla, who won first place with the ten dollar prize. Everly and Conner won 2nd with the 5 dollar prize, and Kolby and Logan won 3rd with the popcorn prize.

Nothing but good compliments and good times were had by all, we'd like to think. A huge thank you goes out to all the volunteers, the cooking teams, the Kingsbury Journal volunteer staff, vendors and coordinators especially Jim Girard and Scott Myers, and to all of those who attended. Be thinking about your team for next year's Kingsbury Journal Smokout in the Park!

A new Youth Award was presented this year as a memorial to Bill Poppen, who recently passed away. Poppen was an avid supporter for the De Smet Plein Air event and the arts. Quinton Hart from Akron, Iowa, won the Youth Award. Hart and his family have attended the Plein Air in De Smet for many years, making it a family reunion with the entire family painting.

The awards were presented at the Plein Air 'Wet Sale' held Sunday at the De Smet Event Center. Susan Purintun, Past President of the Harvey Dunn Society, was honored for her vision and support of this event. Purintun has given many hours to make this event what it is today. A quilt was given to her with pictures of the artwork completed previously at De Smet Plein Air events. It was created by Gerry Lynn Allen from Sioux Falls.

The Harvey Dunn Award presented to Bommersbach is an annual prestigious honor presented to the artist who fulfills the ideals of the renowned artist it is named for. Dunn, born on a homestead farm near De Smet in Manchester, was a successful illustrator, teacher and official artist during WWI. Dunn had a gift of being able to capture the beauty of the wildflowers, grasses, sunrises, sunsets, dramatic clouds and moods of the prairie that he captured with oils. Bommersbach has been a participant in the De Smet Plein Air for many years and epitomizes the Harvey Dunn style of painting with his art pieces.

"South Dakota is so blessed with the legacy of Harvey Dunn," said Steve Bell, Harvey Dunn Society Board Co-chairman. "The artists at our event continue Dunn's work in showing us the unique beauty of the prairie we inhabit. We celebrate their talents!"

They come to Sturgis (and South Dakota) for freedom

THE STURGIS RALLY is one of the biggest gatherings for motorcycle enthusiasts in the world. While the rally has always promoted an independent spirit, these past two years have taken on a new meaning of freedom.

GOVERNOR'S DESK

KRISTI NOEM

I've spoken say they're coming to South Dakota specifically because it reminds them of the America they grew up in. Free. Independent. Unburdened by the constraints and headaches that big cities and liberal ideology force upon them.

Mount Rushmore is one of the most recognized symbols in America. But few know our state's motto: Under God the People Rule. That's an easy standard to live and serve under. The rights of individuals are what birthed this nation, and that independent spirit is what drove us to become the leader of not just the free world, but the whole world.

And it's that same spirit that is driving South Dakota tourism and business growth, making us the number one state in the nation for GDP growth. At the same time, we currently have some of the lowest COVID case numbers in the country. We have also worked hard with counselors to provide services for substance abusers, leading the nation in decreasing the number of deaths from overdose by 15.9 percent.

These are all signs that what we are doing in South Dakota is working and helping our citizens.

And yet, bureaucrats in Washington, D.C. and the media cast aspersions on the Sturgis Rally while ignoring concertgoers, lavish birthday parties, and the continuing crisis at the U.S.-Mexico border. It's a double standard that gives a free pass to so-called elites to do as they please and mandate others to do as they say. It's a failure in leadership on their part and why more and more Americans are fleeing big cities and blue states for places like South Dakota.

As South Dakota's governor, I have remained within the bounds of my authority and empowered citizens and businesses to make decisions for themselves. Rather than mandating they do as I say, I have chosen to let people take personal responsibility for decisions the government has no authority to make. There's a risk associated with everything that we do in life. Bikers like those attending the Rally this year get that better than anyone.

It's no surprise that when I rode my horse through downtown Deadwood at the start of the Legends Ride on Monday, I was greeted with cheers for freedom and for the American flag I carried. At that same event, we auctioned off a painting and that flag I carried for a total of $80,000 to support the Treasured Lives charity, which helps victims of human trafficking.

This trip to Sturgis and the Rally was one to remember. When the auction was over, I hopped on a motorcycle and helped lead 300 bikers on a ride from Deadwood to the Buffalo Chip in Sturgis, where the celebration of freedom continued.

Under God, the people rule – and ride free on the open roads of South Dakota!

Picnics make for good memories

ON MY MIND

DAR DEKNIKKER

Getting paid to plan a picnic?!

On the other hand I can see it because maybe both parents are working. The convenience of it being planned and they just have to show up with their children at the park, or wherever they want it, would make it relaxing. I guess whatever it takes to make it happen!

I know I grew up with packing picnic lunches with my family and I did it with my children and as they reminisce today, well let's just say their most memorable picnic was a half a block off Hollywood Blvd in California. So I'm glad picnics are becoming more popular because it's quality time well spent with your family and great memories.

What's on your mind? E-mail your submission to editor@kingsburyjournal.com.

Enjoying a beautiful summer day

The endless stages of life

THE FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL has always been a mix of emotions for me. Even as a child, I was ready to go... until I got there. I thought I was past the first-day-of-school blues once I became a mother, but I was wrong. It got worse.

Kindergarten, first grade, junior high and high school so far have left me teary eyed on the back step waving with a pasted-on smile - all while someone I loved ran off happily - without looking back. I'm not anticipating anything different this year. Our triplets start middle school and our oldest son is a junior... and this year, it really hit me how it's just a quick couple of years until I won't see him scoot out the door to his first day of school. Another first for him and for us. Oh, I'll put on a good face and celebrate every moment with him, but when he isn't there, sometimes my eyes leak.

And listen, I know it's a couple years away... but when I let myself think about it, I lose it. Then when I think about how many very short years I have with my boys at home, it just adds to my tears.

Listen, I love new beginnings, new seasons, but I knew I needed to explore why I was so sad. Once I allowed myself to go there, it didn't take long to realize I was grieving the changes in my relationships with my children. Every year they need me a little less. Every year I have to release some measure of control, and their everyday lives don't revolve around me quite as much. That's a very good and healthy thing, but it's still hard.

There is so much I have to be thankful for, but I can't deny the grief of moving past another stage of parenting and into a new one and realizing my children don't need me as much. So, I've spent some time going to God with my sadness. He has not disappointed me with His response. This is the verse I keep coming back to.

Ephesians 3:17-19 (MSG) says:
My response is to get down on

MEDITATIONS

PASTOR TIA FELBERG

De Smet/Iroquois
United Methodist Church

my knees before the Father, this magnificent Father who parcels out all heaven and earth. I ask him to strengthen you by his Spirit—not a brute strength but a glorious inner strength—that Christ will live in you as you open the door and invite him in. And I ask him that with both feet planted firmly on love, you'll be able to take in with all followers of Jesus the extravagant dimensions of Christ's love. Reach out and experience the breadth! Test its length! Plumb the depths! Rise to the heights! Live full lives, full in the fullness of God.

He hears my cries, and He reminds me of an important truth: my identity is not found in being a mother, but in being a daughter of the King - and that relationship will never change. God never needs to pull away from me to become independent, rather He prefers that I become more dependent.

So, as I learn to accept the natural way of raising a child and the inherent healthy separation, that concept does not apply to God and me. God wants more of my time; He wants me to come to Him for advice, and He wants to talk with me. This is a relationship that will never change, except to become stronger.

God is using these separation moments to grow my children and me. They are learning to stand on their own, and I'm learning to become more dependent on God. I'm not saying I've got this thing whipped. I've got a few more first days to go. But, I do know where to go for reassurance.

This school year, I am hoping to find the joy in these stages of being their mom and am excited to draw closer to Jesus at the same time. I would encourage you to do the same. God Bless You.

Treasures of the heart

SHE STOOD ON HER tiptoes to reach the highest shelf in the old wardrobe. Stretching far to the back, she carefully drew out a soft, towel-wrapped bundle. She carried it to the bed. I sat next to her, and at that moment I knew in my heart my mother was about to reveal something very special.

PUTTING ON THE BIG BOOTS DEANN (WOLKOW) KRUEMPEL

A gentle wistfulness radiated from her face as she removed the towel, leaving a soft wool bunting on her lap. She opened the pink flap to reveal a life-sized baby doll. The head was china, with brown hair, pink lips and rosy cheeks painted on the shiny surface. As she lifted the baby to her shoulder, I heard the tiniest click as the blue eyes slowly opened.

She smoothed the faded green calico dress with her fingers and finally spoke. Her parents gave her the doll for her fifth Christmas. Two of her sisters also received dolls, and they spent memorable Sunday afternoons having doll parties. "I had other dolls, but they got broken. Sometimes the neighbor kids came over, and they were not always careful." She went on to explain that when the parents thought they were too old to play with dolls, they were expected to hand them down to the younger ones. "But I managed to keep this one."

