Walker awaits vote

Schools seek $25 million for upgrades

THE FACE OF WALKER High School will change forever if voters in the community decide to fund a facelift that will orient it in the future along Florida Boulevard instead of Burgess Avenue.

By Mike Dowty
The Livingston Parish News
WALKER — Voters went to the polls beginning early Saturday morning to decide the future of the Walker School District.

At stake are major renovations that would change the face of Walker High School and improvements for all the other schools in the district. Voters are being asked to approve a millage to raise $25 million in bonds for improving Walker school facilities that are needed to keep up with the fastest growing area of Livingston Parish, School Board member Jimmy Watson said. Watson and other officials held several community meetings in March to explain the plan. Superintendent of Schools John Watson said the enrollment of Walker 9th through 12th grades is now up to 1,500 and will reach 1,700 by the time students set foot on the rebuilt and combined Walker

High and Walker Freshman High campuses over the next four years. In 2004, before the freshman high school existed, that enrollment was less than 1,200. Watson said three years after South Fork Elementary opened to relieve overcrowding, the South Walker Elementary enrollment is already nearing its old level of 750 students. "They're still moving in," Superintendent Watson said. "By that time, there's a possibility we'll need another junior high." Jimmy Watson, who is the superintendent's brother, estimates that half the growth in Livingston Parish schools over the last decade has come in the Walker School District. The Walker District last raised millages after a $12 million bond issue in 2004 to open North Corbin Junior High and purchase property to expand North Corbin Elementary. The

Theriot's fund major university endowments

By Mike Dowty
The Livingston Parish News
DENHAM SPRINGS — Over the past year, while former longtime city and parish engineer Alex Theriot Jr. has been in a battle for his life against cancer, his focus has been on something else too: philanthropy. Theriot, a St. Martinville native who has lived most of his adult life in Denham Springs, is responsible along with his wife for the first endowed chair of civil engineering at his alma mater, University of Louisiana at Lafayette. They also have created two other UL Lafayette scholarship funds and a permanent endowment for Catholic

One-year alternatives for students failing LEAP

By Natalie Truax
The Livingston Parish News
LIVINGSTON — The School Board Thursday approved state-mandated revisions to the parish’s Pupil Progression Plan for 2013-14.

Dawn Rush, director of curriculum, told the board that the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education has granted a waiver this year to fourth grade and eighth grade students who fail to achieve satisfactory scores on the LEAP test.

Superintendent of Schools John Watson said the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education approved the changes in April and the parish’s progression plan needed to reflect the changes.

Rush said BESE mandated that first time fourth and eighth graders who are classified as non-proficient based on LEAP test scores will have the opportunity to go to summer school and receive 50 hours of remediation and then test again in the subject they failed.

“We now have the opportunity to provide a waiver to the School Building Level Committee to use classroom grades, attendance, growth in test scores and benchmark assessments administered at the school level to determine if the student should move on,” Rush said.

If the student is promoted to ninth grade based on these criteria, Rush said that student will go into a transition program where mentoring will be provided.

Rush said the student will then become a graduation cohort when they enter the tenth grade.

Rush said the waiver is only applicable to the 2013-14 academic year. The 2014-15 pupil progression plan is still in development and will also have significant changes, Rush said.

During the meeting, the board approved a new Service Animals in Schools policy.

The policy applies to animals that the Department of Justice has approved as part of the American with Disabilities Act, which is currently just dogs and miniature horses.

Assistant Superintendent Rick Wentzel explained after the meeting that some visually impaired people may choose miniature horses ranging in height from 24 to 34 inches since the horse may live longer than a guide dog and provide more a stable base for daily activities.

Wentzel told the board that there have been no requests for any service animals at this time and that each request that comes through would be evaluated on each individual situation.

In other action, the board:

- Accepted the remodeling of the Denham Springs High School science building as substantially complete.
- Adopted a resolution recognizing and proclaiming May 5-9, 2013, as Livingston Parish Public Schools Employee Appreciation Week.

Theriot commits fortune for educational objectives

education at St. Landry Catholic Church in Opelousas, a choice he said that began out of an inspiration from a movie he saw.

All told, the two endowments cost Theriot and his wife Loretta more than $700,000.

Theriot recently spent six weeks of the coldest winter of his life (91 days below freezing, 51 days below zero) at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., where he is undergoing treatment for prostate cancer.

Retired since 2000, he was enjoying the good life splitting time between his Maple Street home and vacation homes in North Carolina and at a Gulf Coast beach condo. He thought he was following all the steps necessary to protect his health.

“I did everything right,” he said. “I went to the doctor every six months and had my PSA tests that came back negative.”

Despite that, he began feeling mysterious pains that further examination determined to be cancer, which had by then spread to his lymph nodes. This winter he visited the Mayo Clinic as a “standby” patient and was eventually tested with a new procedure using a radioactive dye to assess the results of hormone and chemotherapy he said at one time made him “sound like a woman” and also made him nauseous and sick for months.

In spite of those adversities, he remains upbeat.

“We’re not changing anything until they pull the plug on me,” he said.

Meanwhile, he intends to leave a legacy from a lifetime of successful investing, largely in real estate.

In 2013, with a commitment of $600,000 in stock and the assistance of the Louisiana State Board of Regents to bring the total to $1 million, the Theriots created the ULL Endowed Chair in Civil Engineering, allowing that discipline to join a club at the school that already included the other colleges of engineering (Chemical, Petroleum, Mechanical and Electrical).

The Theriots went to a ceremony last fall and were surprised to discover that a “chair” in this case actually is a chair, one the school presented them that is now a piece of furniture in their home.

This was the largest of three endowments the Theriots have funded since 2007 for ULL, a place for which they have much sentimental attachment. Theriot and the former Loretta Durand, who had their first date in 1953, both attended what was then Southwestern Louisiana Institute. The youngest of eight children, she was the first generation of her family to attend college, studying Accounting until she cut short he academic career after Alex graduated in Engineering and they were married in 1959.

Alex Theriot went on to work for the Louisiana Department of Public Works and then the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers before forming his own company, Alex Theriot Jr. and Associates in 1965. He started off in a two-room office that he rented for $10 and went on to become one of the most prominent engineers in the area. At age 30 he was appointed City Engineer for Denham Springs, a position he kept for 24 years. He was also Livingston Parish Engineer for more than 20 years and helped draft some of the parish’s first subdivision regulations. An active member of many civic organizations, he served stints as President of the Denham Springs Rotary Club and the Denham Springs Chamber of Commerce and was on the finance committee for Immaculate Conception Catholic Church for more than 35 years.

Using what he describes as “common sense” inherited from his father, he parlayed his degrees from St. Martinville High School and SLI into investments in residential and commercial real estate, oil and gas production onshore and offshore, a computer software company, a motorcycle dealership and much rental property. He was principal organizer and Chairman of the Board of Tuscaloosa Commerce Bank until it was sold in the first of many mergers under which it is currently part of Regions Bank. He also served on the Board of Directors for Southeast National Bank that was later acquired by Hancock Bank, which is now Whitney Bank. He also served as the Chairman of the Louisiana Board of Commerce and Industry.

His wife, meanwhile, was office manager and treasurer of Delta Concrete Products in Denham Springs for over 25 years. The Alex and Loretta Durand Theriot Jr. Chair in Civil Engineering was added in 2013 to the $100,000 Endowed Professorship in the College of Business created in 2007 and the $100,000 Endowed First Generation Scholarship in the College of Business created in 2012. The second helps students in the same situation Loretta began life, as a first generation family member attending college.

The 2007 gesture was made in honor of their parents, Alex and Evelyn Theriot and John and Isabelle Durand. The 2012 fund honors their three children, Aline, Andre and Ben Theriot. Both were created with the help of the Moody Foundation, which Alex Theriot said he discovered one day when reading an advertisement in his hometown newspaper The Teche News.

The $50,000 matching donation toward $100,000 to St. Landry came about, he said, after he watched the movie “The Rookie” in 2002. The true story of a high school baseball coach who attempts to become a Major League Baseball pitcher in middle age and succeeds, the movie begins with a scene of two nuns by the wildcat Santa Maria oil well in West Texas casting rose petals and praying to St. Rita for a miracle. Theriot said the depiction made him curious, which led him to look for a book about St. Rita. Instead, he came upon one about Father Joseph Verbis Lefleur, a military chaplain who died in 1944.

The Theriots joined with another couple in funding scholarships at Sacred Heart, the school Lefleur attended as a boy, Opelousas Catholic where his vocation began and Vermillion Catholic School in Abbeville because of his association with that parish.

Theriot said the endowment put in place raises $3,500 per year to fund three $1,000 scholarships. Meanwhile, he noted that the Santa Rita oil well depicted in the movie produced for 67 years.

Walker school millage near historic low after years of self-funding

district over the years has handled most of its expansion and renovation needs, and even the building of new schools, out of savings rather than seeking new taxes. Because of that, millages in the district are currently near an historic low of 9.77. Before the 2004 bond issue, the millage was 9.59.

