Sharing a laugh for LAF

$24,000 raised for Lebanon Area Foundation at comedy show

BETH DURREMAN
BETHD@LACLEDERECORD.COM

The Lebanon Area Foundation raised about $24,000 at its second annual Dinner and Comedy Night Friday at the Cowan Civic Center.

LAF and Community Cares Administrator Melinda Fries estimated 215 people were in attendance.

"We had a wonderful turnout for the second annual Dinner and Comedy Night. We had 20 different sponsor tables, five reserved tables, and quite a few general admission ticket holders," said Fries.

Fries said she enjoyed greeting everyone at the door and "seeing hundreds of smiling faces, ready to eat, laugh and shop the silent auction tables and support Community Cares."

The Lebanon Area Foundation established Community Cares 23 years ago, to help fund

Council approves Olsson engineering to prepare new city master plan

STEVE SMITH
SSMITH@LACLEDERECORD.COM

The Lebanon City Council Monday night approved a contract with an engineering company to help produce a new master plan.

The Council agreed to contract with Olsson of Springfield to produce the plan at a cost of approximately $125,000.

The agreement calls for Olsson to assist the council and staff in creating Lebanon 2040, which is described as "an overall comprehensive plan for our community." The plan will establish "long term goals and vision,"

City Administrator Mike Schumacher said.

The city advertised a request for proposals twice and received one submission from Olsson, he said.

"While we would have preferred to receive additional proposals, we also felt Olsson produced an excellent product with the Parks Master Plan," he said in a memo to the Council.

Councilwoman Sheila Mitchell cast the sole dissenting vote against the contract. Mitchell said the city already had a contract with a company to do citizen surveys and also said she believed the city itself could have handled a lot of the legwork.

"Personally I'm getting tired of paying other people to do things for a large sum of money. I just feel responsible for citizens' tax dollars," she said.

Schumacher said the surveys were a way for the city to measure the services the city is offering today in the short term. "Lebanon 2040 is just that, where are we going? Where are we going to be in 2040?" he said.

The plan will help the city determine more

Attorney General announces judgment against former Lebanon car dealer

KATELYNNE WAGERS
KWAGERS@LACLEDERECORD.COM

In March of 2022, Lebanon car salesman Marcus James Hill was charged with 13 violations of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act relating to his two car dealerships, Variety Auto Sales and Hilltop Auto Sales.

These charges alleged that Hill falsely promised consumers they would receive proper title and warranties with their purchase of a used car however, Hill would fail to provide these items and in one instance, failed to provide the vehicle entirely.

According to a press release from the Missouri Attorney General's office, Attorney General Andrew Bailey announced his office has obtained a judgement for $27,000 against Variety Auto Sales as of April 20.

Bailey sought out the judgement in an attempt to recoup losses for Missourians who purchased cars and never received certificates of title or promised warranty work.

Bailey said, "As Attorney General, I will always work to hold those who attempt to rip off innocent Mis-sourians accountable. This result is a testament to the diligent work my Consumer Protection Unit puts in to protect consumers throughout the state."

Hill is currently incarcerated in the Laclede County Jail on the 13 felony counts of unlawful business practices. This judgement is in connection to these charges. No court date has been released as of April 24, 2023.

According to the press release, Missourians who believe they

William “Bill” Harrill

OF LEBANON, MISSOURI

William Donald “Bill” Harrill, son of William Lafayette “Bill” and Clara Belle (Peterson) Harrill, was born June 20, 1930, near Falcon, and departed this life on April 23, 2023, at the age of ninety-two years.

He was united in marriage with Vera Lee Mitchell on Nov. 8, 1951, and together they shared 71 years of love and laughter while raising their four children.

Bill served in the United States Navy on the destroyer U.S.S. Benham during the Korean War. Bill earned his Bachelor’s Degree in Electrical Engineering from Missouri School of Mines, now Missouri University of Science and Technology in Rolla. He worked for Sinclair Oil Company in Independence, Kan.; later for Atlantic Richfield Oil Company in Chicago, Tulsa, and Los Angeles; and for Alyeska Pipeline in Anchorage and Valdez. After working for Alyeska as part of the crew that built the communications system for the Alaska pipeline, he retired to the family farm and raised cattle.

Bill and Vera always made it a point to find a church home every place they lived. He was saved and baptized at Antioch Baptist Church, Lebanon, Missouri.