I was thirteen at the time, and I knew the doll was one of the few tangible treasures remaining from her childhood.

Mom often shared memories with us kids as we were growing up. Even though she and Dad had to work like adults at a very young age, they still had time to play. When the folks married and had their own family, they realized the value of having fun.

My siblings and I did not lack for playthings when we grew up on our South Dakota farm. Don and Delmer "farmed" the living room floor, driving tractors, wagons and discs between chairs and under tables in the winter, then turning the sandbox into fields and roads in summer.

Deloris, Darlene and Dorothy all remember having dolls, a doll bed and buggy. Somehow our mother managed to find time to sew extra outfits for each doll, so we kept them dressed for every occasion. As in Mom's family, the toys got passed down to the younger siblings, so the toy boxes overflowed by the time I came along. As the youngest and most spoiled, I also had several of my very own dolls. One in particular, Susan, was extra-special.

Close to the end of my first grade year, the teacher gave the students permission to bring our dolls to school. The next day several girls carried babies around like little mothers during recess. Thinking I needed to be part of that group, I asked Mom that night if I could take Susan to school. She frowned and shook her head. "No, I don't think it is a good idea to take dolls to school."

Though disappointed, I left it at that, but the next day more dolls appeared. They got fed and burped and even had their diapers changed. So, again, I approached Mother. I pleaded. I begged. "ALL the other girls brought their dolls, Mom. PLEASE, can't I take Susan?" At last, she gave in.

The next day was great. Five of us carried our babies all over the school yard. They experienced merry-go-round rides and bounced up and down on teeter-totters. (A couple needed a diaper change after that!) Susan and I had such fun, I couldn't wait to get home and tell Mom all about it. Maybe she would let me bring Jeannie tomorrow.

Then it was time for the ride home on the bus. Wrapped in a flannel blanket, Susan snuggled my shoulder as I one-stepped up the textured steel steps and took the second seat behind the bus driver. Bus rules stated that the younger kids sat in the front, high school kids in the back and the others in the middle.

I laid Susan down in the seat next to me, closest to the aisle. A boy my age sat in the seat across, and I noticed him watching. I unwrapped my precious doll and held her on my lap. I talked to her and showed her the sights as the bus began its journey. The boy kept staring at me as the bus drew close to our home. I put Susan back on the seat and reached for her bonnet. As quick as lightning, that boy grabbed her and swung her over his head with a wicked sneer. I yelled. The bus driver glanced up in his mirror and opened his mouth, but before he could say one word, my ten-year-old brother was there in the seat with that boy.

A scuffle ensued. I am pretty sure strong words were spoken, though I don't remember that part. At last my big brother handed Susan back to me. The bus arrived at our driveway. Bus Driver Clarence tugged the handle that opened the folding doors. His eyes met Delmer's as we stepped down, but there was no reproach.

With tears in my eyes, I ran to tell Mom what had happened. As I looked down at my special doll, I discovered that her foot was broken. It had been partially torn off somehow during the skirmish.

We taped the foot on the best we could. Mom sewed a footed sleeper for Susan. It was a soft white flannel with tiny pink roses.

I still have Susan. She is wrapped in a pink wool bunting and tucked away in her sleeper with other precious things from my childhood. The doll is special to me, but the real treasure in my heart is the memory of that day in first grade when my big brother came to the rescue.

Enjoy corn on the cob and Mexican corn dip

I LOVE SWEET CORN, especially corn on the cob. Lately, we've been getting a lot of sweet corn from different people, so since we have extra, I decided to experiment with it.

HOME GROWN

AMY HALVERSON

Everyone is always talking about making corn on the cob in the microwave, so I decided to give it a shot. Unfortunately, I didn't get the great results everyone else seems to have.

I know many recipes I found say to cook it in the microwave without shucking it first. Unfortunately, mine was already shucked, so I didn't get to try that way. Instead, I went with wrapping each ear in a damp paper towel. Then I put them in my cloth baked potato maker thinking that would help lock the moisture in, too.

Unfortunately, it didn't turn out well. I put five ears in for 10 minutes. When I pulled out the ears, the tops looked delicious, but when I turned them over the bottoms didn't look cooked at all. I wrapped them back up in the paper towels without the cloth for another few minutes, and they still weren't completely cooked. I ended up having to cook only a few at a time for an additional few minutes before they were finally cooked all the way around.

The corn was delicious when it finally got done, but it took way too long for me. I might try it again with the husks on if we only need a few ears, but I think I'll stick with boiling it if we need more than that.

I've always cooked corn on the cob

- Mexican Corn Dip
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
 - 4 cups corn kernels, frozen, canned or roasted
 - 1 jalapeno, seeded and diced
 - 3 tablespoons mayonnaise

- 2 tablespoons crumbled cotija cheese
- 2 tablespoons fresh cilantro leaves
- ½ teaspoon chili powder
- 1 clove garlic, pressed
- Juice of 1 lime

Melt butter in a large skillet over medium high heat. Add corn kernels and jalapeno, and cook, stirring occasionally, until cooked through and slightly charred, about 8-10 minutes. Stir in mayonnaise, cotija, cilantro, chili powder, garlic and lime juice. Serve immediately.

in boiling water, and it always turns out really good. All you have to do is bring a pot of water to a boil, add some salt and the corn cobs. Then boil the ears for about 6 minutes. You can see when it's ready to pull when the kernels are all plump and bright yellow. This is easy and fast.

This week I'm sharing a fun recipe for Mexican corn dip. It's a great side dish or appetizer to bring to a gathering. You can eat it with chips or a spoon. Enjoy!

Mexican Corn Dip Tips:

- I have no idea what cotija cheese is, but I've found that you can substitute feta or parmesan for it.
- If you don't have fresh cilantro, you can use 2 teaspoons of dried cilantro instead.
- Greek yogurt can be substituted for the mayonnaise

SCHOOL BOARD

Meeting tour covers entire school facility

BY KINGSBURY JOURNAL STAFF

The Lake Preston School Board kicked off its regularly scheduled August meeting with an hour-long tour of the entire school facility including both elementary and high school wings, gymnasiums, playground area, football and track complex and storage shed. Superintendent Dana Felderman led the board around the campus while highlighting where money has been spent and where improvements have been made as well as indicating areas that could use some renovation.

Recent upgrades include new bleachers, new air conditioning in the gymnasiums and music room, new sound system, new entrance doors and new windows on the west side of the high school. The doors and windows have made such a noticeable difference to the building, Felderman said he has received many compliments in the short amount of time since they have been installed.

Following the tour, the board reconvened for the business portion of the meeting. The board read and approved the return to learning plan authored by Supt. Felderman. They also reviewed the school's strategic plan. The board had many questions regarding the school's goals and the board's need for input to the overall plan. The plan is approved annually, generally without much (or any) adjustment. The board approved the current plan as read with the stipulation that it would be readdressed in the near future.

The board also evaluated the 2021-2022 budget, which outlined the anticipated revenues and proposed expenditures for the next school year. Business Manager Curd noted that the proposed budget would be in its third consecutive year of requesting less opt out and capital outlay dollars. However, the special education tax and levy will see an increase due to the state mandated increase. After evaluation, the board approved the budget as presented.

The board re-examined the school's five-year capital outlay plan. President Carlson noted that the evening's tour allowed them to

Four generations

The Bogstad Family reunion was held Aug. 8 at Lake Preston City Park. There were at least 60 descendants of Emil and Olive (Peterson) Bogstad who attended. All but four of the first cousins were there and hadn't been all together since 1981. They came from different parts of South Dakota, Minnesota and Indiana.

Emil Knute Bogstad came to this country from Norway in 1906. He had one sister, Hilda, who was already here. He married Olive Peterson from the Arlington area on March 3, 1917. In Huron, S.D., Emil worked for different farmers in the western part of the state and in Kingsbury County until they made their home in 1942 northwest of De Smet. The couple had six children including Earl, James, Ronald, Duane, Elva (Blogg) and Darlene (Larsen). The home place is still owned by Darlene Larsen.

Nuisance properties improving

BY KINGSBURY JOURNAL STAFF

At their regular meeting, the Lake Preston City Council reviewed progress on nuisance properties. Twenty-eight letters have been sent to property owners this year. Several nuisance issues have been completely resolved, with most other properties showing marked improvements. There are some properties where little to no progress was made. Those property owners have until Sept. 3 to make improvements. Council members remarked about the progress around town and agreed it was good to see things happening.