If voters authorize the extra 16.83 mills, the school system would sell bonds to be paid back over 20 years to finance technology upgrades and expansions at Walker High, Walker Freshman High, Westside and North Corbin junior high schools, and Walker, North Corbin, Levi Milton, South Walker and South Fork elementary schools. Passage also would allow refinancing of current bonds for a savings of $500,000 through lower interest rates, Jimmy Watson said.

The typical tax increase would range from $210 a year for a $200,000 house to $42 for a $100,000 house, Watson said.

The Walker High School master plan includes a new administration and classroom building, gymnasium, career and technology building, performing arts building and band room and cafeteria.

Wildcat Stadium also would get a facelift, including artificial turf similar to surfaces now at Denham Springs and Live Oak and a resurfaced track.

Other facility improvements include a new varsity athletic locker and weight room, new parking and renovations to existing buildings that will be turned over to Walker Freshman High School.

The South Fork

This conceptual rendering by Ziler Architects of Lafayette shows the new Walker High School administration building that would go up as part of a master plan for the campus should voters approve a $25 million bond issue May 3 for upgrades at all nine Walker School District campuses.

Elementary additions include a new classroom wing and a multipurpose building as well as more parking. This would complete the building of the most recently opened school in the Walker district two years ago.

The remainder of the money would be used to upgrade and add classroom technology at all

Walker District schools. The proposition reads as follows:

School District No. 4 Proposition

Shall School District No. 4 of the Parish of Livingston, State of Louisiana (the "District"), incur debt and issue bonds not exceeding $25,000,000, in one or more series, to run not exceeding 20 years from date thereof, with interest not exceeding 8% per annum, for the purpose of acquiring and/or improving lands for building sites and playgrounds; including construction of necessary sidewalks and streets adjacent thereto; purchasing, erecting, renovating, expanding and/or improving school buildings and other school related facilities, and acquiring the necessary equipment and furnishings therefor; title to which shall be in the public; which bonds will be general obligations of the District payable from ad valorem taxes to be levied and collected in the manner provided by Article VI, Section 33 of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana of 1974 and statutory authority supplemental thereto, with an estimated increase of 16.83 mills to be levied in the first year of issue above the 9.770 mills currently being levied to pay General Obligation Bonds of the District?

The Walker School District includes all or parts of Precincts 2, 2A, 3, 3A, 4A, 5, 5A, 5B, 5C, 6, 6A, 7A through 8A, 20, 21, 23A, 23B, 24C, 36A, 40A, 41. Election hours are 6 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Keystone of a wrecked campaign

Will the Obama White House throw Mary Landrieu under the bus? It sure looks that way from the insider fight going on in Washington among leading Democrats over the controversial Keystone pipeline.

The economic impact of the proposed international pipeline seems obvious on the face of it. It would provide transportation from the Canadian oil and shale fields to U.S. refineries on the Gulf Coast including several in Louisiana. Economic projections, even if half believable, show thousands of new construction jobs and residual permanent jobs all along the pipeline route and, most importantly, to Mary Landrieu's home state at the tail end of the pipeline where refineries would need added jobs and output capacity to handle the new source of raw product.

The pipeline would also insure that the bulk of oil extracted in Canada would go to the United States rather than counties like China where a growing economy cries out for energy from any source it can get. The Canadians have used the threat of selling their oil to China as a negotiating tool to obtain American approval of the pipeline. So far, such threats have failed to impress the Obama White House which, true to its wacko greenie colors, has opposed the Keystone pipeline from the beginning.

Remember that the basic platform for the 2014 Democratic Party includes raising the minimum wage, opposing the alleged Republican war on women, attacking the Koch brothers, and reducing global warming. It's the part about reducing global warming that they're having a hard time selling to the American people, and apparently to a goodly portion of the members of their own party now sitting in the United States Senate.

Years of obfuscation from the Obama White House on the issue of the Keystone pipeline resulted in March of 2013 with a non-binding Senate

WAYS AND MEANS
Jeff M. David

Resolution approving the project. This particular President of the United States has shown no proclivity during his six years in office to obey a supposedly binding act of Congress, much less a non-binding one. Predictably, Obama never acknowledged the Senate Resolution passed last year.

But with real elections coming up this year for a half-dozen Senate Democrats in states that would profit greatly from the Keystone pipeline, pressure has mounted inside the Senate Democratic caucus for President Harry Reid to allow a binding vote in the Senate, one that the President would be obliged to veto, potentially creating a huge schism between Obama and members of his own party. Reid gave his nod of approval to Landrieu's elevation this year as Chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, a move designed to help her reelection campaign in a conservative, energy-driven state. But that move backfired late last week when Landrieu led almost a dozen Senate Democrats to sign on as co-sponsors of a binding bill that would force the White House to approve the Keystone pipeline as soon as its route, being challenged in court, is finally determined.

Democratic co-sponsors of Landrieu's bill include Mark Pryor of Arkansas, Claire McCaskill of Missouri, Jon Tester of Montana, Mark Warner of Virginia, Kay Hagan of North Carolina, Mark Begich of Alaska, Joe Manchin of West Virginia, Joe Donnelly of Indiana, Heidi Heitkamp of North Dakota, and John Walsh of Montana. Pryor, Begich, and Hagan, along with Landrieu, are up for election this year and are considered particularly vulnerable. But up for election this year or not, there are now enough Democratic Senators as co-sponsors on the bill to pass it with the help of the 45 Republicans in the Senate, all of whom support the pipeline.

Landrieu's move to put pressure on President Obama has gathered at least 60 votes, enough steam to pass a Keystone bill and put it on Obama's desk, forcing him to veto it. Landrieu does not appear to have enough Democratic support in the Senate to obtain the required 67 votes to override a Presidential veto, if it comes to that. But if it does come to that, the Democratic Party will be split down the middle and in shambles as the November elections approach. Last week, Senate President Reid told reporters there was a "75-80 percent chance" that he would allow a vote soon on the Keystone pipeline, although he refused to say that the Landrieu bill would be the proposal voted upon. Democrats remain embroiled in a behind-the-scenes struggle to find an accommodation between Senators from conservative or oil producing states and the dedicated greenies inside the Democratic Party, many of whom are using their trust fund money to promote the global warming ruse (no doubt to salve the guilt that comes from vast inherited wealth). The latest word from the White House has been the usual doublespeak designed in the end to kill the project without actually saying so. The President, if you wish to believe a word he says at this point, claims that he is attempting to keep the Keystone pipeline "outside of politics," a contention so blatant that only a hearty guffaw seems appropriate in response.

Obama's Nest of Socialists in the White House appear hell bent on a direct collision course not just with the Senators of their own party, but with American voters as well. Less energy means a lower standard of living. That might be OK for Obama's trust fund baby contributors, but for the rest of us, it's bad deal.

After further review ... uh oh!

High school sports is one of those disciplines that is supposed to teach life lessons to the participants.

One of those life lessons, we find out this week, is that when things don't go your way, hire a good lawyer. You never know when you roll the dice in the legal system what will come up. A look at the mess that has become of the Class 3A baseball playoffs is instructive here.

The Louisiana High School Athletic Association, which governs high school sports and makes sure everybody plays by the rules, has been enjoined from enforcing those rules against Livonia High School, a high-rolling football and baseball program that was determined to have used an ineligible player in both sports this past season. The standard penalty in such instances, one that has been applied to many schools over the years, is to require them to forfeit any wins in any games in which that ineligible player has participated. For that matter, forfeiting games is pretty much the standard for state associations across the United States.

A look at the mess that the courts have made out of the Class 3A baseball playoffs

Along come some parents with their lawyer and a friendly judge who issues a temporary restraining order to prevent Livonia from being ousted from the baseball playoffs. Note that the LHSAA did not ban the school. Livonia simply had to forfeit games, which affected its ranking and caused it to fall short of qualifying. This judge put the team in anyway, reinventing the bracket to accomplish that since playoffs had already begun. This was after a state appellate court had dissolved the judge's first temporary restraining order.

One school adversely affected was 31st seed Kaplan, which must play Livonia for the right to play Evangel in the first round. And Kaplan did nothing wrong. Should the Kaplan parents find their own friendly judge to get their own TRO?

There has been no finding that the LHSAA failed in any way to administer its rule properly or that it denied due process to Livonia High School. That matter will be argued later, presumably after the playoffs are over. Meanwhile, there will now arise a debate over the appropriateness of courts of law inserting themselves into athletic competition. Should a judge, with no proof of any inequities, take over the process on a whim? How is that fair, especially since not every school community has equal resources to bully its way into the playoffs through courts of law? And what's next? Will judges review balls and strikes too. Was he safe or out? See you in court.

Thoughts about the 'bright future,' now that it's here

Graduation is almost upon us again. It's been a few years since mine, though I still remember it well. I remember sitting out in the middle of a football field in front of a stadium full of townfolk with flashes popping. I remember the little beads of sweat and the discomfort of humidity as one speaker after the next waxed on about our bright futures.