He enjoyed fishing for salmon and halibut while in Alaska. He played baseball and softball, and was a very good softball pitcher. He liked to play cribbage and rook. Bill worked hard because he liked to work and to provide for his family. He taught them the importance of sheer stubbornness. He worked hard to keep the farm a place the family could come, spend time, and make lasting memories.

Bill is survived by: his wife, Vera of Lebanon; children: Bruce Harrill and wife Madonna of Laquey; Joy Thompson and husband Randy of Anchorage; Sherri Harrill of Lebanon; and Sandy Harrill and wife Deborah of Philadelphia; grandchildren: Arthur Harrill and partner Amy Berry, Chancey Thompson and wife Marianne; Cody Thompson and partner Ashley Brevak; and Mitchell Harrill-Wright; great-grandchildren: Harry and Clara Thompson; brother: Stanley Harrill and wife Debbie of Lebanon; sisters: Linda Harrill of Lebanon; Gloria Lackey of Bessemer City, N.C., and many more relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents; two brothers, Tommy and Howard; two sisters, Peggy Palmer and Ree McElvaney.

He was deeply loved and will be forever remembered by all who knew and loved him.

A memorial service for William “Bill” Harrill will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 29, 2023, at Shadel’s Colonial Chapel. Burial will be in Goodwin Cemetery with military honors provided by the United States Navy. Visitation will be at 5 p.m. Friday at Shadel’s Colonial Chapel. Stoutland Tidbits: Spring gets ready for summer

MARIE BROWN

Spring is getting ready for summer in the community of Stoutland.

Saturday, May 6 is the town's free trash pick-up day. There will be a community yard sale on Saturday, May 6 at the school parking lot.

Stoutland Baptist Church will be working with the town council to make repairs to playground equipment and to do grounds clean-up at the City Park.

The Town Board meets Monday, May 1-plan to attend and get involved in trying to find a way to better our community.

It looks like several properties in town have had a cleanup project started. This is a good thing. (There are several what appears to be abandoned properties.)

The railroad has made significant repairs to the railroad tracks. Many have complained about the inconvenience of the repairs, however, the town of Stoutland does receive some monies from the railroad.

Stoutland School will have preschool screening on Thursday and Friday (April 27 and 28) by appointment.

The Stoutland Senior Center will have a Pork Steak Dinner and Silent Auction on Saturday, April 29.

This Saturday, the 29th there will be a one day Women's Conference at the Baptist Camp-there is still time to register. Come hear speakers Angelia Carpenter and Valerie Howe (and much more).

Hats off to Cheryl Cluney for leading a fun packed Quilling Class at the Stoutland Library last Thursday evening. Eighteen ladies attended the workshop and

May 11 (Thursday) Poet Nancy LaChance will be at the Stoutland Library. She will be speaking to the group. The group will have the opportunity to make a card and write some poetry. It should be a fun evening.

The National Day of Prayer is Thursday, May 4. Stoutland Baptist will be having a special prayer service that evening at the church. It is open to all that wish to come and pray for our community and nation.

It has been a very busy week and this week is to be just as busy.

I had several meetings and appointments last week, one of which I forgot. It was sort of important. I made it to the meeting about an hour late.

My niece, Denise and I went to the Lake on Friday afternoon. After some shopping we had dinner out and of course, we saw some Stoutlanders. You never go too far before you meet someone you know.

I had lunch with two nieces, Hillary and Hannah, and six of their seven children at Cuba on Saturday. After lunch I went to the Meramec Music Theater in Steelville for a concert.

The cooler weather and my much too busy schedule has put a damper on yard work. I am working on a garden such as it has the potential to be. I am doing raised beds this year for the veggies. I did the mulch around the trees so that I will not have so much to hand trim.

It is always happy gardening, however,

I must confess, that it takes less time to get tired. After an afternoon of outside jobs-I feel like I have been run over by a bulldozer. I might be slower than I was a few years ago-but I am not going to stop!

My pet peeve for the week. I do not mind checking out my own merchandise at the stores. However, if that is what each of the mega shops are pushing, then they should have enough self-check stations open for the shoppers. The waiting lines are long. In addition, if they deem it necessary to check my purchases as I leave their establishment, then they need to go back to checking us out. If I cannot be trusted, then I should not be self-checking. Just saying!