Continuing with the lines of progress, Councilwoman Donna Bumann spoke on behalf of the development board when she inquired about the infrastructure money timeline. Finance Officer Brenda Klug reported that she has not had any updates since the previous meeting. Bumann also asked councilmembers for input with regard to future projects and disposing of waste at the rubble site. She asked that they present ideas at the next meeting.

Councilman Brian Verhey noted that the tax revenue of the new homes is of great benefit to the community. Mayor Andy Wienk explained that he had visited with some members of the development board about the recent housing study. He shared that the study recommended an additional 14 new homes as well as apartments. The study also recommended twin homes for Lake Preston as those options are lacking as are rental property options.

Museum attendance has increased significantly in 2021 as reported by Paulette Fields. She noted that 230 people have signed their ledger in the first seven months this year, which is 40-50 people more than recent year totals. The museum is looking to get local

LOOKING BACK

1996: Rauch joins aviation greats in SD Hall of Fame

10 YEARS AGO

August 17, 2011

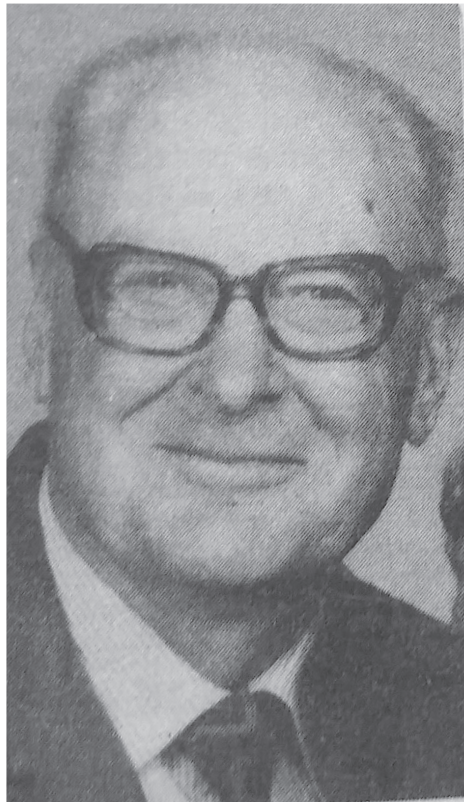

The LPHS football and volleyball teams officially kicked off the 2011 fall sports season as they began practice Aug. 15. The first football game will be against Castlewood Sept. 2 while the volleyball season begins on Aug. 30 with Castlewood.

Heading into the final race of the season, the Lake Preston drag team is up 120 points over second-place Yankton and looking to win their second consecutive overall points championship. The final race will be held Aug. 27 at Thunder Valley Dragways with a banquet to be held to honor the racers on Oct. 8 in Brookings. The team members for 2011 are Trevor Dietrich, Anthony Strande, Ethan Jones, Jordan Williams, Layne Jensen, Michelle Springer, Matt Bentley, Zach Longville, Dylan DeKnikker and Isaac Wilde.

25 YEARS AGO

August 15, 1996

Harley Rauch of Lake Preston will join aviation greats like Joe Foss and Clyde Ice in the South Dakota Aviation Hall of Fame. Rauch will be honored on Aug. 24 at ceremonies in Spearfish. Rauch said the honor is one he never dreamed of and although his career in aviation spanned 50 years, he said it began by accident. He was a senior at Huron College when the Civilian Pilot Program was introduced. Ten members were needed to offer the program, so he was persuaded to be the final necessary member. Since then, he has logged over 17,000 hours of flight time. His career began in the FAA teaching Air Force primary cadets and following that, after a stint in the Air Force, he began crop spraying and instructing. His commitment and interest in aviation were an example to many with local pilot Jerry Ellingson nominating him for the honor.

50 YEARS AGO

August 19, 1971

A record-breaking crowd of more than 1,300 people was in attendance at the pit barbecue beef dinner served during the 3rd annual Town & Country Days at the park. The two-day weekend included a wide variety of events from sidewalk sales booths, midway attractions with a "dunkin machine," a car show, community worship service, concert ending with a tug of war with the south of Highway 14 team the winners.

weeks under the instruction of Harley M. Rauch. Those making their first flight alone are Robert Larson, Lurella Ostroot, Kendall Iverson, and Dale Allen, average 6-8 hours each before soloing. Rauch has about 20 boys and girls taking flying lessons at this time at the airport.

Materials are arriving every day for the new Kingsbury Memorial Hospital; work is progressing smoothly under the supervision of Otto Thorsnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lawson announced that they have once again obtained enough equipment to enable them to re-open their service station after wartime restrictions had forced them to close four years ago.

100 YEARS AGO

August 18, 1921

During the storm Tuesday evening, lightning struck the barn on P. S. Larson's barn. He was in the house at the time but did not know that it got so close until he happened to look out and found the barn in flames. It was too late to save even his harnesses, the structure and contents burning to the ground. The barn was filled with hay and doubtless burned fiercely. Luckily, no stock was in the structure at the time. His other barn blew down in a storm some time ago and work on rebuilding that is already underway.

AT THE MUSEUM

A trip to the dentist — Open wide!

BY MARY ROCKINO

Kingsbury Journal

It's back to school time which means a trip to the dentist to have your teeth checked. This year you are going to Dr. Darling's office at the Lake Preston Museum.

Don't expect to sit in the comfortable reclining chair or be able to watch videos or listen to music. You are going to sit straight up in the chair while the doctor examines your teeth. He will be standing beside you wearing a glistening white coat as he completes his work.

There will be a bright light shining in your face, and if he squirts too much water in your mouth, you will be reminded to spit in the white porcelain bowl called a cuspidor next to the chair.

Dr. Jerome Darling was the first dentist in Lake Preston, having arrived in the early 1900s. His chair and his ornate cabinet were made in 1888 and are the oldest relics in the museum and the first items donated by the Hay/Rasmussen family to the newly formed museum board.

Go ahead and open wide!!

SCHOOL BOARD: Cooperative sports with other schools discussed get a visual on some of the school's ongoing and planned projects. The board agreed that being able to see the completed projects, along with visualizing what improvements are needed, would help for budgeting for the future.

One area that was targeted at this meeting was moving the three phases of window replacement down to two, so that all the remaining high school windows could be replaced sooner than later. Business Manager Curd said she would take the board's suggestions and adjust the plan as recommended.

Another topic of discussion on the agenda was cooperative sports. In February, Superintendent Felderman presented a letter to the Arlington School Board requesting dialog on joining in more activities, specifically boys' and girls' basketball. The letter was read at Arlington's School Board meeting where Felderman and Solberg were present, with no discussion being heard.

Felderman reported that he reached out again to Arlington's Superintendent as well as calling on other neighboring schools to see if there would be any interest in Lake Preston to go a different direction. He noted that he had received some positive feedback from the other schools and would follow up with them in the future.

In other actions, the board approved the auditing contract with Schoenfish and Co, approved handbooks and policy manuals and approved the contracts for Ron Henry as bus driver and Jalen Kaufman and Brock Dufek as co-head track coaches.

The board met at 7:45 a.m. on Tues., Aug. 17 with breakfast with the board held at 8 a.m.

The next regular meeting will be on Mon., Sept. 13 at noon.

CITY COUNCIL: Campground expansion should be useable in September youth involved with museum projects, one of them being inventorying all items. The museum board is looking for fundraising ideas for future projects. Fields expressed appreciation for gutter improvements and shared that no water entered the basement following the most recent rains.

Brandon Gates shared the projected budget of the fire department. The fire department is asking for an additional $10,000 to previous years' amounts to help cover the expense to replace their air compressor. He explained that the current compressor is nearly 25 years old and poses both a health and safety hazard. He also shared that the fire department doesn't have enough bunker gear for the newest members.

Pedestals are in place at the campground expansion. City employee Brian Zeeck explained that power will be added at the end of the month, and the sites will be useable in September. He added that the pool has a few plumbing issues that will be addressed when the pool closes. The south lift station will be raised three feet this week for planned improvements. He was approached by Mike Fuhr with the lumberyard about flooding concerns. The council explored ideas but agreed much will be learned following the project as intake issues should be improved. There will be a wastewater inspection on Thursday.

Finance Officer Klug shared that there was a $300 donation for the campground expansion.

The council chose Aug. 30 for the special budget meeting and moved the regular September meeting to the 13th with both meetings open to the public and beginning at 7 p.m.

The DOT has yet to complete the speed study near 21st Century.

Several committees have been busy since last month's meeting. The museum committee met at the museum. While there, they discussed flooding issues as were previously mentioned by Fields. Councilman Joe Schnell noted that the paint is in bad shape. Mayor Wienk shared that he has asked several painters for quotes, but upon looking at the exposed wood, they refuse to even give a quote because they do not want warranty work they know will not last due to the condition of the wood.