I was not one of the people asked to give speeches that day, make of it what you will. I was among those having a bright future, as the mortarboard above my head signified. I've heard so many commencement addresses since then, there's no doubt what I would have said has been said often before and since. Of course, had I known then what I know today ...

The first thing I would say to those with the bright futures is simply this: You won't believe how fast they go by. No really, you won't. You can understand it intellectually, I'm sure, especially all you honor graduates. But you can't process it. Impossible.

The last four years that were an epoch for you, do you know how many blinks those years took for the likes of me? That's how it goes when you are sitting on this side of your bright future looking back on it.

The next thing I'd say is that your future won't be what you imagine. The job you wind up doing may not even exist yet. If it does, the nature of it will certainly change. Technology is different, but also culture. When we were in school, my generation might be tempted to tell you, life was simpler. Yet it did not seem so at the time.

For guys, there was this thing called the military draft that might get you sent to a place called Vietnam, which was hot and full of mosquitoes like Louisiana and full of hostiles with guns too. We had to sweat out those prospects, among other things.

There was talk of counterculture and drugs, especially on TV, and concerns about the deteriorating morals of society, though most of it seemed far away from rural Louisiana. I guess that part is not so different.

I think about some of the teachers I had and the respect they were given. Teachers then were not paid nearly as well as they are today and they are not exactly making a killing in 2014. I've seen a few of my old teachers over the years, though too many of them have passed on. They all remain so alive to me in my mind, just as they were 42 years ago — that's the stretch of time for my promising future so far.

The list of graduates handed out that day in 1972 was done on a "Ditto Machine." Does anybody even remember that contraption? The photos people took were either Polaroids, which you got to look at right away, or images stored on film that went to the drug store for a three-day wait. There were no cell phones. There was no Facebook. There was no Internet.

The one thing about Polaroid pictures you could count on was they would be terrible. That was the price you paid for getting them right away.

PIECE OF MIND

There was this business just getting ramped up, Fox Photo, that would let you drop off film and get it back the same day, in some situations within an hour or two. It all seems so quaint now.

It would have been something had any of our graduation speakers predicted what the world of that bright future would turn out to be.

My senior class was three years removed from the beginning of racial integration in this region of the Deep South. At times our community had been rocked by incidents of resentment on both sides and thuggery on both sides, though most people I knew tried their best to be decent and reach out, up to a point. Things had settled down a lot by the time of my senior year, but black students and white students still tended to stay to themselves and their groups most of the time. Is it still that way?

I see evidence when I go to various campuses these days that kids pay much less attention to race than they used to. Yet it's still there, this separateness to us, just as it remains in the adult world.

One of the elective classes we had in high school was typing. I never took it, though I taught myself to type as I moved into this field. These days I see high school students in Livingston Parish studying things like nursing and television production. Walker High School has its own TV studio. We could not have imagined such things. Certain guys (never girls) took shop or welding or auto mechanics. Nobody expected college or vocation school credit for any of these courses. Back then, you were lucky if you could transfer credit hours for classes you took at Southeastern to LSU or vice versa. But at least anyone who wanted to attend those schools was allowed and could afford it.

I think the first checks I wrote to LSU for my first semester, which included tuition and three months of room and board, totalled less than $500. The books were probably another couple hundred. I was able to pay my way through school flipping burgers part-time without a single student loan. Can anyone imagine that today? Most contemporary college grads will owe thousands in loans as they depart, though statistics suggest the ROI is still pretty good.

The bright future that awaits us all has its ups and downs. To the Class of 2014, let us celebrate the ups.

Secrets and lies of Obama's drone war

Barack Obama promised to install his administration in a glass house lit up like the Super Bowl, with everything visible to the citizenry he serves. So you will not be surprised to learn that Director of National Intelligence James Clapper wants nothing more than to keep the public well informed.

The administration, he said in a recent letter to the Senate Intelligence Committee, "is exploring ways in which it can provide the American people more information about the United States' use of force outside areas of active hostilities."

That's what he said. Then he laughed so hard he fell off his chair.

STEVE CHAPMAN

What Clapper was trying to convey in his charmingly oblique way is that he is exploring ways to deny basic information to anyone who wants it. His letter came in response to a bill approved by the committee requiring the president to divulge how many people he kills or injures with drones.

It doesn't seem too much to ask. During the Vietnam War, the U.S. military had regular press conferences to publicize the latest enemy body count, to prove the effectiveness of our fighting men. It gave up that practice after officers inflated the numbers, but by 2005, in an effort to confirm the progress of the Iraq war, the Pentagon was again enumerating corpses and proudly releasing the tallies.

The drone war in Pakistan, Afghanistan and Yemen has been going on for years, though the number of strikes has declined lately. But the people in charge see no reason to reveal anything about its consequences. The intelligence committee, told by Clapper to butt out, dutifully abandoned its brief quest.

The president says he has kept his campaign promise to be more open: "This is the most transparent administration in history." But when it comes to the subject of blowing people up with unmanned aerial vehicles, the windows are painted over and boarded up. You can look all you want; you just can't see. It's not only drones that are concealed. Jill Abramson, executive editor of The New York Times, has covered presidents going back to Ronald Reagan and calls this "the most secretive White House" of them all. But when the government is slaughtering residents of countries with which we are not at war, the value of information is especially high — and so is the harm from secrecy.

The whole world always knew about the drone strikes, but the administration didn't even admit it was carrying them out until 2012. Obama also refused to publish the Justice Department "white paper" explaining the rationale for targeting U.S. citizens overseas for sudden, fiery death from the sky. The document came out when someone leaked it to NBC News, prompting the department to officially release it.

The white paper was based on a lengthy legal memo, but the president would not willingly expose that memo to the light of day. Recently, a federal appeals court ordered him to, concluding there is no risk of "disclosing any aspect of military plans, intelligence activities, sources and methods, and foreign relations."

The same can be said for Clapper's stonewalling on numbers. It's not as though the individuals targeted by missiles, or their families, would learn anything new from this information. The only point of secrecy is to let the government tell self-serving lies without fear of contradiction.

The CIA attested last year that the total number of innocents killed was in the "single digits," but a United Nations investigator determined it was over 400. A report by the Washington think tank CNA agrees that the evidence "points to higher casualty numbers than suggested in official statements." Why should Americans have to get their information from guesswork in outside studies instead of the government that does the killing?

In his letter, Clapper frets about "the disclosure of intelligence sources and methods or other classified information." But if the U.S. military, during wartime, can safely put out the number of enemy bodies found on the battlefield, the CIA ought to be able to disclose how many terrorists and bystanders it has extinguished.

Obama's drone war is a covert offensive conducted in remote places far from America, and it's easy to forget because it doesn't put our aviators at risk. But if our government thinks it is justified in killing people, it shouldn't act like it has something to hide.

I would like to extend a big thank you to the road maintenance crew for coming out and filling the numerous pot holes on Joe May Road. I know I live on the worst road in the parish but at least the pot holes are filled for the moment and I thank you so much.

I just love Call and Comment. When I read some of these contributions from people, I can't help but to find them hilarious when the Democrats accuse Republicans of lying. I think that is extremely funny.

Isn't it terrible how that inmate who shot that 19-year-old girl with a shot gun and then buried her alive had to suffer during his execution?

I see that the United States gave the Philippines $15 million for typhoon relief. A tornado has just gone through three states with Arkansas being hit the worst. I saw so many homes on television that were torn up. How much money is the Philippines going to give the United States for tornado relief? That is what I would like to know. If anyone ever wonders why the United States is in debt, this is a good example.

This is response to the comment regarding the death of Terri Schiavo. This woman told her husband that she did not want to be on life support if she ever became incapacitated and left in a permanent vegetative state. Republicans in the U.S. Congress became involved after a Florida judge ruled the husband and his wife's doctor could not carry out this patient's wishes by removing feeding tubes. This is another example of Republicans talking out of both sides of their mouth. Republicans continually bash "big government," especially if it intrudes upon the doctor-patient relationships. Why in the world would anyone in Louisiana really care about a woman's rights anyway? Louisiana was the 48th state to ratify the 19th Amendment that secured a woman's right to vote 50 years after it became the law of the land.

In Oklahoma, there was a botched capital punishment that didn't go according to plan. Many people are upset that the murderer had to suffer before dying. Too bad these upset people don't protest the murder of over one million little babies by abortion who were innocent.

At least 1,000 hospital patients in England die each month from avoidable kidney problems, according to a new study commissioned by the NHS. Death panels, don't ya know?" That is a sad statistic. However, right here in the United States of America, researchers from Harvard Medical School found that the lack of health care coverage can be tied to about 4,000 deaths a month in the United States, a toll that is greater than the number of people who die each year from kidney disease. England, and every other major Democratic country in the world, for that matter, has universal health care. These countries are unlike the United States where we had health care insurance company death panels that denied or dropped coverage, that is until Obamacare changed that monopoly, don't ya know?

