On the Record

Oct. 3 - Oct. 12

Savannah Police Dept.

The following items are derived directly from official Savannah Police Department reports and spokesmen.

October 3

On October 3, at approximately 10:53 p.m., Breanna Jordan Holder, 31, of Savannah, was arrested for domestic assault.

Officers were dispatched to 70 Julia D Lane in regards to a possible physical domestic. Upon arrival, the officer was greeted by the victim, who was sitting on his vehicle outside the residence. The officer proceeded to speak with him, who advised that Breanna Holder followed him outside and attempted to take his keys from him to prevent him from leaving. He stated that Holder came at him several times before he leg-swept her, causing her to fall to the ground. He stated that Holder struck her head when she fell. He also advised that she cut her hand when she jumped onto the vehicle in an attempt to stop him from leaving. Holder was located in the garage of the residence and advised that she had cameras that captured the entire incident. Holder stated that she was only attempting to prevent him from leaving because he had been drinking alcohol. Holder then showed officers the video footage, which showed the victims account of the incident to be accurate. Holder was then placed under arrest for Domestic Assault.

October 12

At approximately 10:10 p.m., Dustin Cecil Rinks, 43, of Crump TN, was arrested for Driving under the influence.

An officer was dispatched to 575 Main Street in reference to an accident with injury. Upon arrival, County units and Savannah Fire were already on scene. The officer started collecting information to do the accident report. The officer then made contact with the driver of the Silver SUV that flipped upside down. While speaking to him the officer could smell a strong odor of intoxicants coming from his person. As the officer was talking to him and asked him what happened he stated

"I am not going to lie I have been drinking and it is my fault". The officer identified him as Dustin Rinks and he stated he was the driver of the car. Savannah Fire had to cut him out of the driver seat. Due to the rollover accident and being unable to administer Standardized Field Sobriety Tests, the officer advised Rinks that they would be requesting a blood draw and that he would be under arrest for DUI. Rinks stated "I don't want to go to the hospital, it's my fault and I don't need to do a blood draw because I am confessing that I already drank alcohol". The officer advised him that they still needed to request for a blood draw and read the implied consent form to him. He was then transported to the Hardin County Hospital by ambulance and once at the Emergency Room he refused care. The officer then placed him in handcuffs and transported him back to the Laboratory for the blood draw. The officer read Rinks the implied consent form and he stated he consented and the blood draw was completed. The officer then transported Rinks to the Hardin County Jail and advised him again he was under arrest for Driving Under the Influence.

Tennessee State Parks dedicates Buffalo River State Park

The 69th state park will expand access to outdoor recreation on biodiverse Buffalo River

Tennessee State Parks dedicated Buffalo River State Park last Friday, formally welcoming 448 acres of rolling pastures and wooded hillsides in Wayne County along the scenic and biodiverse Buffalo River as the state's 69th state park.

Located in Linden near the Perry County line, the new state park will feature more than two miles of river frontage, including the largest horseshoe bend on the river, providing visitors with increased opportunities to reconnect with nature.

"The Buffalo River is the longest free-flowing tributary of the Tennessee River, and this newest state park will offer Tennesseans and visitors greater access to experience its beauty and biodiversity," said David Salyers, commissioner of the Tennessee

Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC). "The investments made by Gov. Bill Lee and the Tennessee General Assembly will protect this high-value river corridor while preserving traditional outdoor recreation opportunities in rural Tennessee."

The current state budget includes $34 million designated for development of a visitor center, campground, maintenance facility, roadways, river access and other amenities.

"In addition to the support from Gov. Lee and our state legislators, we are grateful for the resources from the Heritage Conservation Trust Fund and the Tennessee State Parks Conservancy which helped us acquire the land," said TDEC Deputy Commissioner Brian Clifford. "Buffalo River State Park has truly been a collaborative effort and an investment in conservation that will benefit Tennesseans for generations to come."

"The Heritage Conservation Trust Fund Board is proud to support the acquisition of land for Buffalo River State Park. This investment will help protect the river's outstanding natural resources while expanding opportunities for Tennesseans to enjoy and connect with this special landscape," said Drew Goddard, board chairman of the Tennessee Heritage Conservation Trust Fund.

"The Buffalo River is an incredibly special place, and we are proud that the Tennessee State Parks Conservancy could play a role in protecting it for generations to come," said

TDEC leadership, Tennessee State Parks rangers and staff, and conservation partners help dedicate Buffalo River State Park in Linden, Tenn. as the 69th state park.

Cool nights and warm afternoons remind me of being in grade school. That is way back there for me. However, I recall wearing sweaters or jackets to school and then in the afternoon dragging my outerwear home. I dress in layers this time of year and I enjoy this time of year.

The weather turned warmer on the weekend of the Counce Counts Fair as outdoor vendors at District 3 Community Center welcomed many to the day of learning about some of the vendors available in our area. All were wrapped warmly to sustain them through the low temperatures that came in overnight. The indoor vendors were selling a large variety of locally made products, some made to eat, and lots of gift ideas. Proceeds went to the community center which supports many events for the seniors in our area. It sure seemed like folks had fun.

Everyone I know seems to have the sniffles. Some say allergy, some say cold. I'm loading up on the vitamin C and zinc to ensure I do not have a repeat of last winter.

Fall colors fill many of the trees in Shiloh Military Park making this the perfect time of year to visit the park for the beauty and learn about the Civil War by stopping in the Visitor Center. The center is open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

I just completed the book, Refugee by Allan Gratz. A very close look at families that immigrate from war-ridden countries where they are misplaced. A good reminder of how blessed we are to live in the United States of America. An important message that gave me even more compassion for those who feel they most leave their home country.

District 3 Community Center Fundraiser

The 10th annual Counce Counts, which was held October 16 and 17 at District 3 Community Center, featured 25 local vendors with a large variety of locally made arts and crafts. Proceeds always go to support the community center.

This year Pattie and David Barnes worked to put together local vendors and a few businesses. Each gave their all to create a fun day filled with superior arts, crafts, and food, as well as supporting the Coast Guard and TK Realty.

A past participant, artist and illustrator, Cindy Scott creates beautiful Pickwick wildlife and scenes in acrylic paint and sells the prints. Scott could not attend this year, however she donated two of her popular prints titled, "Waterfall at Pickwick."

TK Realty offered to create an online auction to sell the prints, with proceeds going to District 3 Community Center.