The personnel committee met with pool staff. Schnell explained that things were learned by both the committee and employees. Councilwoman Kristen Longville shared that some parents were less than respectful in how they treated 17-year-old kids. She explained that the lifeguards were told that they did not need to deal with those situations, and she encouraged them to let Klug know when there is a problem. Bumann suggested that next year, the personnel committee and lifeguards could meet every 2-3 weeks to discuss how things are going.

The budget committee also met and created a budget draft that was later modified to balance when additional numbers came in.

In regular and old business, the council approved the financial report and claims. They tabled the speed signs at this time due to the tight budget. Two new building permits were reviewed.

In new business, Klug shared that there was minimal input with regard to Kingsbury Transit. She explained there was one person who said he would definitely use the transit if it came to town. Bumann expressed hope that people would make use of Family Fun Night as Kingsbury Transit was giving free rides to and from the park.

Klug will reach out to neighboring communities to learn how Lake Preston might join league ball next summer as it has been difficult to schedule games when not in a league.

The council approved the 2022 Budget Ordinance as well as Resolution 104-21, which turned over surplus land to the development board. The council approved a $.50 raise for employee Doug Bumann, who passed his final water test.

In council concerns, Gary Buer expressed concern about debris on the old 21st Century lot. He also noted that several drivers are ignoring the 10-mph speed limit near his place.

Verhey shared that while there has been leniency with regard to length of lawns due to the drought, there is a yard that either needs to be mowed by the owner or the city.

Schnell shared that he was contacted about water issues on South Walters Avenue. Verhey noted that area has some drainage quirks but added that this is typically only a problem with heavier rains.

Longville shared that she would still like to send a fundraising letter for the park improvements. Bumann again expressed concern about this coming from the city and shared that she would much rather see a private group take on this endeavor. Longville asked how a letter would be different from the boxes around town. Bumann agreed they are similar, and in that case would rather see the boxes removed. Klug shared that less than $200 has come from those boxes in the year and a half that they have been around town. Wienk shared that while he can't specify a particular reason, he also felt uncomfortable with the city asking for donations. John McMasters and Verhey agreed.

Longville asked about the canon being painted. It was decided that the city guys will sand blast and paint the canon in the quonset. Longville also asked for additional benches and garbages in the park for Family Fun Night. She explained that Horizon Health Care will have games. Bumann added that there will be live music, and Schnell brought up that there will be a fire truck and firemen there. The pool will be open for the last time of the season as well.

McMasters pointed out that the alley behind the bank has several potholes.

With no need for executive session, the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting will be Aug. 31 at 7 p.m.

Over 34 towns and 14 states in town for Straw Bale Days

BY LORELEE NELSON

Trinity Lutheran Church will have worship Aug. 22 at 9:30 a.m. Visitors are always welcome.

The Campbell Straw Bale Museum meeting was held Tues., Aug. 10 at the Prairie Inn with Norbert Moldan conducting the meeting. Lorelee Nelson read the secretary's report, and Sally Madison presented the treasurer's report. A major part of the meeting was discussing and evaluating Straw Bale Days and suggesting ideas for next year. The stage floor in the auditorium will need to be replaced. There will be root beer floats and sandwiches at the museum September 5th fundraiser for the museum. Everyone was thanked for helping make Straw Bale Days a success.

Rick and Deb Telles came from Arizona for a recent visit with her mother, Voni Durant. Her granddaughter Sarah also came for a short visit.

Logan Hattervig, Lucas Hattervig and friend Joni all Sioux Falls came for Straw Bale Days and visited David and Connie Hattervig. Phil and Connie Hattervig Larson, Broken Bow, Neb., and Harriet Hattervig were supper guests with David and Connie Hattervig Thursday evening.

Several class reunions were held during Straw Bale Days. The class of 1970 gathered at Bob and Mary Henkel's home before eating at the Cabaret. Those attending were Dianne Stroud Sherman, Susan Well Meister, Mary Roby Henkel, Mark Anderson, Sid Robbins, Charles Rostyne, Gene Anderson, Randy Pooley, Paul Hodges, Charlie Unterbrunner and Bruce Nelson.

The class of 1960 met at the home of Calvin and Veronica Jones at Iroquois Friday night and came to Carthage for the parade Saturday morning.

Classmates included Calvin Jones, Veronica Kieffer Jones, Clarice Hattervig Richards, Patty Swanson Junker, Adele Shoemaker Raad, Joyce Zapp Johnson and Dale Bauer.

The class of 1951 gathered in Carthage Saturday morning and rode in the parade. Those present were Chelaine Munger Nelson and husband Glen, Betty Kieffer Ferguson, Mary Kieffer Majors, Shirley Meligan Stroud, Irene Gates Rans and Della Wittenhagen Banks.

David and Connie Hattervig were Sunday evening visitors with Harriet Hattervig and her house guests. Amber Predmore, Sioux Falls and Robin, Mirinda and Auden Hattervig were visitors Monday along with Clarice Richard, Chad Bates, Connie and Phil Larson from Michigan and Nebraska.

Mark and Lisa Hinkley visited Harriet Hattervig and her Thursday guests. Harriet, Phil and Connie Larson were supper guests Thursday with David and Connie Hattervig.

Phil and Connie Larson, Broken Bow, Neb., and Harriet Hattervig visited Mark and Lisa Hinkley Friday afternoon and had supper with them.

Donna Stroud, Sioux Falls, was in Carthage Friday visiting and meeting friends for lunch.

Steve and Stacy Pickens, Isiah and Ruth, Olathe, Kansas and Nathan Rieck, San Diego, Calif., were weekend guests with Lyle and JoDene Darnell.

DID YOU KNOW?

People filled thirteen pages in the museum guest book during Straw Bale Days and not everyone signed it. Those who did sign the guest book were from 34 towns in South Dakota and 14 different states.

Two hundred chances were bought in the Cow Pie Plop Contest – a fundraiser for the museum.

A group of hunters who come each fall from Missouri for pheasant hunting have been coming for Straw Bale Days the last several years and said they had a great time and plan to come again next year.

Root beer floats have become popular this summer as a fundraiser at the museum and will be served again Sept. 5 along with sandwiches.

Brian Noem, husband of Governor Kristi Noem and his assistant, Bryon, were in Carthage Wednesday. They had lunch with the members of the city council, visited Rails and Relics, the Campbell Straw Bale Museum and went to the auditorium where they shot some baskets.

Time your phone calls accordingly

BY ROSE GROTHE

Billie Sergant of Huron was the speaker at the Presbyterian Church on Aug. 15. Thank you, Billie, for a very enlightening sermon.

Rose Grothe attended the 50th wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shephard of De Smet on Friday the 13th. Mrs. Shephard mentioned that it was "Friday the 13th" when they were married also.

Linda Perry of Bancroft and Rose Grothe of De Smet attended a movie at the Bryant theater on Sat., Aug. 14. It's great to have the theater up and running again. I'd encourage everyone to go and enjoy this very reasonable entertainment. The movie is shown on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and is family oriented, run by volunteers. The name of the movie, dates it runs and times are in the Kingsbury County Journal. The ones in August were shown on two weekends.

HISTORY

A recap of the telephone service. The Dakota Central Phone Company had its beginning in a small building on the lot presently occupied by the George Anderson trailer home. It was here in 1911 that Mrs. W. J. Frye ran the switchboard, which had on it nine farm lines, each holding an average of 20 families.

A day began at 7 a.m. and ended at 9 p.m., with the time between filled with timing long distance calls, making out and collecting phone bills and putting through calls with the aid of a hand crank.

"The Office" was moved into the Frye family home in 1915, where it remained until 1935 when Mrs. Charlie Wigman operated it until 1937. For a few years following Mrs. Wigman, Mrs. Dan Costello had a pay phone in her home.

The phone company eventually ended with Dakota Central taking back its switchboard, and service coming through the Iroquois line.

MORE ABOUT THE BAND

I know I talked about the band pavilion, its directors and how it was financed, but I left out the main thing ... the players. They were William Claassen (bass), Herman Claassen (trumpet), Eilt Claassen (trombone), Ralph Dirksen (alto), Ed Rusche (baritone), Henry Kruger Jr. (sax), Harm Dirksen (bass drum), Walt Englehart (snare drum), Edwin Englehart (trumpet), Carl Weerts (trumpet), Ernie Rusche (cornet), Walt Rusche (clarinet) and Art Ritterbusch (clarinet).