I would like to know how the Council on Aging can have a wedding there and the invitations say to bring your own bottle. Since when is alcohol allowed there? I went to a dance there with a bottle and I was not allowed inside.

Conservatives are wasting their time on Benghazi. They could have video of Obama saying "blame the attack on anything except my failed policies," and he still would be untouchable. He is your king.

Ambassador Susan Rice to stress that a video disparaging the Prophet Muhammad was the catalyst for a series of anti-American protests across the Islamic world, including the deadly attacks on the Benghazi mission in September 2012. I know, tell you something you didn't know.

FactCheat.org was asked the question, "Were there really weapons of mass destruction in Iraq when the U.S. invaded in 2003?" The Fact Check answer: "No. The Iraq Survey Group determined that Iraq had abandoned its quest to develop chemical, biological and nuclear weapons and that it had already destroyed all of its existing stockpiles of chemical and biological weapons." That 1,400 multinational inspection team also noted, "Prewar Movement of WMD Material Out of Iraq was unlikely."

While we are investigating Benghazi, let's investigate the attacks that occurred on January 22, 2002, in Calcutta, India; June 14, 2002, in Karachi, Pakistan; October 12, 2002, in Denpasar, Indonesia; February 28, 2003, in Islamabad, Pakistan; May 12, 2003, in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia; July 30, 2004, in Tashkent, Uzbekistan; December 6, 2004, in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia; March 2, 2006, in Karachi, Pakistan; September 12, 2006, in Damascus, Syria; January 12, 2007, in Athens, Greece; March 18, 2008, in Sana'a, Yemen; July 9, 2008, in Istanbul, Turkey; and September 17, 2008, Sana'a, Yemen.

This is in response to the comment about liberals blaming Bush "for everything bad that has happened, even six years after Obama took office." This comment is spot on! How unfair to George W. Bush! According to the Federal Reserve's "Flow of Funds" report, it was the Tooth Fairy that evaporated $20 trillion in household wealth by January 2009. It's the Tooth Fairy that absconded with $10 trillion in stock market value, another $7 trillion in home values, while bankrupting millions of hard working Americans, and throwing another 8 million out of work. It was the rabbit that handed Bush's successor trillion dollar deficits over the next ten years! That is why Republicans lost the last two presidential elections and will lose the next one too.

I saw the photo in your newspaper Thursday of the paving on Cockerham Road. Does anybody know why that project has been going on over a year and the whole street between Hatchell and Range has stayed torn up? I saw similar problems on O'Neal Lane making a mess there for two years, and other locations. Why does it take the state and their contractors so long to complete a simple road maintenance project. And don't say "rain," because I've witnessed many a sunny day with no work going on whatsoever.

A NEW DIRECTION IN THE NON-SURGICAL TREATMENT OF VARICOSE AND SPIDER VEINS

Varicose and spider veins can be unsightly. In the past, surgery was the only treatment. Today there are non-surgical options like Endovenous Laser Therapy (EVLT) and Sclerotherapy to treat problem veins.

Who may benefit from EVLT or Sclerotherapy?

Men or women who may be experiencing the following symptoms in their legs:

- Aching pain
- Burning or tingling sensations
- Cramping
- Heaviness
- Swelling
- Tiredness
- Throbbing pain
- Tenderness around veins.

Benefits

- No surgery
- No general anesthesia
- Performed in-office in about 1 hour
- Minimal to no pain or scarring
- Return to work/activities in 24 hours
- Successfully improves symptoms and leg appearance.

Hodges thrilled with quick passage of equal pay bill

By John Dupont
The Livingston Parish News

BATON ROUGE – A local member of the state legislative delegation lauded the swift passage in committee on a House bill that would make it unlawful to pay an individual less than another individual on the basis of gender.

State Rep. Valarie Hodges, R-Watson, said the quick approval of House Bill 956 marked “a monumental event for women in the state of Louisiana.”

Hodges co-sponsored the bill authored by District 79 Rep. Julie Stokes, R-Kenner, which would require equal pay “when both individuals work on jobs that require equal skill, effort, and responsibility, and which are performed under similar working conditions.”

The bill would also prohibit employers from cutting any other employee wages to come into compliance with the legislation.

The measure heads to the House floor for debate Monday.

Hodges cited statistics from the U.S. Labor Bureau that stated that in the Louisiana population – 51 percent female – 40 percent of them earn a living, but women earn 67 cents to the dollar in comparison to the work performed by their male counterparts at the same skill level.

“It’s time to make changes in our law,” she said. “This legislation will balance the scales for working women.”

The elimination of the wage gap would significantly improve the quality of life for women in Louisiana

“With the expectation of a booming business climate in Louisiana, I am proud to be a sponsor of this bill and the fight for equality,” Hodges said.

FELONY ARRESTS

Erdey highway bills on fast track

By John Dupont
The Livingston Parish News

BATON ROUGE – Final passage in the state House of Representatives marks the next stop for a series of Senate resolutions that propose major road improvements throughout Livingston Parish.

The resolutions authored by state Sen. Dale Erdey, R-Livingston, make their way to the full House for final debate Wednesday.

The four bills breezed through a hearing Monday before the House Committee on Transportation, Highways and Public Works.

The swift approval – with no debate – did not surprise Erdey.

“Those projects are very important for our parish, which continues to be one of the fastest growing in the state,” he said. “Plus, they recognized the need for improved public safety throughout our area.”

The road work package includes the widening of U.S. 190 from La. 16 to La. 63, or from Denham Springs to Walker, included in Senate Concurrent Resolution 25.

The U.S. 190 artery served as the primary east-west route before completion of Interstate 12 in 1972. But it remains an artery, particularly during road closures, wrecks and rush-hour congestion on the Interstate.

The addition of a community college between Denham Springs and Walker will also bring additional traffic into the area.

SCR 24 calls for widening of La. 22 from Springfield to the Interstate 55 interchange in Tangipahoa Parish, near Ponchatoula. The expansion would ease congestion as commuter traffic continues to grown in that area, Erdey said.

Erdey also emphasized the need for fast action on the work listed in SCR 31, which would widen a bridge along Bend Road in Watson, one of the fastest growing areas in Livingston Parish.

He said the bridge cannot accommodate two-way traffic and is becoming too weak to bear the burden of large trucks that occasionally pass through the area.

SCR 26 asks for the development of roundabouts on La. 21 at the intersections of Eden Church and Lockhart roads, as well as Dunn Road at Lockhart.

The bills bring attention to the increased congestion that has come with the spike in Livingston Parish’s population over the last 20 years.

It has brought about more accidents on major arteries, something that could continue to escalate as the parish faces another surge in residential growth as a result of several major industrial projects throughout the Greater Baton Rouge area.

Pope rejects Common Core compromise

By John Dupont
The Livingston Parish News

BATON ROUGE – A House bill that softens the impact of Common Core testing may cause more harm than good for the Louisiana public schools, according to a state representative from Livingston Parish.

Denham Springs Republican J. Rogers Pope said Thursday he believes House Bill 953 should address potential problems with the curriculum and its related testing, rather than prolonging a solution.

The legislation, sponsored by House Speaker Pro Tem Walt Leger II, D-New Orleans, would extend the transition phase from two to three years for the new academic standards and testing associated with the hotly-debated curriculum.

“They might be doing this as a compromise, but it doesn’t achieve anything,” Pope said. “It just delays it by one year, which I don’t think would make for a lot of stability for our school parents and teachers.”

The bill passed 10-6 Tuesday in the House Education Committee, amid opposition from supporters and foes of the new standards, which are set to take effect the next school year.

Pope, a longtime Livingston Parish educator/administrator and former Superintendent of Schools, has been vocal in his opposition to Common Core curriculum since it came under criticism last fall.

He believes states should reserve the right to implement standards for its educational assessments, rather than adapt to one national test standard.

Pope believes the state could serve teachers, parents and students to make one decision – go with Common Core or abandon it.

“It needs to be settled one way or another – either we do it or we don’t do it,” he said. “They’re probably trying to work out something that would appease both sides, and I’m not sure they’ll be able to do that.”

State Superintendent of Education John White said in a recent hearing that any delay in full implantation of Common Core and the PARCC testing would prove disastrous, both fiscally and academically.

Governor Bobby Jindal, meanwhile, remains critical Common Core. He particularly opposes the PARCC testing, which he criticized as a “one size fits all” form of testing.

'TIED UP IN KNOTTS'

TV ICON DON KNOTTS' DAUGHTER talks to fans at the library about his life, his career and the people he knew.

By John Dupont
The Livingston Parish News

Some of Denise Powers' fondest memories involve the laughs she and her father shared when they watched TV reruns that featured the man they considered their all-time favorite comic actor. Those memories brought her from Baton Rouge to the Livingston Parish Library to attend "Tied Up in Knotts," a fond tribute to the late Don Knotts, presented by his daughter, Karen Knotts.