Have a great week full of grace and hope.

Fries said "Of course, this fundraiser wouldn't have been possible without our sponsors. We are grateful to Mercy Hospital of Lebanon for stepping up as our Title Sponsor this year. Mercy Hospital Lebanon is a wonderful partner that genuinely cares about our community and believes in the mission of Neighbors Helping Neighbors."

The Gold Level Sponsors included Missouri Cooperage, Emerson, Laclede Electric Cooperative, and Central Trust Company.

Following a meal catered by Vidies Catering, comedian Terry Wayne Sanders entertained with his impersonations of Joan Rivers and Deputy Barney Fife.

The highlight of the comedy show was when LAF Board Member and Treasurer, Joe Knapp joined Sanders as Deputy Barney Fife, on stage to do a rendition of the "Copper Clapper Caper" from a 1968 Johnny Carson Tonight Show. The audience gave an enthusiastic round of applause for their own local Knapp and the Branson comedian Sanders.

Fries said, "LAF cannot do what we do without all our incredible partners. We were able to raise approximately $24,000 for Community Cares at this year's Dinner and Comedy Night. That is a lot of love for our local nonprofits!"

She said Crafted Lebanon Strong is expected to "draw visitors who may not be aware of all Downtown Lebanon has to offer and our businesses may choose to offer their own special welcome. Attendees and regular customers are encouraged to park in the back lots by the railroad tracks, on side streets, and in commercial lots of businesses not open on the weekends. Man charged in Rainwater death granted change of venue

LCR STAFF

James Phelps, 60, has been granted a change of venue request by Judge Jill Porter. He is accused of the murder of Cassidy Rainwater in Dallas County from July 2021.

His current charges are first degree murder, first degree kidnapping, and abandonment of a corpse along with his co-defendant Timothy Norton, 58.

The two men were arrested in September, 2021 after authorities received an anonymous tip about Rainwater's whereabouts. She had been missing since July, 25 2021.

While investigating the home, officers found human remains in a freezer located in Phelps's home.

Sheriff Scott Rice of the Dallas County Sheriff's Department in 2021, said Norton confessed to the murder of Rainwater, stating that Phelps had him come over while Cassidy was sleeping so he could have easy access to attack her.

He went on to tell FBI that he held Rainwater down while Phelps strangled her and placed a bag over her head.

Upon the arrest of Phelps, his home was burned to the ground which was deemed as arson by authorities.

Phelps is currently scheduled for a case management hearing on May 19 in Dallas County, after that, all proceedings will take place in Jasper County according to the change of venue request.

Two local fire departments set to receive matching ARPA funds

LCR STAFF

Two local fire departments are among the agencies that will receive grants approved last week by the Missouri Department of Public Safety.

Gov. Mike Parson's office announced last week that 428 grants totaling more than $6.3 million would go to law enforcement, fire service and EMS providers across the state.

Lebanon Fire Department was awarded

$15,640.00.

Lebanon Rural Fire Protection District was awarded $20,000.

Grant funded equipment includes patrol vehicles, mobile data terminals, fire fighter turnout gear, extrication equipment, cardiac monitors, and emergency communications radios. Grants to additional law enforcement, fire service, and EMS agencies are still under review.

To date, a total of 224 fire service agencies have been approved to receive a total of over $3 million for equipment, including turnout gear, extrication equipment, and thermal imaging cameras.

The funding for these public safety grants is made available through the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) and was part of Governor Parson's Fiscal Year 2023 budget plan, according to a press release from Parson's office.

Eligible grant expenditures include equipment, supplies, training/travel, personnel, and benefits. Some equipment may have specific requirements to be eligible for funding. The grants require a local match of 50 percent (for example, if the total cost of a project were $40,000, the local recipient would be responsible for $20,000 and the ARPA share of the grant would be $20,000). Local ARPA grant funds may be utilized for the local match.

Lebanon Lions working to replace Mercy Kids fish tank

STEVE SMITH
SSMITH@LACLEDERECORD.COM

Area Lions Clubs are heading up an effort to replace the fish tank for Mercy Kids patients in Lebanon.

Lebanon Host Lions Club President Debbie Cantrell said the idea started when Lebanon Host Lions Club were delivering the Build-A-Bears that they purchase annually to the Mercy pediatrics cancer St. Jude's area and they discussed Lions Foundation money that is available for a dream or wish.