NEWS BRIEF

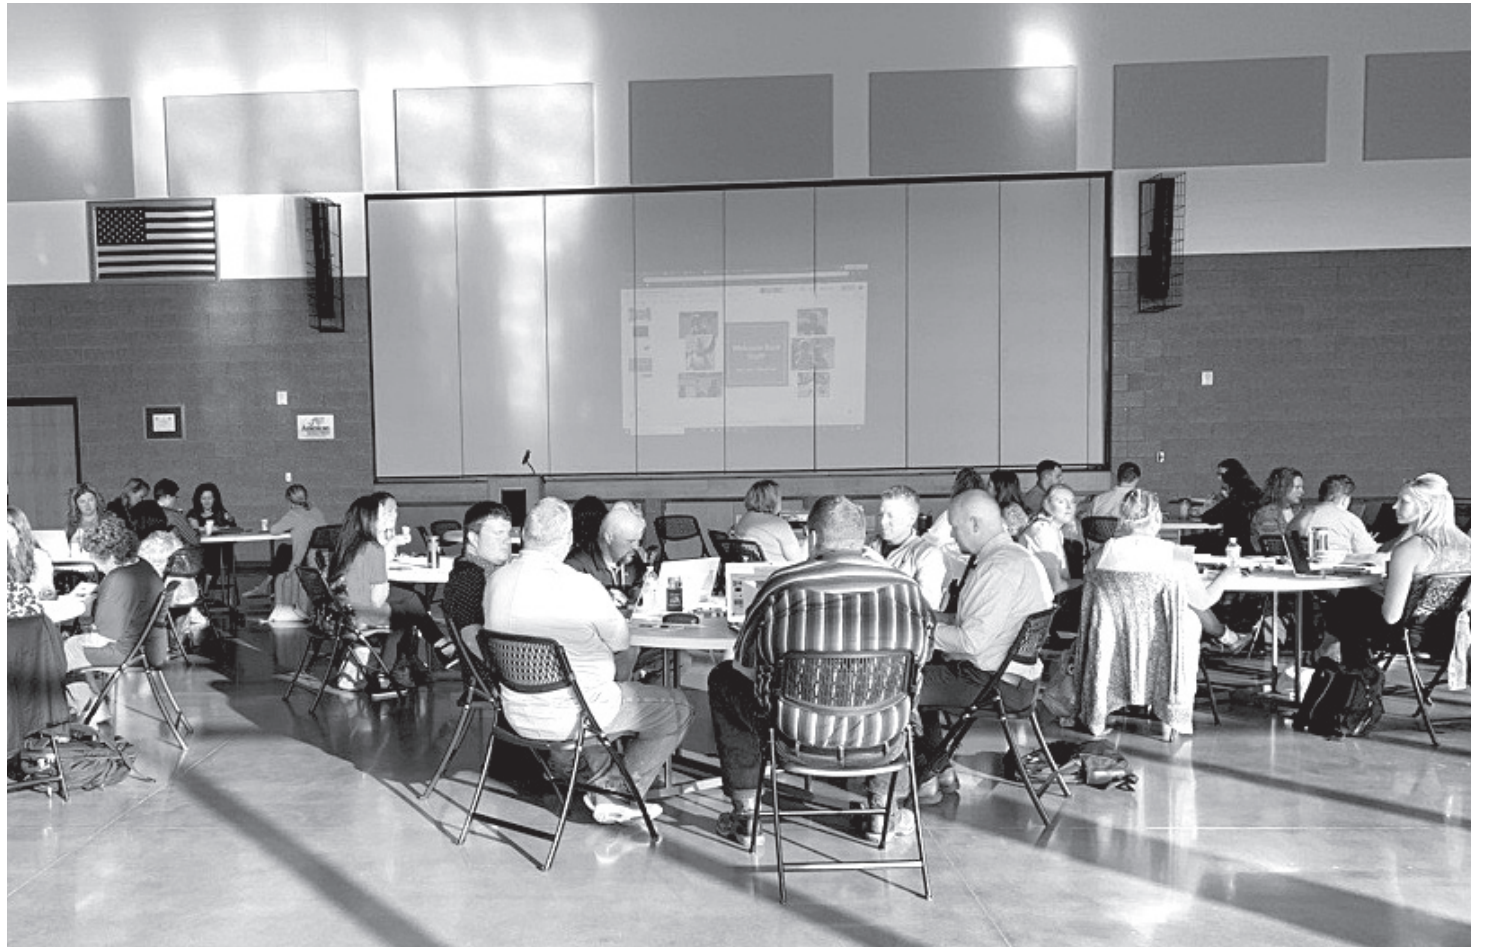

Mountain Lion spotted

A De Smet resident has reported seeing a mountain lion in city's east side. A report was made with the Sheriff's Office, who has reported the sighting to S.D. Game, Fish and Parks to investigate. The individual who spotted the mountain lion was working near the old rendering plant where 4th St. SE dead-ends close to the railroad tracks. The lion was spotted on the railroad tracks and quickly ran north.

Mountain lions have been spotted in years past in this area, so please take precautions. If you are a runner or jog on the city's east side, especially early in the morning or after sundown, please limit your running to areas that are developed and avoid the area near Silver Lake and north of it. Running in groups is even better. If you can make noise, it is recommended.

If you do encounter a lion, the National Park Service recommends you do not run. Talk calmly, avert your gaze, stand tall and back away. Unlike with bears, if attack seems imminent, act aggressively. Do not crouch and do not turn away. Lions may be scared away by being struck with rocks or sticks or by being kicked or hit.

Be safe and use common sense.

CITY COUNCIL

Drake's Addition residents voice concerns

Water and sewer service to the area discussed

BY MIKE SIEFKER
Kingsbury Journal

The De Smet Common Council met in regular session Wednesday. Mayor Wolkow was absent, so Alderman, Butch Hansen, convened the meeting that lasted just over two hours and became heated at times.

The main concern for the meeting was the water and sewer service to the Drake's Addition on the city's northwest side. Several residents made complaints about inadequate volumes of water to maintain their households.

Water Superintendent, Charlie Stoddard, told residents that he had checked the pressure and was finding the water pressure at 60 psi. He was insistent the pressure was adequate, but he was called out by one resident who complained that she couldn't use water for more than one task in her house otherwise, the volume drops significantly. An example would be if the lawn sprinkler was running, it would be almost impossible to take a shower or other tasks requiring water.

Since the city's water tower is on that side of town, pressure really isn't the issue. The water stored in the tower will allow gravity to exert the pressure on the water lines. The best question to ask is "what size water main is feeding the addition?" This is a question to ask, especially if new houses are going to be built in the addition, because they will increase the water use to that addition.

Other issues such as nearby neighbors' use of water, the size of the water line supplying a house and even how many turns there are in the supply line can decrease the volume of water. Each turn causes friction-loss, reducing the water pressure, which can decrease the water volume supplied.

Another concern brought before the council was the sewer backing up and not draining like it should in the same addition. Another resident was asking questions about a new construction project and tapping into the city's water main and possibly sewer. The resident was told by the city that he was too far for services based on a manhole's distance from the property. (It must be within 300') There is another manhole located closer to the property that is under the 300' distance.

Residents in Drake's Addition also voiced health complaints about a trailer house that had burned two years ago and remains on the property along with a bunch of personal property that hasn't been removed or disposed of since the fire. City council members insisted that they have been addressing the situation with the land and property owner.

Some of the residents' concerns needed clarification by the city's attorney, but he was not present. The council ended up tabling the issues until their attorney, Todd Wilkinson, could address them at the next regular meeting.

The city council re-approved a variance and building permit, due to a contractor not starting the project before the two expired. Chad Kruse had previously been approved for a variance and building permit on a garage addition he was wanting to add to his residential structure.

The council approved the building permits for three new residential structures. Fred Johnson is building a house and a garage, James Siver is building a residence and Kallie Hubbard was approved to build a new house and carport.

Victoria Albrecht had requested a building permit for a wall and fence. One of the corner pins had not been located, so the city inspector wasn't exactly sure if the plans were in compliance. The council approved the plans if the pin is located and the plans are within approved distances.

The De Smet Event Center Director, Kristy Hubbard, gave report to the council. United Health Care is seeking a contract with the Event Center for use of the workout rooms for members in their organization. The council approved a contract for the health group that could benefit the city and the event center.

nated to the Event Center has arrived. Crews will be working on getting electricity run to the new desk.

Hubbard reported that the city pool closes on Aug. 14. Repair work on the kiddie pool should be taking place in the next two weeks. Work was estimated at between $5,500 and $6,000 and should have the pool ready for next year.

The Event Center has a new employee, Vikki Irvin, Hubbard reported.

The council briefly discussed the requirements for the establishment of a medical cannabis dispensary. They would like to see the hours set up the same as a liquor license, a $5,000 yearly permit would be required, and the establishment would need to meet the zoning restrictions and ordinances. This would still require two readings at the council meeting to pass and become an ordinance.