Powers listened with others to the one-person show, which focused on the childhood, career and close relationship with the man best known for his roles as Barney Fife on "The Andy Griffith Show" and Ralph Furley on "Three's Company."

"This was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity," said Powers, 43. "My dad and I watched him on those two shows every chance we got, but after this, I gained an even greater appreciation of him."

"Aside from that, I gained an appreciation for his daughter," she said. "She's very witty and charming."

Karen Knotts, an actress and now librarian in her native Los Angeles, used a combination of hats, wigs and songs to enhance stories about different people and eras in the life of her father, who died in 2006 at age 81.

'Dad was originally supposed to be the straight man.'

She discussed her father's childhood in his native Morgantown, W.Va., and the influences that would ultimately play a role in his career.

"Dad, like so many in his era, enjoyed the radio comedy teams of that era, such as George Burns and Gracie Allen, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Fibber McGee and Molly and most of all, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy," Karen said. "He developed an appreciation for the humor and wit that brought so many laughs."

Bergen and McCarthy (a wooden dummy) so fascinated Knotts that he embraced the art of ventriloquism. It coincided with his fledgling skills to captivate audiences and draw laughter.

She also discussed her father's time in the U.S. Army, during which he entertained fellow soldiers. In the years after World War II, her father spent time in New York City, where he and other aspiring comics sought their big break. He landed guest spots on various variety programs, most notably "The Red Skelton Show."

"He played a cowboy in a sketch in which he showed a lot of the same persona that later became Barney Fife," Karen said.

Knotts also enjoyed a stint as a regular on "The Steve Allen Show" which featured him in 'Man on the Street' sketches.

He also had a brief stint on the long-running soap opera "Search for Tomorrow."

"Nobody today would ever imagine he did a soap opera," she said.

Despite the TV roles, she said, a supporting role in a movie classic changed his life. Knotts played a high-strung psychiatrist in the Broadway hit-turned-movie "No Time for Sergeants," which marked his initial pairing with Andy Griffith.

"They hit it off immediately," Karen said. "They had perfect chemistry."

Knotts approached Griffith not long after that when Griffith filmed a pilot for what would become his long-running TV sitcom. "The Andy Griffith Show" (1960-68) was a smash hit for CBS and made Knotts – and his character, the manic deputy Barney Fife – iconic TV personalities.

"Andy was the perfect foil for my dad," she said. "They had great chemistry together, and it showed from the start."

But the role of Fife was not intended as a prominent character.

"Dad was originally supposed to be the straight man," Karen said. "But it didn't take them long to discover that it worked better with Andy as the straight man."

Karen said her dad and Griffith often hammered out additional dialogue to fill a scene.

"They'd gather in a corner, talk it out and come back with something truly great," Karen said. "That's just how good their chemistry was."

Don Knotts won several Emmys during his five seasons on the show. Despite the character's believability, Karen said the role was not a leisurely stroll for her father. Production often lasted 10 or 12 hours five days a week.

'He spent all day Sunday studying the script over and over – we knew not to bother him.'

"He spent all day Sunday studying the script over and over – we knew not to bother him," she said. "It took him hours to determine the best way to read even a small line."

She said she became friends with Ron Howard and Jim Nabors, among other cast members from the sitcom.

"It was a great big family," Karen said.

The sitcom has built a whole new appreciation across several generations, thanks to syndication.

"I love that show, and I really enjoyed learning more about both the show and him," said Elizabeth Jordan, 18. "I'd have to say my favorite episode was 'The Pickle Story.'"

Don Knotts left the series only in response to Griffith's intention to end the series after five seasons. He accepted the title role in "The Incredible Mr. Limpet" and signed a multi-year film deal with Universal Pictures.

Knotts followed the film roles with a short-lived NBC variety series. The variety format was not his cup of tea.

"It was far different from doing a sitcom," Karen said. "There was also trouble with the writers and trying to get good material."

Knotts also did cartoon voice roles, most notably two guest spots on "Scooby Doo."

"That was the first time I saw him," said Michael Preston, 25, who also attended the library event. "From there, I started watching him on other shows, and I've been a fan ever since."

Karen also discussed growing up with her father in Beverly Hills after her parents divorced and the close relationship they enjoyed during her high school and college years.

"I had trouble making friends, so he decided to have a swim party at our house and let me invite my entire high school class," Karen said. "That's just the kind of loving father I had."

He took on the role of landlord Ralph Furley in 1979 on the sitcom "Three's Company," which paired him with John Ritter, who would become a close friend.

Similar to his earlier series, writers did not originally put Knotts in a prominent role. That changed upon the departure of Suzanne Somers, which led to a bigger role for Knotts.

"He got all the 'dingy' lines and essentially became the replacement for Chrissy Snow," Karen said.

Knotts spent the rest of his career doing guest spots, occasional movie roles and a reunion of "The Andy Griffith Show."

Karen even got to work on the TV movie, playing the secretary for Opie (her longtime friend Ron Howard). But she recalled that it was not an extremely happy experience for her father.

"It just wasn't the same, as he told me," she said.

Karen and her father enjoyed a close relationship during his final years. Her father knew he had reached the end when he was diagnosed with cancer.

"In his last hours, I asked him if he would make it," she said. "He simply said, 'No!'"

Karen said she forever misses her father, and that he was always grateful for the opportunities he had as an actor.

"He so enjoyed bringing people happiness and laughter," she said.

As for Powers, she left with a whole new appreciation for Don Knotts.

"They just don't make them like him anymore," she said.

SUNDAY, MAY 4

Food Fest at Abundant Life

More than 100 food items will be served at the Abundant Life Church Food Fest on May 4 at 5 p.m. Cost is $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12. Tickets are available at the door. ## Denham Springs Garden Club presents 50 years of historical archives

The Denham Springs Garden Club made a presentation of their 50-year history to Denham Springs Mayor Jimmy Durbin at a reception held at Old City Hall on the morning of April 21. A compilation of documents, clippings and a written history documenting Garden Club activities during half a century were archived by a committee co-chaired by Earline Sceroler and Alice Pittman. Father Dan Kurtz gave the invocation, and President Virginia Bruce presided over the ceremony. Six past club presidents and officers were present for the commemoration along with members of other civic organizations and friends. Mayor Durbin recognized the Garden Club's many years of service to the City of Denham Springs. The archived materials will be preserved at Old City Hall.

Parish Girl Scouts host Drivers Safety Day in Watson

Livingston Parish Girl Scouts joined forces for a Drivers Safety Awareness Day at the Watson Walmart, with each group sponsoring a different station.

- Cadette Troop 10046 sponsored a "Paws 2 Buckle" information station on pet transport.
- Junior Troop 10381 and Brownie Troop 10622 demonstrated Proper Child Restraint with a height and weight check.
- Brownie Troop 12604 offered to fit patrons for bike helmets.
- Brownie Troop 12611 maintained a Road Sign and Kiddie Obstacle Course.
- Junior Troop 10031 set up a Girl Scout Information station.
- Daisies through Juniors in Troop

10384 had Be Safe Be Seen with face painting, balloons, safety coloring sheets and crayons.

In addition, local first responders set up their own displays.

- Livingston Parish Fire Protection District 4 provided their Fire-truck and Smokehouse.
- Acadian Ambulance brought an ambulance and representative.
- Livingston Parish Sheriff Jason Ard judged a poster contest on safety.
- Livingston Parish Sheriff's Deputy provided information on child seat installation.
- Livingston Parish Sheriff's Office provided a D.A.R.E. officer.
- Louisiana State Police provided a fatal vision goggles obstacle course.

LISA DOWTY | THE NEWS

IN OUR SCHOOLS

Fun Day, aka May Day, is a tradition at Live Oak High School that dates back 50 years. The students compose teams of 14 to compete in favorite events including tug-of-war, human pyramid, softball toss, 3-legged race and more. Above, students engage in a tug-of-war, and below Laura Staub, at the top of the human pyramid for Team Sombreros, reaches for the big ball thrown to her by Michaela Bozeman (right). The school-wide event is loads of fun, and the students look forward to it every year.

The kindergarten and Pre-K classes at Gray's Creek Elementary recently studied the life cycle of a butterfly. All six classes watched as live caterpillars built cocoons and then hatched into butterflies. Members of Karen Callender's pre-K class releasing their butterflies are (clockwise from front) Michael Hays, Hollis Walker, Grayson Rogers, Hayden Misner and Elizabeth Harrinon. At right, Hayden Misher is tickled to hold a butterfly on his finger.