"It was through that connection that we were able to discover the need that was there," she said.

She said the current fish tank that had been used is 40 years old and in very poor shape.

"They finally had to remove it since we first started our conversation so it's not there at all right now," she said. "Knowing that the fish tank offers a lot of relaxation and some escape for the families and children there, we thought that was something they would really like to replace."

Cantrell said they are being joined by other area Lions clubs in the district for the project.

"Our club is the lead since I'm the Lion that's spearheading everything and we're just $500 short of our $19,000 goal," she said.

The Lions recently raised $5,000 for the project at a fish fry held at the Mills Center last Saturday.

"It started at 4 o'clock and that was right when the weather got horrible," she said. "We had a monsoon but as soon as the weather started clearing, people started coming, we had our auction, State Rep. Jeff Knight volunteered to be our auctioneer, we're so grateful."

She said the next step is to call other clubs and find funds to close the gap.

She plans to submit the grant application by May 1 and is working with Mercy Foundation on the finishing touches.

The plans call for the old tank to be replaced by a 300-gallon freshwater tank.

The tank would be self-feeding, eliminating the need for workers to feed the fish, giving them more time for patient care.

The new tank will be visible by all Mercy Kids patients and their families. Mercy Kids has about 6,000 patients a year and with their families included that would mean exposure to 20,000 to 30,000 people annually.

The new fish tank design allows more visibility from the hallway, providing more exposure to patients and their family members. Some children and patients cannot enter the room because of infection prevention measures.

A sign will describe the fish in the tank and thank the Lions Club for their financial support.

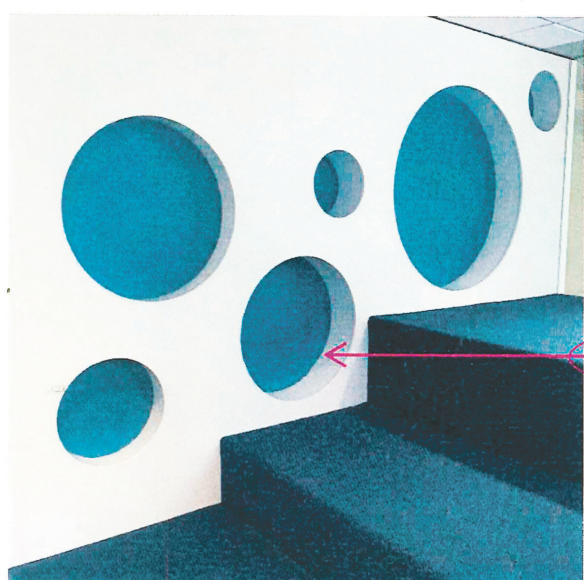

They will submit the grant by May 1 and work would begin soon after. A plaque will be placed acknowledging the Lions' contributions.

"As soon as we fund it, it's going to happen," she said.

If people want to donate, she said if they go over their goal, they will still receive matching funds for the Lions Foundation.

The Lions meet every Wednesday at T's Redneck Steakhouse at noon. The Lions have a Facebook page at Lebanon Host Lion's Club.

Covell Floral Shop provides flowers and more

KWAGERS@LACLEDERECORD.COM

Covell Floral Shop was opened in December 2022 by Kayla Miller and her husband Steven.

Miller grew up in Laquey, graduated from Waynesville High School but has been a Lebanon Local for 10 years now.

Miller said, "When I opened Covell in December, I had $31 to my name. It is a struggle owning a small business and succeeding. I love downtown. When I go to the city, I just want to go downtown and grab a treat and a coffee and walk and shop. That is what I want Lebanon to be."

The name was inspired by her children Cove and Ellis, the first three letters of each of their names make up the name of Covell. The name was also inspired by Miller's love for Paris.

"I love Paris, France. That has been a lot of the idea for Covell. I was there in my early twenties, and I fell in love with little places like this. When I googled Covell I learned it was a French last name and thought that was perfect!"

Covell is more than just flowers though. Miller has taken her dreams of owning a coffee shop, bakery and floral shop and made it a reality.

"The main thing when I opened this store was flowers. I have wanted to be a florist since I was eight or nine. My aunt was a florist and I loved helping her arrange flowers. I have always also wanted to own a flower shop, coffee shop, and bakery that was all in one. My original idea was just flowers until my husband bought an espresso machine and suggested I make drinks."