The Kingsbury County Conservation District had a state forestry representative, John Ball, tell the council that the city needs to remove 100% of their ash trees because the ash borer is on its way to De Smet. Ball said removing the ash trees now would be more financially feasible than after a tree has been infested with the borer. If the ash trees were removed from the parks and various areas, a diversity of trees, perhaps twenty different types of trees, should be used Ball recommended.

The city had a few items designated as surplus. The council opened bids on for 1978 Ford truck with a 1975 Falls #311 plow and undetermined mileage. Jake Vincent won the items with a bid of $1,600. Seven surplus wood library chairs were appraised at $10 apiece and set for sale. The chairs are no longer available.

OTHER BUSINESS

• An update on the water looping project reports that the deadline for the crews to finish is Friday the 13th. A final walkthrough will be done by IMEG.

• Rollo Peterson is having a tool sale on Sept. 11 starting at 8 a.m. and requested to block 2nd Street from west of Evelyn Twite's to August Mundhenke's. They would make it so the postal carriers shouldn't have any problems in accessing the area.

• The Restricted Use Site has customers who prefer to be billed for its use. The city is required to pay postage, use an envelope, and print out an invoice and use a clerk's time for those uses. Some of the bills can be as low as $5. The council approved that only commercial businesses and contractors can be billed in the future.

• $19,071.02 was approved for pay out on work already completed on the water looping project.

• Helmes and Associate requested a $5,686.10 pay request for the turnaround project, and it was approved.

• Only one person earned overtime for the city in July, and that was to spray for mosquitos.

• Stoddard was approved to attend a Water and Wastewater Conference Sept. 15-17 in Rapid City. It is an annual conference and allows him to earn continuing education hours to maintain his certifications.

How to deal with our stinky neighbors

SPRING OF THE YEAR means wildlife start roaming and often end up as unwelcome guests in or near our homes. One of the most unwelcome guests are skunks!

Sometime the homestead attraction is a food source but often shelter of some kind is provided in barns or under outbuildings. They may burrow under porches or buildings, and they dig in gardens and lawns searching for insects and grubs. They make 3-4-inch cone-shaped holes on lawns when digging for grubs. Skunks occasionally kill poultry and eat eggs. The primary natural food source for skunks is mice. They also eat eggs of ground nesting birds such as pheasants and ducks. Skunks have distinctive tracks with five toes on both the front and hind feet. Claw marks are usually visible. You can usually identify skunk droppings by the undigested insect parts they contain.

Skunks are a primary carrier of rabies. A skunk acting unusually aggressive and active during the day may have rabies and should be approached with caution.

Around homes there are usually 2 kinds of skunk problems: before-spray and after-spray. Our desire is to keep the first kind from turning into the second kind! No matter where you encounter a skunk, keep in mind skunks will only spray at a perceived threat. Standing still or moving v-e-r-y slowly is the best way to avoid being a threat to a skunk. Skunks cope with a threat in 3 ways. First, they will raise their tail and run away from the threat. Second, they will stomp their front feet or face their hind end at the threat. And we know what the third (and stinkiest) defense is!

To solve a skunk problem, begin by removing pet food, garbage, and any other food attractions. It may be necessary to implement a rodent control program to eliminate this important food source.

Stack lumber at least two feet off the ground to discourage skunks from using them as shelter. Plug all openings under buildings with wire mesh, sheet metal or concrete. Bury fencing 1 foot into the ground where skunks might gain access by digging. Bending another 6 six inches outward at the bottom will make the buried fence more effective. Be sure to close doors at night and cover window wells or similar pits with mesh fencing.

If a skunk is already established under a building, you must take care not to enclose it inside. The only thing worse than a skunk under your house is a dead skunk under your house! Sprinkling a layer of baking flour in front of the entrance the night before it is closed off will allow you to observe tracks. Close off the hole if there are no tracks or if the tracks are exiting only. If the skunk is very persistent and digs the ground around the hole trying to re-enter, there may be young inside, and you would not want to lock them in.

There are no registered repellents for skunks. Mothballs and ammonia-soaked clothes have been used as temporary repellents for skunks. Because of the great amount needed and the necessity to replace often, these are only very temporary solutions.

Skunks can be removed from an area by trapping them. Because of the odor problems inherent in trapping skunks, cage live-traps are usually preferred to foothold traps. Remember to check regulations before using any type of trap.

Canned, fish-flavored cat food is the best bait for skunks. Before setting the live trap, cover it with canvas to reduce the chances of the trapped skunk discharging its scent. Always approach a trap slowly and quietly so you do not upset a trapped skunk. If you plan to release a trapped skunk, take it at least 10 miles from the trap site. Skunks can be euthanized by drowning them while they are still in the cage trap.

Skunks that fall in window wells

No matter where you encounter a skunk, keep in mind skunks will only spray at a perceived threat. Standing still or moving v-e-r-y slowly is the best way to avoid being a threat to a skunk. Skunks cope with a threat in 3 ways. First, they will raise their tail and run away from the threat. Second, they will stomp their front feet or face their hind end at the threat. or pits should be allowed to remove themselves by climbing a cleated board. Nail one-inch by two-inch cleats, six inches apart to a board and slowly lower it into the well. You might want to give the skunk plenty of time and space to allow it to leave the area peacefully!

The scent discharged by a skunk is persistent and difficult to remove. A solution of tomato juice will work, but a better formula has been developed to neutralize skunk odor. Mix one quart of three percent hydrogen peroxide with one-quarter cup baking soda and one teaspoon of liquid soap. Hydrogen peroxide is available from pharmacies. Soak the area, or pet, to be treated with water, scrub with the mixture and then rinse again in warm water. This solution may cause bleaching. Use cautiously because it may turn your black lab into a chocolate lab!

If the scent is discharged in a room or under a building and the yellow discharge cannot be washed away, ventilate the area to speed up dissipation of the scent. Use ventilation fans to improve air circulation.

Skunks are a very valuable part of the wildlife community. Generally, we can let them go about in their natural habitat and they will cause us no trouble. However, when we do cross paths with skunks, taking the proper steps will help us avoid an odorous problem!

First day of school

“FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL! Wake up! Come on. First day of school,” the little fish shouts at his dad in the opening scene of “Finding Nemo.” The first day of school is an important transition for students of all ages, and it is often a challenging one. That is particularly true this fall as we start yet another academic year marked by the pandemic.

THE PRAIRIE DOC

DEBRA JOHNSTON, M.D.

Parents have an important role in preparing their children for a successful school year. First, start adjusting the schedule. Many families relax the rules during the summer and may be in the habit of staying up late and sleeping in. Make sure your child has time to adjust to their school year routine before that first day. Second, develop good habits by acting ahead. Having the backpack ready and clothing laid out the night before saves scrambling in the morning and reduces the risk of forgotten items. Invite your children to help decide if they want school lunch or a sack lunch and let them help pack their lunch boxes.

Back to school checkups for your children provide a valuable opportunity to talk to the doctor about physical, developmental and social changes. Additionally, children may need immunizations: boosters for tetanus and pertussis, or shots to protect them from HPV, meningitis and COVID.

The COVID vaccine is available to those age 12 and over, and I urge parents to schedule those shots if your child is eligible! Although in general children are less likely than adults to end up in the hospital with COVID, we do see previously healthy children become seriously ill and suffer complications. The jury is still out on whether the Delta variant is more dangerous to children than previous variants, but we do know this variant is more contagious, which means more people fall ill. Infected children can spread the virus to other people who may be more likely to develop serious illness. There are still many people who are not eligible for the vaccine, who have chosen not to get the vaccine or whose vaccine may not be as effective as hoped due to underlying health conditions.

Many children feel nervous about the start of school, and those jitters may be worse this year due to the pandemic. Talk to your children about their concerns. Help them work through “what ifs”: What if I forget to wash my hands? What if I start coughing during school? What if I forget my homework? Most adults have had practice dealing with these experiences in the moment, but we, too, can benefit from mental rehearsals. Become familiar with your school district’s plan for controlling and responding to the pandemic so you can help your child with changing conditions.

With a little preparation, we can reduce stress, set our kids up for a successful year and help them be as excited as Nemo to start school!

KINGSBURY COUNTY BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT
UNAPPROVED DRAFT MINUTES

The Kingsbury County Commission convened acting as the Board of Adjustment on Tuesday, August 3, 2021, at 9:34 A.M. in the Courtroom of the Courthouse in De Smet, South Dakota, for the purpose of considering the Variance application of Chris and Kristol Erickson, of Sioux Falls, SD, to place a manufactured home older than 15 years on Lot 10, Block 2, South Bay Addition in Gov. Lots 4 and 5 of Section 15 Township 112 North, Range 53 West, Kingsbury County, South Dakota. Board members present were Roger Walls, Kyle Lee, Doug Kazmerzak, and Corey Lundquist. Also attending was Joe Jensen, Planning and Zoning officer and Gary Schumacher, State's Attorney.