POTLUCK FROM THE PARISH

Hunter's Style Pork Chops

- 1 Tbsp. salad oil
- 4 pork loin blade chops, each cut 3/4-inch thick
- 2 medium-sized green peppers
- 1 medium-sized onion
- 1/2 lb. mushrooms
- 1 (8-oz.) bottle sweet-spicy French dressing
- 1/4 c. water
- 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 tomato, chopped

In 12-inch skillet over medium-high heat in hot salad oil, cook pork loin blade chops until browned on both sides. Remove chops to plate. Meanwhile, cut green pepper into strips. Chop onion. Cut mushrooms in half if they are large. In drippings remaining in skillet over medium heat, cook vegetables until tender-crisp, stirring occasionally. Return pork chops to skillet. Stir in French dressing and remaining ingredients except tomato; heat to boiling. Reduce heat to low; cover and simmer 45 minutes to 1 hour until chops are fork-tender. Skim fat. Add tomato; heat. Makes 4 main-dish servings.

This recipe was first published in "Tasteful Treasures," a cookbook tribute to the Maurepas School and Community by the Class of 2006. It was submitted by Rhonda Pettit.

Livingston Parish organizations who are selling cookbooks and would like to publicize them in this column should call 665-5176. Phone numbers to order the cookbook will be published along with any recipes taken from books still in print. Favorite recipes of other Livingston Parish cooks will also be considered for publication.

Jackets shut out Airline

DAVID NORMAND | THE NEWS

Denham Springs batter Ashton Martin beats out the throw on a grounder to the left side of the infield as Airline first baseman Chase Rivers reaches for the ball during second inning action Tuesday.

3-0 win sends Denham to ‘best of three’ vs. Dutchtown

By Sam Muffoletto

The Livingston Parish News

DENHAM SPRINGS – In just over an hour and a half, Denham Springs took care of its first playoff opponent Tuesday, as the No. 4 seeded Yellow Jackets shut out No. 29 Airline 3-0.

The Class 5A bi-district round single game at North Park’s A.B. Netterville Field was a preliminary to a best of three scheduled for this weekend in round 2. The Yellow Jackets, which improved to 26-9 overall, faced Dutchtown Friday at North Park, with a second game scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday and a third if necessary at 4 p.m. Dutchtown beat Lafayette 9-0 to advance.

While DSHS head coach Mark Carroll was hoping to toss all three of his top hurlers in the contest, he ended up sending just two up to the mound, with senior Mac Sceroler and junior Bailey Holstein combining on the five-hitter.

Sceroler threw the first five frames, allowing just one hit, with three walks and four strikeouts, while Holstein gave up two hits apiece in both the sixth and seventh innings, but recorded three strikeouts in picking up the save.

Senior top-of-the-order hitter Carl Guidry acted more like a 4-hole hitter in the bottom of the second, as he came through with a clutch two-out, two-RBI single. The Yellow Jackets scored all three of their runs in that frame.

Denham was aided by a pair of hit-batsmen in the inning.

Ashton Martin, who collected two of Denham’s three hits, both of the infield variety, got on with one out when he beat-out a slow roller.

Both Travis Swaggerty and Tanner Magee were then hit by pitches to load the bases for senior second-baseman Wes Brown, who drove in the first run (Martin) of the game with a ground-out to second.

Guidry then jumped on the first pitch from starter Kyle Backofen and drove in both Swaggerty and Magee with his base-hit to shallow-to-medium right field.

“We get that clutch two-out hit to score two runs, and when you can do that, you have a chance to win,” said Carroll. “Those two-out hits will always be a key for you.”

“I knew (Airline pitcher) Kyle (Backofen),” said Carroll. “He threw for me in

Intense Holden dominates Maurepas, 11-1

By Dave Moormann

The Livingston Parish News

MAUREPAS — From the enthusiasm Holden showed during its 11-1, five-inning victory over 16th-seeded Maurepas on Thursday, it was hard to tell the 17th-seeded Rockets entered their Class B first-round state baseball playoff game on a five-game losing streak.

“I haven’t seen that intensity in awhile,” Holden coach David White said. “I asked the older guys to show leadership, and they did a good job.”

The result was a regional showdown next week with top-seeded Monterey, which drew a first round-by-.

A bone spur in his right elbow kept senior Ray Hutchinson from pitching against Maurepas, but the Southeastern Louisiana University signee contributed a run-scoring double in the top of the first inning and scored in the Rockets’ seven-run third.

Hutchinson, who played flawlessly at second base, was just one of many who prospered for the visiting Rockets.

“Every kid on the roster contributed,” White said.

With Hutchinson shelved as a pitcher and only cleared to play last week, Andrew Carlton took over on the mound. Carlton didn’t disappoint, either, in scattering three hits, including Denver Delatte’s solo home run in the bottom of the first.

Delatte’s drive three feet from the left-field foul pole knotted the score at 1-1. Holden had scored first in the top of the inning when it opened the game with three hits and threatened to score even more.

Eagles down S. Houston

By Mike Dowty

The Livingston Parish News

WATSON — Junior right-hander Hunter Merritt took the mound for only his second start at home in the most important game of the season to date for Live Oak.

Bam! Sam Houston leadoff hitter Cliff Reid singled on the first pitch. The next pitch was a passed ball that allowed Reid to move to second and scoring position with no one out.

A ground out advanced Reid to third before Dustin Duhon singled to put runners at the corners. When catcher Jared Forest gunned down Duhon trying to steal second moments later, Reid scored.

That would turn out to be the last hurrah for the visiting Broncos as Merritt would surrender only one hit the rest of the night in a masterful performance on the way to a 2-1 first round playoff victory.

Live Oak leadoff hitter Lenni Kunert evened the score in the bottom of the first with a solo home run to left center field. In the 4th inning no. 9 hitter Tyler Alexander produced the winning RBI with two outs to bring home Brady Morris. The Eagles now stay at home as the result of an upset win across the bracket to host East Ascension (EA) in a best 2-of-3 game series starting Friday at 6 p.m. and concluding Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. if a third game is required. EA, the 26th seed in 5A, edged 7th seed Comeaux on the road, 3-2. Despite having to travel in the first round, the 5A baseball format gives the home field advantage in round 2 to the higher seed. Live Oak went into the field seeded 10th.

Merritt was all business after getting rocked early, going the distance through the remaining 6 scoreless innings, allowing just one more hit while striking out two and giving up one walk, also in the first inning.

“I just had to settle in and focus,” he said. “I got my head right and just worried about throwing strikes.”

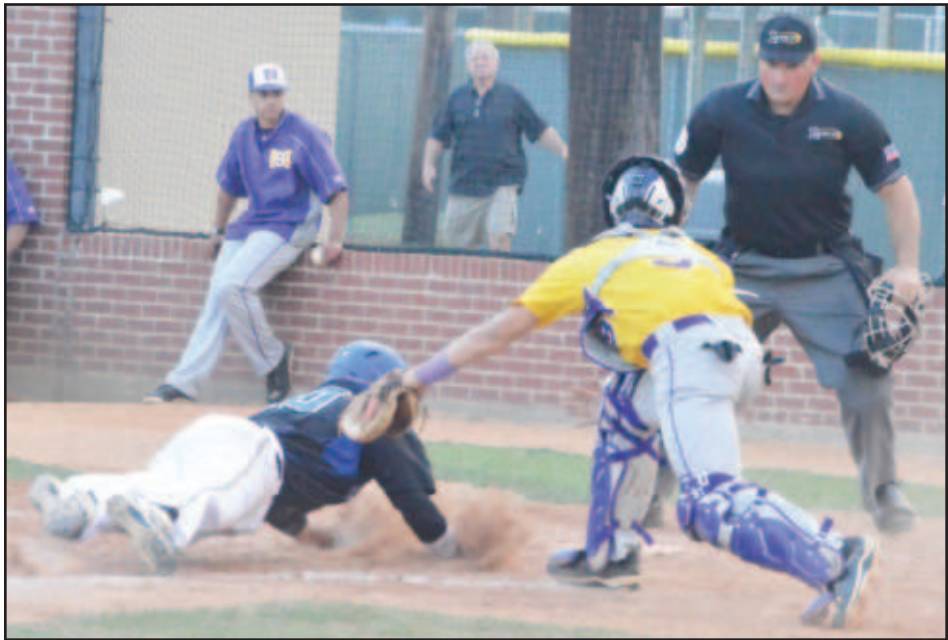

While Merritt was clearly the more effective of the two pitchers, Sam Houston’s Peyton McLemore was no slouch, going the distance while giving up a respectable six hits and just two walks to go along with a hit batsman.

“I knew he hasn’t been giving up a lot of runs and offensively we don’t score a lot,” said Live Oak Coach Gregg Briggs to explain why the game he got was exactly the defensive struggle he expected.

That worked out well for the fans too as thunder began threatening for the first time in the 5th inning and, moments after a ground out ended the a (summer-league) double-header last summer. So I knew he's a quality pitcher and he can mix it up."

Backofen went the distance on the mound for the Vikings, allowing just three hits, with just one walk and three strikeouts, but hit three batters.

"But I thought Mac (Sceroler) did a great job for us setting the tone," said Carroll. "And then we got that big line-drive double-play to Wes (Brown) for one our big defensive plays of the day."