Miller specializes in floral arrangements for any occasion. "I do daily arrangements, sympathy, pretty much everything. I mostly want to focus on daily arrangements and weddings. I have done two weddings so far and have more scheduled for this year. I love weddings."

The floral arrangements start at $65 and range to $135 however, Miller also does special occasion arrangements for holidays such as Valentine's day or mother's day that usually start around $35.

"I use premium flowers, I don't use your everyday flowers. I use local flowers. Missouri's growing season is the first of April through October so through those months I can buy local for most things. I can still outsource for other things but I am really big on supporting local people first. I have a local family to support so I always try to keep everything within our community or in the surrounding areas."

According to Miller, she had also been running an at-home bakery business before opening Covell and learning the craft of sweet treats.

"I had an at home business where I was making little deserts, pastries and macrons and stuff and we were able to take my daughter to Disney world with that money. So, I decided to just go for it and bring everything I love together."

The coffee the business sells is locally roasted, and they have 11 different flavors to choose from.

Coffee is not all there is to be enjoyed at Covell though, Miller also sells sparklers which are Italian sparkling water with flavoring and fruit, cream sparklers which is like an Italian cream soda, Red bull zingers which is red bull, cream, and flavor, cold brew, tea and tea lattes.

Covell's signature drink is the Pink Tea Latte. "Because it is pink. Everything in here is pink and girly. It is strawberry, dragon fruit and cream and it has rose, white chocolate cold foam on top! It is amazing! I have never had anyone not like it."

Covell had their soft opening for Black Friday in November of 2022 and fully opened their doors in December.

They are now open Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m..

Miller said she has one employee named Hannah who according to her, is super sweet. "If I am not here, she is here!"

They are located at 108 North Madison Ave Unit A, Lebanon, right on the corner. According to Miller, being on the corner of Madison has brought in a lot of customers day to day however, she is needing to get her sign up. "I still don't have my sign up outside because I can't find anyone to make a sign, I am desperately searching for signage."

Covell is a one-stop-shop for everything. They have coffee, baked goods, flower arrangements, and that is just on one side of the store.

The shop is split in two with one side housing the bakery area and the other housing a store. In the store customers can find locally sourced products such as macrame, handmade soaps, clothing, and tropical and rare plants from Fox and Bear which is a Plant business local to Lebanon.

Miller said, "Everything in my shop is from a local person who makes these products and brings it in to sell and support their family."

Miller also mentioned a new product coming to Covell as early as next week that she is really excited about. "We are going to start doing Afternoon Tea Boxes."

An afternoon tea box is as cute as it sounds. A box full of shortbread cookies, macrons, tea, finger sandwiches, and even disposable teacups and plates for a tea party on the go. These boxes will be $35 according to Miller and will be officially announced next Thursday, May 4.

Covell is hosting an Afternoon Tea with Mom event on Saturday, May 13 and she still has a few tickets available. The tickets are $50 for two people and the event will be at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Economically Thinking

By Brian Thompson

Each year around this time, I get the honor and privilege to reach out to several industries to obtain an updated employment number for data collection purposes. It never ceases to amaze me at just how blessed we are in Lebanon and Laclede County to have so many wonderful employers that offer thousands of opportunities to our residents and to those in the surrounding area.

Life is fast as we all know. We drive by places and, after the initial impression, the scenes we see become almost a background that is just "there." You may see dozens upon dozens of boats or other products near one of our key manufacturers and, after that first time moment of seeing them, you stop really grasping what you are seeing.

In reality, you are looking at a product that is made and produced right here in the Lebanon area by thousands of hard-working people. The product will, at some point in time, become the property of someone who could be in our community, a neighboring city a few miles away, another state or even another country. Our workforce literally makes an international impact – every day!

Next time you drive around, please take a moment to think about what you see in a different way. The products you see could literally be made in other places around the globe. Due to our top-notch workforce and the awesome employers that they serve, we get to develop those items right here in Lebanon as opposed to elsewhere.

An upcoming event will hopefully celebrate many of the companies that we have here. It will be called "Crafted Lebanon Strong," an industry showcase to highlight the products made here and the excellent workforce that makes it all possible. The event will take place Saturday, April 29 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Downtown Lebanon across three blocks along Commercial Street (Adams to Jefferson Ave. on the east side and Jefferson to Monroe on the west).