Chairman Walls presided.

The Board entered its findings as follows:

No one in attendance was a proponent for the variance. Several letters of opposition had been received prior to the hearing which were added to the file. Jens Holms was present on behalf of the South Bay Housing Association.

Jensen provided information that the application is not complete. Per Ordinance 6.05, #2, the applicant was asked to notify neighboring property owners of the hearing date and time by certified mail. Nothing had been added to the file to show this was done. There were other points discussed that would be against the current Manufactured Home Ordinance and the South Bay Homeowners Association covenants.

Jensen recommended the denial of the variance to the Board.

Kazmerzak moved and Lundquist seconded to deny the Variance due to no written consent from neighbors. All present voting aye - 4, nay - 0, abstain - 0. Motion carried.

MINUTES

Lee moved and Lundquist seconded to approve the minutes of July 20, 2021. All present voting aye - 4, nay - 0, abstain - 0. Motion carried.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords parents and students who are 18 years of age or older ("eligible students") certain rights with respect to the student's education records. These rights are:

Public Notices

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days after the day the Lake Preston School receives a request for access.

Parents or eligible students who wish to inspect their child's or their education records should submit to the school principal a written request that identifies the records they wish to inspect. The school official will make arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the parent or eligible student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA.

Parents or eligible students who wish to ask the Lake Preston School to amend their child's or their education record should write the school principal, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed and specify why it should be changed. If the school decides not to amend the record as requested by the parent or eligible student, the school will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the parent or eligible student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to provide written consent before the school discloses personally identifiable information (PII) from the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception, which permits disclosure without consent, is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. The criteria for determining who constitutes a school official and what constitutes a legitimate educational interest must be set forth in the school's or school district's annual notification for FERPA rights. A school official typically includes a person employed by the school or school district as an administrator, supervisor, instructor, or support staff member (including health or medical staff and law enforcement unit personnel) or a person serving on the school board. A school official also may include a volunteer, contractor, or consultant who, while not employed by the school, performs an institutional service or function for which the school would otherwise use its own employees and who is under the direct control of the school with respect to the use and maintenance of PII from education records, such as an attorney, auditor, medical consultant, or therapist; a parent or student volunteering to serve on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee; or a parent, student, or other volunteer assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official typically has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the Lake Preston School to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA are:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education 400
Maryland Avenue, SW Washington,
DC 20202

MODEL NOTICE FOR DIRECTORY INFORMATION

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), a Federal law, requires that the Lake Preston School District with certain exceptions, obtain your written consent prior to the disclosure of personally identifiable information from your child's education records. However, Lake Preston School District may disclose appropriately designated "directory information" without written consent, unless you have advised the District to the contrary in accordance with District procedures. The primary purpose of directory information is to allow the Lake Preston School District to include this type of information from your child's education records in certain school publications. Examples include:

- A playbill, showing your student's role in a drama production;
- The annual yearbook;
- Honor roll or other recognition lists;
- Graduation programs; and
- Sports activity sheets, such as for wrestling, showing weight and height of team members.

Directory information, which is information that is generally not considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if released, can also be disclosed to outside organizations without a parent's prior written consent. Outside organizations include, but are not limited to, companies that manufacture class rings or publish yearbooks. In addition, two federal laws require local educational agencies (LEAs) receiving assistance under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA) to provide military recruiters, upon request, with the following information – names, addresses and telephone listings – unless parents have advised the LEA that they do not want their student's information disclosed without their prior written consent.

If you do not want Lake Preston School District to disclose any or all of the types of information designated below as directory information from your child's education records without your prior written consent, you must notify the Lake Preston School District in writing by the first day of school. Lake Preston School District has designated the following information as directory information:

- Student's name
- Address
- Telephone listing
- Electronic mail address
- Photograph
- Date and place of birth
- Major field of study
- Dates of attendance
- Grade level
- Participation in officially recognized activities and sports
- Weight and height of members of athletic teams
- Degrees, honors, and awards received
- The most recent educational agency or institution attended
- Student ID number, user ID, or other unique personal identifier used to communicate in electronic systems that cannot be used to access education records without a PIN, password, etc. (A student's SSN, in whole or in part, cannot be used for this purpose.)
- A student ID number or other unique personal identifier that is displayed on a student ID badge, but only if the identifier cannot be used to gain access to education records except when used in conjunction with one or more factors that authenticate the user's identity, such as a PIN, password, or other factor known or possessed only by the authorized user.

PROTECTION OF PUPIL RIGHTS AMENDMENT (PPRA)

What is the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA)?

The Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA) applies to the programs and activities of a state education agency (SEA), local education agency (LEA), or other recipient of funds under any program funded by the U.S. Department of Education. It governs the administration to students of a survey, analysis, or evaluation that concerns one or more of the following eight protected areas:

1. political affiliations or beliefs of the student or the student's parent;
2. mental or psychological problems of the student or the student's family;
3. sex behavior or attitudes;
4. illegal, anti-social, self-incriminating, or demeaning behavior;
5. critical appraisals of other individuals with whom respondents have close family relationships;
6. legally recognized privileged or analogous relationships, such as those of lawyers, physicians, and ministers;
7. religious practices, affiliations, or beliefs of the student or student's parent; or
8. income (other than that required by law to determine eligibility for participation in a program or for receiving financial assistance under such program).

PPRA also concerns marketing surveys and other areas of student privacy, parental access to information, and the administration of certain physical examinations to minors. The rights under PPRA transfer from the parents to a student who is 18 years old or an emancipated minor under state law.

What policies must a local education agency (LEA) develop under the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA)?

The Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA) requires that local education agencies (LEAs), in consultation with parents, develop the following local policies concerning student privacy, parents' access to information, and administration of certain physical examinations to minors:

- The right of a parent of a student to inspect, upon the request of the parent, a survey created by a third party before the survey is administered or distributed by a school to a student, and any applicable procedures for granting a request by a parent for reasonable access to the survey within a reasonable period of time after the request is received;
- Arrangements to protect student privacy that are provided by the LEA in the event of the administration or distribution of a survey to a student containing one or more of the eight protected areas of information;
- The right of a parent or student to inspect, upon the request of the parent, any instructional material used as part of the educational curriculum for the student, and any applicable procedures for granting a request by a parent for reasonable access to instructional material within a reasonable period of time after the request is received;
- The administration of physical examinations or screenings that the school or LEA may administer to a student;

- The collection, disclosure, or use of personal information collected from students for the purpose of marketing or for selling that information, or otherwise providing that information to others for that purpose, including arrangements to protect student privacy that are provided by the LEA in the event of such collection, disclosure, or use;
- The right of a parent of a student to inspect, upon request, any instrument used in the collection of personal information (a student or parent's first and last name, a home or other physical address, a telephone number, or a Social Security identification number) before the instrument is administered or distributed to a student, and any applicable procedures for granting a request by a parent for reasonable access to such instrument within a reasonable period of time after the request is received.

What types of notification do local educational agencies (LEAs), i.e., school districts, have to make to parents about the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA)? There are three types of notification an LEA must provide parents and students. The first one is a general notification of their rights under PPRA.

The second notice is a notification of specific events. The following activities require notification:

- Activities involving the collection, disclosure, or use of personal information collected from students for marketing purposes or for selling that information, or otherwise providing it to others for that purpose;
- The administration of any survey containing one or more of the eight protected areas listed above; and
- Any nonemergency, invasive physical examination or screening that is: (1) required as a condition of attendance; (2) administered by the school and scheduled by the school in advance; and (3) not necessary to protect the immediate health and safety of the student, or of other students.

The third notice is a notification of the policies LEAs are required to develop, in consultation with parents, under PPRA. The LEA shall provide the notice at least annually, at the beginning of the school year, and within a reasonable period of time after any substantive change in the policies.

MODEL NOTIFICATION OF RIGHTS UNDER THE PROTECTION OF PUPIL RIGHTS AMENDMENT (PPRA)

PPRA affords parents of elementary and secondary students certain rights regarding the conduct of surveys, collection and use of information for marketing purposes, and certain physical exams. These include, but are not limited to, the right to:

- Consent before students are required to submit to a survey that concerns one or more of the following protected areas ("protected information survey") if the survey is funded in whole or in part by a program of the U.S. Department of Education (ED)–

 1. Political affiliations or beliefs of the student or student's parent;
 2. Mental or psychological problems of the student or student's family;
 3. Sex behavior or attitudes;
 4. Illegal, anti-social, self-incriminating, or demeaning behavior;

- 5. Critical appraisals of others with whom respondents have close family relationships;
- 6. Legally recognized privileged relationships, such as with lawyers, doctors, or ministers;
- 7. Religious practices, affiliations, or beliefs of the student or parents; or
- 8. Income, other than as required by law to determine program eligibility.