What Carroll was alluding to came in the top of the fourth inning, as the Vikings' lead-off batter Jarrett Bamburg was aboard with a bloop single to right. Three-hole hitter Will Goodwin then lined a screamer heading for the hole between first and second, but Yellow Jackets' second-baseman Brown snatched the ball and easily doubled-off Bamburg at first.

What made the play even more important was that Sceroler walked the next two batters, before getting Dylan Elliot to ground into a force-out at second to end the inning.

Airline, which out-hit Denham 5 to 3, put two on with no outs in the sixth, as Cameron Taylor and Bamburg greeted reliever Holstein with back-to-back singles.

Holstein struck out the next two batters and got Chase Rivers to fly out to shallow left field to end the threat.

And then in the seventh, the Vikings' Andrew Beene and Hayden Waxley collected one-out back-to-back singles through the hole at short and then into shallow left field, but Holstein bore down once again. He struck out Tanner Daniel for the second out of the inning, then got Taylor to jump on the first pitch and fly out to left to end the game.

"They (Airline) are a district champion and I knew coming in that they were going to be a quality opponent," said Carroll. "They have a quality program and they're a very young team. So they're going to be a team to be reckoned with for a few years."

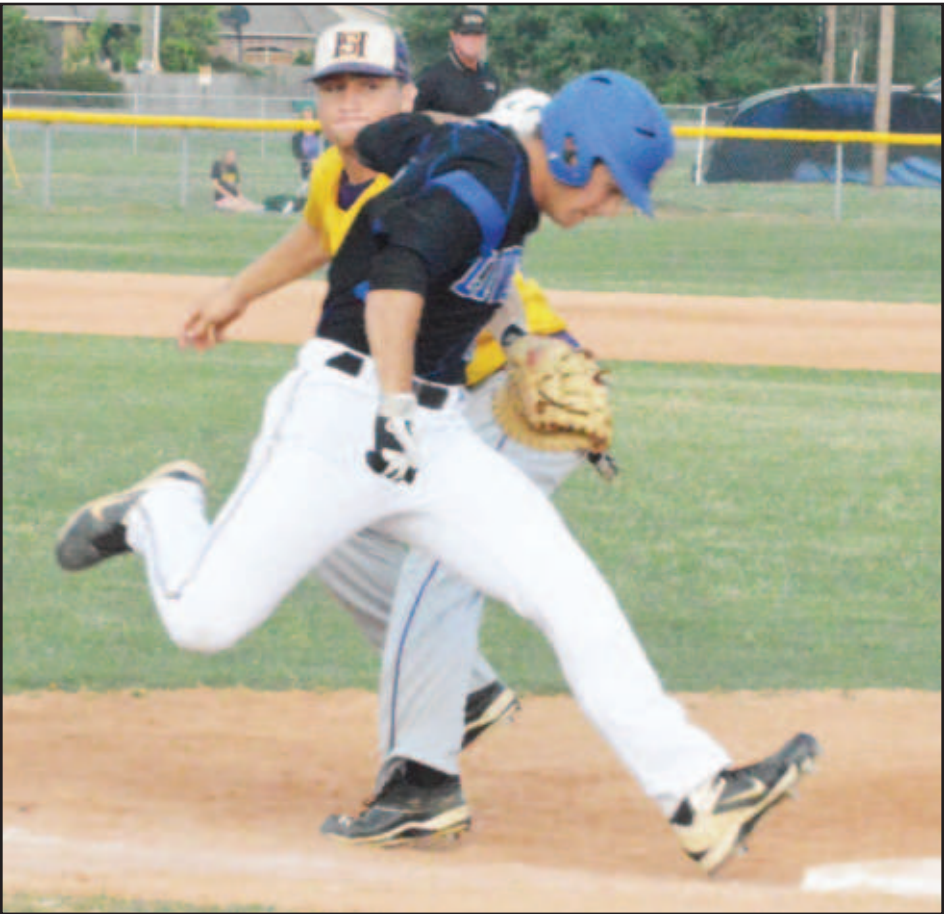

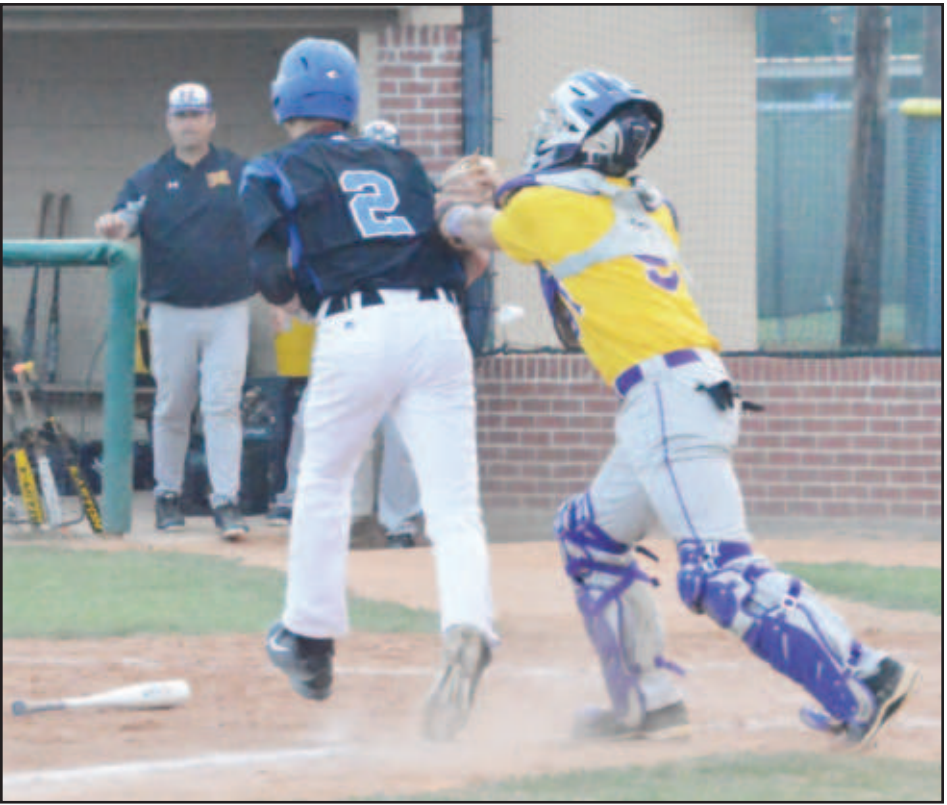

The Vikings ended their year with an 18-17 overall record.

game, the skies opened up, sending fans scurrying for their cars.

Live Oak led off the first four innings with base hits, but after Kunert's home run was unable to produce runs until the fourth when Morris got aboard with his single, advanced to second on a grounder by Zach Hansen and, after a flyout by Colby Freneau, was brought home off Alexander's single.

Meanwhile, Sam Houston's Dayton Dugas led off the 6th inning with the other single against Merritt, but was caught stealing by Forest moments later, and Merritt cleaned up for them with the next five consecutive outs.

For Live Oak, Kunert singled twice in addition to his home runs for half his team's hits, while Hansen joined the list of hitters with a single as well in the second inning.

Live Oak improved to 26-8 overall, while Sam Houston finished its season at 17-15.

before Hutchinson's double in the right-field corner scored the game's first run and left runners on second and third with no outs. Delatte escaped the jam without further damage when he induced two line-drive outs to short center field and struck out Zach Addison to end the inning. Delatte answered with his one-out homer to tie the score, and Donovan Thibodeaux followed with a walk. But indicative of the misfortune that hounded the Wolves, Chaz Scivicque lined a hard shot to right field on a hit-and-run. Thibodeaux, who was already around second base, was doubled up to end the inning. Maurepas had chances to score more runs throughout the game but left seven runners on base, including three in the fifth when it loaded the bases only to have Austin Aime fly out to deep left field to end the game. "We had an opportunity in the first but then we lined into a double play," Maurepas coach Anthony Gregoire said. "Usually it's a battle (when Maurepas plays Holden), but we didn't have an answer for them today." The District 8-B foes split during the regular season with Holden winning at home in nine innings, 5-4, and Maurepas taking an 11-6 victory on its field. The tie-breaking match proved to be no contest, with Holden improving to 15-15 and Maurepas ending its season at 12-14. One of Holden's victories came against Monterey with Ray Hutchinson on the mound. Holden scored in every inning but the second when Dawson Hutchinson smacked a one-out double to right field yet was stranded when Delatte struck out the next two hitters.