Please make plans to attend to get just a small sense of what is being made here. We hope to see kids experience first-hand what their parents, family members, guardians, or friends do daily to emphasize what makes us the best at what we do. We hope you can join in the celebration on April 29!

Lebanon wins two games at Paul Dudley Wood Bat Classic

ALEX BOYER
ALEX@LACLEDERECORD.COM

The Lebanon High School baseball team competed in the 2023 First State Community Bank Paul Dudley Memorial Wood Bat Classic on Friday and Saturday at Oley Scott Field.

During the wood bat tournament, two pools are divided into eight teams, with four competing at Lebanon and four playing at Camdenton High School. The 'Jackets' pool consisted of Neosho, Nixa, and Marshfield.

In pool play, the 'Jackets' finished 1-2 with losses to Nixa and Marshfield on Friday afternoon but bounced back to defeat the Wildcats 2-1.

It was a pitcher's duel for most of the game as Lebanon got six innings pitched from Josh Zeigenbein as the junior allowed just one earned run during his performance. The Wildcats' Wyatt Shadwick pitched all seven innings, allowing six hits and finishing with no earned runs against him.

The Wildcats took a 1-0 lead in the top of the sixth inning on an RBI double from Austin Rodriguez, but Lebanon responded in a big way as sophomore Braiden Lamontagne doubled down the left field line and was driven in after junior Cole Dustin put a ground ball between the second baseman's legs to tie the game.

In the bottom of the seventh inning, after Dustin came in for relief and allowed no runs, sophomore Chance Cromer drew a one-out walk to bring up junior Hoyt Honey. Honey roped a ball down the left field line as the outfield misplayed the ball and allowed Cromer to score from first base to win the game.

"Our kids battled, and our kids are tired," head coach Alex Weathermon said about his team's performance. "They just kept finding a way to get the job done. I'm proud of them for their effort, and we still have a lot to work on even this late in the season, but pulling out two wins in a tough tournament is something to be proud of."

The win led Lebanon to a matchup against Fatima in bracket play.