• Receive notice and an opportunity to opt a student out of –

- 1. Any other protected information survey, regardless of funding;
- 2. Any non-emergency, invasive physical exam or screening required as a condition of attendance, administered by the school or its agent, and not necessary to protect the immediate health and safety of a student, except for hearing, vision, or scoliosis screenings, or any physical exam or screening permitted or required under State law; and
- 3. Activities involving collection, disclosure, or use of personal information obtained from students for marketing or to sell or otherwise distribute the information to others.

• Inspect, upon request and before administration or use –

- 1. Protected information surveys of students;
- 2. Instruments used to collect personal information from students for any of the above marketing, sales, or other distribution purposes; and
- 3. Instructional material used as part of the educational curriculum.

These rights transfer from the parents to a student who is 18 years old or an emancipated minor under State law.

Lake Preston School District has adopted policies, in consultation with parents, regarding these rights, as well as arrangements to protect student privacy in the administration of protected information surveys and the collection, disclosure, or use of personal information for marketing, sales, or other distribution purposes. Lake Preston School District will directly notify parents of these policies at least annually at the start of each school year and after any substantive changes. Lake Preston School District will also directly notify, such as through U.S. Mail or email, parents of students who are scheduled to participate in the specific activities or surveys noted below and will provide an opportunity for the parent to opt his or her child out of participation of the specific activity or survey. Lake Preston School District will make this notification to parents at the beginning of the school year if the District has identified the specific or approximate dates of the activities or surveys at that time. For surveys and activities scheduled after the school year starts, parents will be provided reasonable notification of the planned activities and surveys listed below and be provided an opportunity to opt their child out of such activities and surveys. Parents will also be provided an opportunity to review any pertinent surveys. Following is a list of the specific activities and surveys covered under this requirement:

- Collection, disclosure, or use of personal information for marketing, sales or other distribution.
- Administration of any protected information survey not funded in whole or in part by ED.
- Any non-emergency, invasive physical examination or screening as described above. Parents who believe their rights have been violated may file a complaint with: Family Policy Compliance Office U.S. Department of Education 400 Maryland Avenue, SW Washington, D.C. 20202-5901

IROQUOIS NEWS

1941: Bob's Cafe closing after 8 months in business

August 17, 1911

The Great Northern has filed a petition with the railroad commission asking permission to close its stations at Osceola and Bancroft. Of course, the residents of the towns mentioned will fight this proposition to the bitter end, and we sincerely hope they will win.

Talk is cheap, and from the reports circulated in other states, one might think all the homesteaders west of the Missouri were leaving their claims. That said, homesteads could be bought for a song, but this is far from the truth. A traveling man in Arlington last week, who had just come from a trip west of the river and who said he went out to pick up some of these snaps, found none could be bought. He says the few that want to sell hold their land at a good price – at the figure it is really worth. He found the homesteaders hanging to their land. – Arlington Sun

A new cement sidewalk is being laid in front of the Hotel La Crescent property. R. S. Warner is doing the work.

August 20, 1931

The ice cream social and kittenball tournament at the John Wallace farm south of Iroquois Sunday, under the direction of the St. Paul Church, was a successful event and drew a large crowd. The ladies sold refreshments during the day and served lunch in the evening. The Iroquois team won two games, defeating the Ball Ramblers, 9 to 7 and the Jerry Frahm Sluggers 4 to 1. The Esmond girls team defeated both Iroquois and Yale.

A feeble attempt was made to deliver a little moisture Sunday night, but it proved a fizzle. Less than three-quarters of an inch of rain has fallen in Iroquois since June 30, nearly two months.

Glen Richards has purchased of the Farmers and Merchants State Bank the residence property one door south of the H. J. Meyer residence and is repairing it preparatory to moving in. The residence to be vacated by the Richards' family will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hollenbeck.

August 21, 1941

The delightfully cool weather following the prolonged intense heat, which covered a period of four weeks, was heartily welcomed by a perspiring public. When the weather behaves itself, life in South Dakota is well worth living.

At the regular meeting of the Community Service Club Monday night, it was voted that the club again sponsor a teachers' reception to be held during the second week of September. Committees will be appointed to handle this matter, and further details will appear in a later issue.

Bob's Café went out of business last Thursday after operating eight months in this city; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson moving here from Yale last December. Bob left for the west coast a few weeks ago after which Mrs. Johnson took complete charge but decided to close the café and accept a job in Brookings. Mrs. Johnson and children left for that city Friday morning.

Iroquois School District ready to start school

BY JAMES JESSER
Kingsbury Journal

Iroquois School District held an Open House on Aug. 10. It was a busy evening for the teachers, parents and scholars. With over 180 in attendance, Ben Machtemes, IHS graduate, and his Buenísimo crew were busy serving everyone supper. The scholars unpacked their backpacks, checked out their chrome books and schedules and met their new teachers.

Horizon Health Care was on hand to assist with permission slips. The Iroquois Booster Club served watermelon.

A bouncy house, snow cones and yard games were available for the families to enjoy.

HOSA members attended to recruit new members and answer questions about their many upcoming activities.

Upon reregistering, the students received a Chiefs koozie, pencil and sports schedule and became eligible for a cash prize drawing.

BULLDOG FOOTBALL: 'It all starts with discipline', head coach Brendon Pitts

THE NEW COACH

Brendon Pitts grew up around Oldham and graduated from Oldham-Ramona High School in 2014. He played center and a guard on the offense while he was there. He continued to coach as an assistant at Oldham-Ramona for five years. He attended Dakota State University earning a degree in business education.

In 2018, he began teaching for De Smet. He teaches technology and business classes and assists with the technology coordinator.

"I'm here to teach and coach," said Pitts. "I've always loved coaching and working with junior high and high school kids in sports."

Pitts feels an exciting aspect of coaching football is putting the kids in positions where they can succeed the most. The football coaching staff is a team helping a team, and Pitts enjoys being part of a team and doing what he can to help them out, whether it be the football team or the coaching team.

"There's always ways to improve." Pitts said. "As a coach or as an individual, I'm always looking at new things or listening to ideas to help me improve as a coach."

Pitts' past coaches have taught him many lessons. One lesson that he carries to this day is to never quit, no matter what.

"There are going to be ups and downs every season, every game. You have got to stick together as a team and do the best you can and work towards a positive outcome."

"Discipline is a huge part of success in every sport," said Pitts. "In football there's a lot of different aspects, and everyone has their own responsibilities on the field. If they're disciplined about it, the game plan comes together. It all starts with discipline."

Athletic ability is a key factor for players, but Pitts finds that having determination, wanting to play, wanting to better oneself and wanting to work hard are more important than talent.

"It starts with hard work; giving it all you got in practice offseason, and in games 110%. Being a team player and being willing to do whatever helps the team most," said Pitts about being an excellent player.

The Bulldogs will see all their skilled players returning this year. Pitts said Kadyn Fast is an up-and-coming player.

"He will be a sophomore this year. He got some big carries for the varsity last year. So, we'll be looking for him to contribute, too."

Offensively and defensively, it sounds good for the Bulldogs.

Their first challenge will be against Wolsey-Wessington this Friday in Brookings. They were the state champs last season and only had one loss for the season.

The second week sees the Bulldogs playing the Raiders from Oldham-Ramona/Rutland, Pitts' alma mater. Pitts said they will be really good this year.

"We have got to take it game by game and day by day and make it our goal every week to just focus on what's ahead for that week."

"I'm excited for the season," said Coach Pitts. "The kids have really been working hard, they have had a really good offseason, a lot of kids are in the weight room getting better. The kids are very excited for the football season to start. We got a tough game right off the start against with Wolsey-Wessington, but we will be ready to go Friday."

Season kicks off at Dykhouse Stadium

BY MIKE SIEFKER
Kingsbury Journal

The De Smet football team will be under a new head coach this season. Brendon Pitts was the junior high football head coach and has taken on the challenge of being the high school head football coach. He will be assisted by Mark Birkel and three volunteer assistants, Andy Armstead, Dan Wilkinson and Dustin Olson.

The Bulldogs kick off their new season Friday night under the lights at the Dana J. Dykhouse Stadium on the South Dakota State University Campus in Brookings. Gates open at 6 p.m., and the game starts at 7 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults, $5 for students K-12, and there will be no annual pass admission.

Those attending the football game are advised to park on the westside lot, and De Smet Fans will sit be seated in Sections 104, 105, and 106. Concessions stands on the west side will be open.

The De Smet Bulldogs will be challenging last year's champions, the Wolsey-Wessington Warbirds. This should prove to be an exciting start to a great season.