Maurepas put runners on second and third base with one out in the second when T.J. Stewart and Christian Vicknair stroked back-to-back hits and moved up on a wild pitch. Carlton ended the inning when he threw three called strikes past the last two hitters in Maurepas' order. Holden emphatically snapped the early deadlock with its seven-run third that launched the Rockets on their path to the 10-run-rule victory. In sending 11 batters to the plate, Holden benefitted from four walks, three hits and two errors. In an indication of what was to come, Michael drove a leadoff triple to left-center field. Hutchinson walked, and Michael scampered home when Delatte's pickoff throw sent Hutchinson scurrying to second as he easily beat a late throw to the base. Carlton then walked on a full count, and Austin Bassemier followed with a run-scoring single. Addison lifted a fly ball to right field that eluded Stewart for a three-base, two-run error. Hunter Street followed with a first-pitch, run-scoring single and, after a walk to Dawson Hutchinson, Delatte was lifted in favor of Jace Berthelot, who had begun the game at shortstop. Berthelot promptly walked nine-hole hitter Michael Bergeron to load the bases without an out. Berthelot retired the next three hitters but not before Holden scored two more runs to take an 8-1 lead. Aaron Carlton hit a run-scoring fielder's choice grounder to shortstop before Michael sent a sacrifice fly to center field. After having been chased from the mound, Delatte ended the inning with a diving catch of Hutchinson's fly ball to left field.

"It's just intensity," White said in explaining Holden's explosion. "We haven't been playing with that kind of intensity." Delatte was hit with a one-out pitch in the third and Scivicque drew a two-out walk. But it all went for naught when Aime hit a first-pitch groundout to second base. "He kept it in the zone," Gregoire said of winning pitcher Andrew Carlton, "and they played good defense behind him." Holden picked up a run in the fourth when Bassemier sandwiched a single in between two strikeouts and scored on Street's triple. Maurepas went down in order in the fourth before Holden scored the two runs it needed for a 10-run-rule victory in the fifth. Bergeron hit a lead-off single to right and moved to second on Aaron Carlton's sacrifice bunt. Bergeron advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on a grounder to shortstop that was muffed for an error. Hutchinson reached on an error at third base, and Bassemier made his way home on Andrew Carlton's fielder's-choice grounder to shortstop. Holden managed to hold off Maurepas in the bottom of the fifth to end the game early, but it didn't come easy. Brody Babin drew a leadoff walk and took second on a wild pitch. Berthelot popped out to center field, but Delatte was hit by a pitch for the second time. Thibodeaux flied out to right, but Scivicque walked to load the bases. Maurepas' Aime flirted with a home run only to have Addison corral the ball just short of the left-field fence to preserve the Rockets' victory and advance them one step further into the postseason. Holden 107 12 — 11 10 0

Doyle falls to Runnels, 5-1

By Sam Muffoletto
The Livingston Parish News

LIVINGSTON – Runnels pitcher Riggs March batters all day long on law enforcement after his baseball days are over. He handcuffed the Doyle Tiger squad fell to a league foe in the No. 22 Raiders, a team they had defeated two out of three times in District 7-2A.

March, who at one point in the game retired 11 straight Tiger batters, limited Doyle to just four hits, with no walks and 11 strikeouts.

“Anytime you have a guy throwing two pitches for strikes, it’s going to be a long day,” said Doyle head coach Tim Beatty.

“And we don’t bang the ball around. That isn’t our forte’. We’re about pitching and playing defense.”

Doyle had faced March just last week in a district game that ended with the Raiders winning on a walk-off balk call on the Tigers. Doyle had beaten Runnels easily in the first two district games by the scores of 10-0 and 8-1.

“But he (March) really commanded his pitches well today,” said Beatty.

“Hats off to him. He threw his curve ball anytime he wanted to and he threw it a lot. We chased it or we didn’t hit it when he laid it in there.”

Senior left-hander Jacob Buchanan made just a couple of mistakes in both the first and third innings, but Runnels’ Bobby Johnson, the son of Raiders’ head coach Tookie Johnson, made him pay.

Buchanan walked the second batter he faced after striking out the first to start the game, but opposing pitcher and 3-hole hitter March then helped his own cause with an RBI triple in the gap in the left-centerfield.

Johnson, who was 3-for-4 on the day, with a double and four runs batted in, made it 2-0 with a sharp single in the hole at shortstop.

Doyle cut the deficit in half in the bottom of the second, when the Tigers scored their lone run of the game. Junior Blaine Ouber reached on an error with one out and then fellow junior Justin Ridgell followed with an RBI double in the gap in right-centerfield.

Ridell was stranded at second, as March got the next two batters on a strikeout and a fly-out to center.

Doyle would not get its next hit until the sixth.

Meanwhile, in the third inning, Johnson’s brother Johnny led off with a single to right field, and then Buchanan hit the next batter, Parker LeBlanc.

After striking out March, Bobby Johnson jumped on the first pitch for a two-run double to the base of the left-field fence that widened the lead to 4-0.

“We went with Jacob Buchanan, who entered the game 7-0 on the year, but I guess he just didn’t have his best stuff today,” said Beatty. “But that happens anytime you have to play a good baseball team like Runnels, which is a well-coached team. I wish them the best of luck for sure.”

After Buchanan hit the leadoff batter in the fourth, Beatty brought in junior Tyler Pigott, who went the rest of the way on the mound.

Pigott allowed just three hits, but gave up a double to LeBlanc and a two-out RBI single to Bobby Johnson in the seventh for one last insurance run for the Raiders.

Doyle had only three base-runners over the last five innings, two of which reached on an error and hit-batsman.

Pigott doubled with two outs in the sixth, but was stranded, while Ridgell singled with one out in the seventh, but March brought down the curtain on the Tigers’ season by striking out the next two batters to end the game.

“I thought we had a good game-plan (at the plate),” said Beatty. “We worked on going away, going away, because I knew that’s what they (Runnels) were going to do. But it just didn’t happen for us today.

“That (two-run deficit in the first) was the first time we really had to play catch-up all year,” said Beatty. “I don’t know if we were shell-shocked, or it got us out of our game or what, but we were just a little tight today.

“But we had a great season,” said Beatty. “We finished up 23-7, but it is tough to be No. 11 and have to play a top quality baseball team like Runnels. And a district opponent that we just finished up with last week.”

Mrs. Cindy Hill a property owner adjacent Moore Street was present to inquire as to Item 9 on the agenda; Approval to Dispose of Unimproved Right of Way (Moore Street)

Mr. Paul Roberts made a motion, seconded by Mr. Tracy Girlinghouse to table item #9 until more information could be made available.

stated that the City is continually trying to earn points to increase the percentage of discounts allowed for the citizens of Walker.

Mayor Ramsey explained to the Council that the City had been looking into several ways to recoup lost revenue and make it more convenient to pay for fines. He informed the Council that he would be considering entering into an agreement with nCourt for collection of outstanding and current fines. nCourt will provide all of the equipment and services for the electronic payment service at no cost to the City.

Mayor Ramsey informed the Council that he had received information from CEIS digital sign company. CEIS will erect a digital monumental style sign with no cost to the City. CEIS will sell advertising to offset the cost of the sign. Mayor Ramsey also stated the sign will help to keep the citizens informed as to upcoming events, weather conditions etc.

Mayor Ramsey informed the Council that the City of Walker's ball park sign located at Hwy 447 and Ball Park Road was on property belonging to Mr. Dale Stram. Mr. Stram has indicated that he would like to sell the property to the City or the City would need to move the sign. The cost of the property would be $50,000.00 and the cost for moving the sign, would be approximately $25,000.00. As a result Mayor Ramsey, recommended the City purchase the property. A motion was made by Mr. Tracy Girlinghouse and seconded by Mr. Paul Roberts to approve the purchase of the property for $50,000.00.

Mayor Ramsey informed the Council that the City was discussing the possibility of entering into a contract with Continental Utility Solutions, Inc. (CUI) for the purpose of making on-line payments by credit card into the utility billing software which is now currently being used by the City. There will be a charge of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) for the utility billing software update. Mayor Ramsey indicated that this will save the City money on the cost of having to process credit cards for those that use the on-line system. Mr. Tracy Girlinghouse made a motion, seconded by Paul Roberts to sign the contract entering into the agreement with CUI to purchase the software at $2,000.00.

Wildcats clawed by Bearcats, 10-0

RUSTON – Caden Doga drove in five runs, while pitcher Michael Burkhalter limited Walker to just three hits, as the Wildcats were shut out by the Bearcats 10-0 in Class 5A bi-district round baseball playoff action last Tuesday.

The game was halted in the bottom of the sixth via the 10-run rule. Ruston, which held a slim 2-0 lead through four and a half innings, erupted for five runs in the bottom of the fifth and then added three in the sixth to bring an end to the contest.

Bryce Tassin tossed the first five innings for the Cats in suffering the loss on the mound, with teammate Justin Watson getting two outs in the sixth before Ruston scored the 10th run to end the game.

Tassin picked up two of Walker's three hits.

Coach Randy Sandifer's squad ended the season with an 18-16 overall record, while the Bearcats moved on the best-of-three series in the regional round with a 23-11 mark.

Walker 000 000 — 0 3 0
Ruston 002 053 — 10 13 0
W — Michael Burkhalter. L — Bryce Tassin.

Be it further ordained that all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.