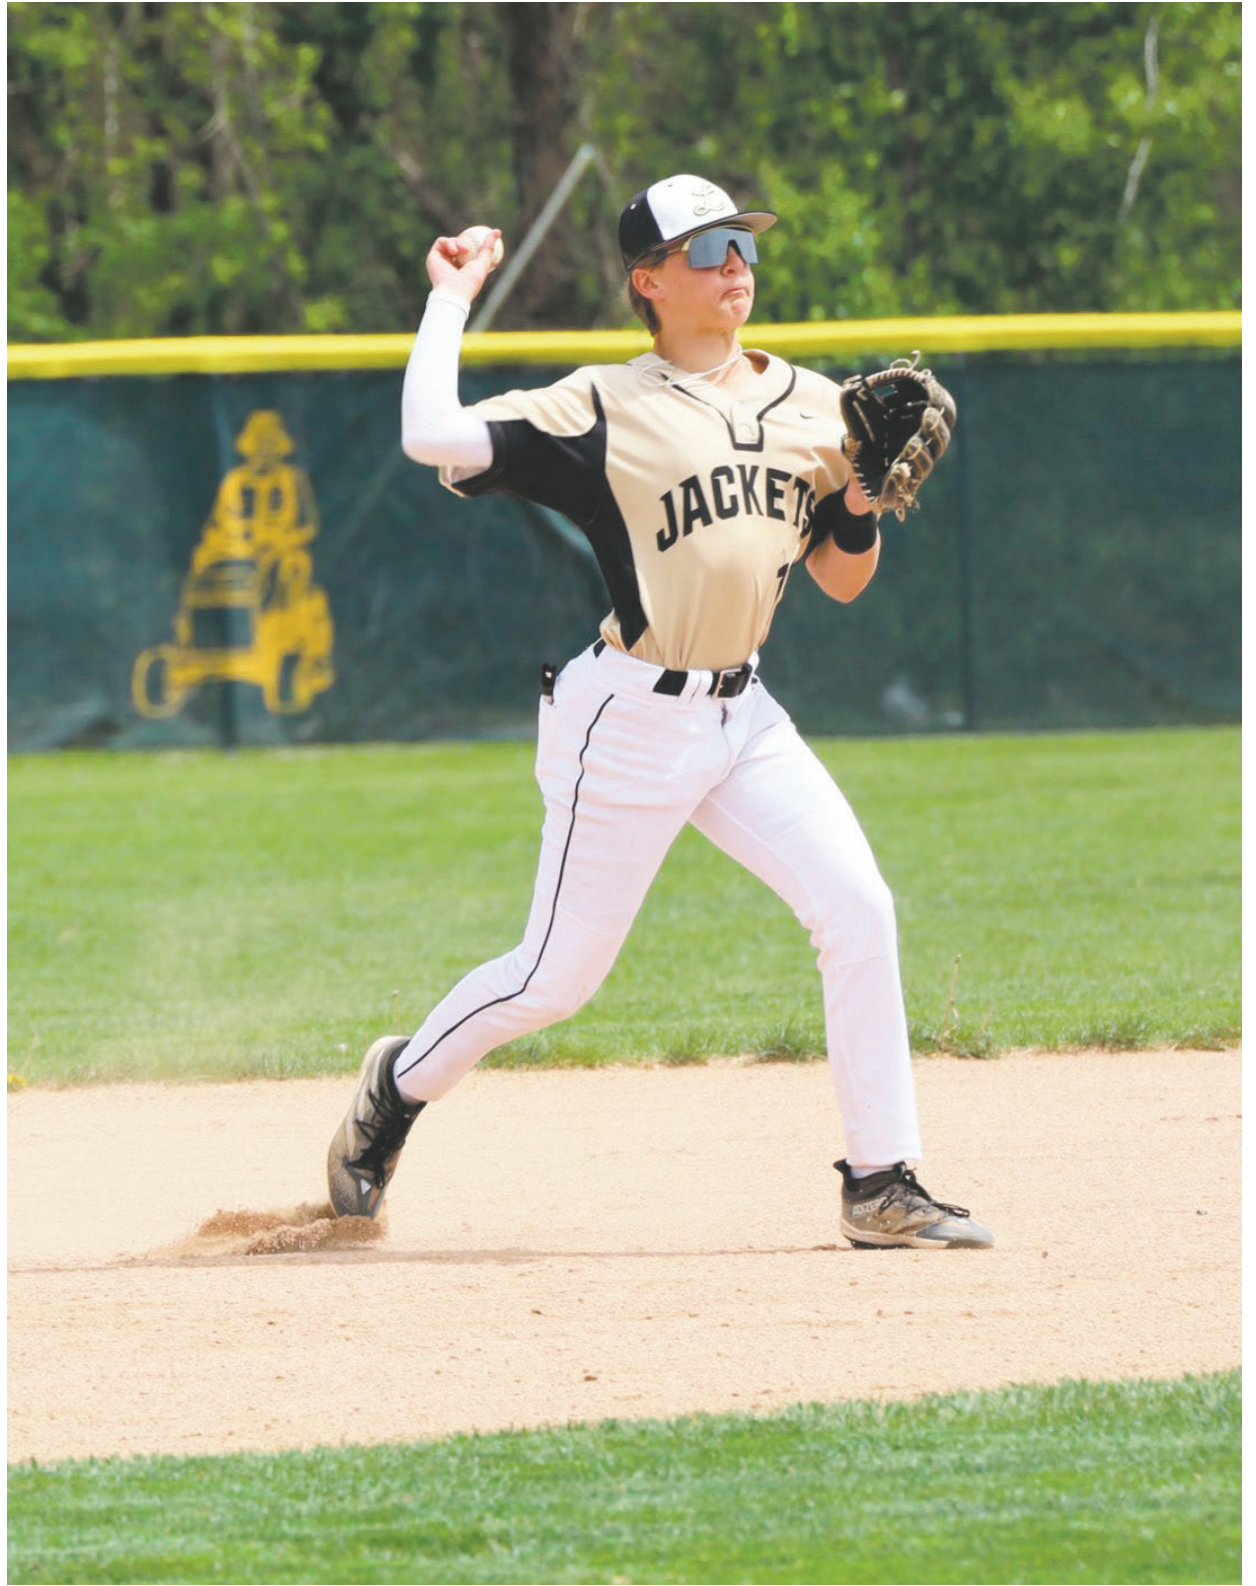

In this game, the 'Jackets' once again played the role of the comeback kids as LHS scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to steal the win, 5-4.

The inning led off with a double from Tony Myres, followed by a single from Isaac Hillhouse and a walk from Gavin Smith to load the bases with nobody out. Cromer wasted no time as he doubled to right field, scoring two runs to cut the deficit to 4-3.

Honey once again came through in the clutch with an RBI single, scoring Smith and Cromer for his second walk-off of the day.

"Chance has been swinging a good bat for us, and we moved him up to the No. 2 spot in the lineup, and he has kept producing," Weathermon said. "He loves fastballs and does damage when he sees one, and luckily, the ball he hit stayed fair, and we got the job done."

Lebanon got solid performances from Lebanon sophomore Chance Cromer attempts to throw a runner out on a ground ball during the FSCB Paul Dudley Wood Bat Classic on Friday afternoon at Oley Scott Field.

Harrison Jay and Myres on the mound after Honey started the game but struggled, giving up four runs.

"Those two (Myres and Jay) held us together on the mound," Weathermon said. "They did their job and proud of those two kids. We are just trying to throw strike throwers. With a four-game tournament like this, everyone's pitching is thin, and we are just trying to get out of innings."

Lebanon was scheduled to face Jefferson

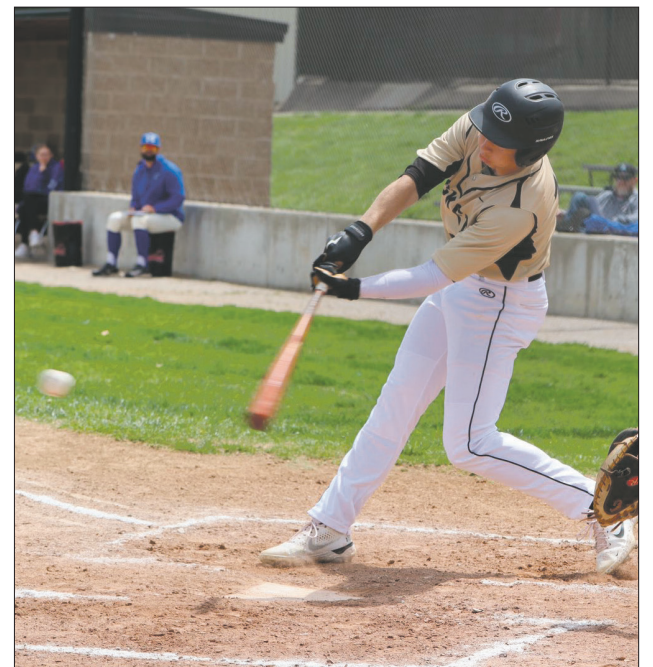

City on Tuesday at home and travel to Bolivar on Thursday for an Ozark Conference matchup with the Liberators.

Dear Abby

SOUNDS OF VERBAL ABUSE ECHO OUTSIDE THE WALLS

DEAR ABBY: I live on the bottom floor of a duplex with my wife. My brother-in-law, his wife and their two sons, ages 4 and 2, are upstairs. Since the 2-year-old was born, he's been very rambunctious and fussy. I consider my BIL a good parent overall, but for a while now, I hear him blow up, scream, curse and shout at the younger child. I don't think it's healthy.

I have a hard time with it because of my upbringing, which left a mark. I grew up in a home ruled by intimidation. I am also a school counselor. The 4-year-old has a pronounced speech impediment that I'm hoping the school will help with. As an adult and someone who works with kids, it bothers me to hear this go on every day in our home.

I wouldn't dare to say anything to my BIL or SIL. I'm just worried about the boys. Will they be OK? Please, let me know what to do. We all want my nephews to be well, but I can't blur the line between counselor and aunt. -- FULL OF CONCERN IN THE EAST

DEAR FULL: Nothing will change unless you find the courage to speak out. Involve your wife in this. Both of you should talk to your brother-in-law and sister-in-law about how being intimidated from an early age affected your life. Suggest that if the kids are becoming more than your BIL can handle, he find a way to take a break from them until he calms down. The school may be able to help the older boy with his speech impediment, and you should make sure that the help is requested. Beyond this, there's nothing more you can do to change the unhealthy dynamic upstairs.
