Cedar County sees COVID-19 scammers

Bv Miles Brite milesb@cedarepublican.com

As the novel coronavirus continues to disrupt the economy and the lives of all Americans, phone scammers are not far behind in their efforts to utilize the nationwide pandemic to their criminal advantage.

As reports of COVID-19 and social security-related scam attempts are on the rise in Missouri, Cedar County has been no exception and started to see scam attempts begin to take place in recent weeks.

Stephanie Garland, regional director of the Springfield office of the Better Business Bureau, said recent scam attempts have been made in the El Dorado Springs area of Cedar County, targeting senior citizens and those receiving Social Security benefits.

'They're playing off of people's immediate psychological reactions," Garland said. "Given the current things going on, people are more reactionary and likely to act before realizing what's going on. It's just human nature."

Combatting the dubious activity, the Better Business Bureau office in Springfield has reached out to counties across the state, offering presentations, assistance and educational information regarding current scam activities.

The BBB has numerous resources, connections and law enforcement networking capabilities to ensure any potential scam reported is followed up on the fullest extent with local, state and federal entities.

SAMA Back to School Fair at R-I sees success

By Kathryn Skopec kathryns@cedarrepublican.com

The elementary school cafeteria at Stockton R-I was safely filled with familiar and new faces at the Stockton Area Ministerial Alliance Back to School Fair on Saturday morning, Aug. 2.

Jacob Haugat, a local youth minister, said SAMA and R-I host the event every year, but this year was "a little different," due to the novel coronavirus pandemic; usually, the fair has booths set up outside with games and activities, as well as providing shoes and haircuts, but this year's fair focused solely on handing out school supplies to students, he said.

Every kid can come in, get signed up and get back to school supplies for free, Haugat said. "All of this is donated."

El Do city council kicks into August

Council approves plan for online bill paying, closes Civic Center showers

By Kathryn Skopec kathrvns@cedarrepublican.com

Switching up the shower usage policy at El Dorado City's Civic Center, considering resolutions of awarding bids for various projects and putting in plans for an online utility bill paying system were discussed at El Dorado Springs' city council meeting on Monday, Aug. 3.

Near the beginning of the meeting, a member from the public spoke to the council about her concern over a local resident "squatting" in a boarded-up house near her own residence, as well as near the R-II school district. The person said this issue was causing her grave concern and adding stress to her cancer diagnosis and asked if an ordinance could be passed to prevent people from entering boarded-up houses; the council discussed the issue at hand and said they would look more into the matter.

Moving forward, the council unanimously approved a resolution awarding a bid for banking services, with the Community Bank of El Dorado Springs being designated as the city depository until such time as bids are required again.

The council also approved a resolution awarding a bid for a 12 inch water main pipe for the city's water department; the Core and Main was awarded the bid for 2,240 feet of the 12 inch water main pipe for $24,259.20.

The city solicited bids for high voltage tree trimming services, and the bid was awarded to That Poor Boy Tree Services for $6,072.

Further down the agenda, Charlie Cantrell, the El Do Civic Center's coordinator, spoke to the board about his concerns over the public usage of the center's showers.

Due to the novel coronavirus pandemic, Cantrell said the center has seen its bathrooms and showers be cleaned and fixed up; however, the problem of vandalism in the showers has grown larger in the past year.

You've got kids coming in there, but the people that are taking the showers — they're trashing it sometimes," Cantrell said.

Cantrell's concern lies with the kids who frequent the center, as well as local residents who work out in the center, saying the use of the showers by people who vandalize and sometimes leave needles ultimately creates an unsafe environment and defies the community center's purpose for recreational activities.

"I just feel like this isn't a shelter house," Cantrell said. "This is not a good situation."

After further discussion and questions by the council, city manager Bruce Rogers suggested it might be best to take the shower heads off and put caps over them to prevent further usage.

FAIR

Donations for the school supplies come from the community, Haugat noted, with business leaders and private donations hauling in notebooks, folders, pencils and more.

Haugat said there were initially some worries the event would have potentially been canceled due to the coronavirus pandemic, but SAMA and R-I administrators came up with a plan and "the best way to do this, and that's why we're not having a fair this year for that very reason."

At the fair, the event had a mixture of community and district faculty and staff members volunteering, as well as volunteers from local churches and the community, Haugat said.

Overall, Haugat said, the Back to School Fair event is important for the community because "usually hundreds of kids come through, and they all get school supplies, and that's so important for everybody to have school supplies and for the community to be able to reach out and show that love."

"SAMA and the school — we all care about our community," Haugat said. "We want to see our kids succeed."

Garland noted in recent instances happening locally, scammers usually will mention law enforcement finding personal information in a vehicle and ask a potential victim to provide "confirmation" of individual identification information — in turn obtaining a person's private details and financial information for personal illicit gains — usually utilizing scare tactics or sometime of short-term 24-hour timeframe for default or legal action.

Garland went on to confirm this was another way scammers are playing on people's heightened senses of protection and vulnerability as the nation progresses through the current COVID-19 situation.

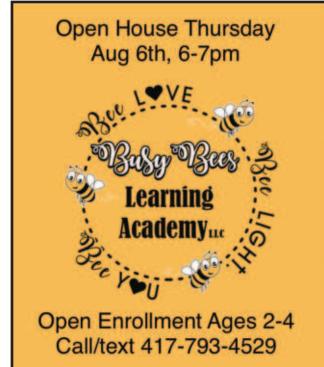

Again, these all are false statements made by scammers in an effort to get a person to react in an effort to keep themselves out of some sort of perceived trouble and surrender personal or financial information while in a state of confusion and/or panic.

"Knowledge is power," Garland said. "Both consumers should be aware of these things, as well as local law enforcement and the Better Business Bureau. No one can investigate something and hand it over to the proper authorities if it isn't known about it."

Garland also encouraged community members who feel as though they may have been scammed or been party to any scam attempt to call her office directly at (417) 380-5074 or send a written complain to the regional office located at 2754 S. Campbell Ave., Springfield, MO.

The BBB never charges a few for any investigatory efforts and additional information regarding preventative measures can be obtained by visiting bbb.org, and complaints also can be filed with the organization's website.

Councilman Jimmy Luster made a motion for the Civic Center's showers to be capped. The motion was approved unanimously.

During Rogers' city manager report, he spoke on the avenue of an online bill paying system for city utility bills possibly being paved, including implementing recorded calls for payments during after-hours.

He spoke on the logistics of working with softwares and companies to implement the new system, as well as fees and maintenance costs for the system;

additionally, Rogers said the city is looking into implementing direct deposit payments for employees.

"I think this could go a long way in moving our technology forward in our office staff," Gayman said, noting these systems will likely lessen interruptions for city staff who take payments and checks in person or via phone.

Gayman made a motion for the city to move forward with the after-hours call-ins for bill paying, website payment ability and payroll direct deposit. The board approved

Council members Randy Bland, Gayman, Brett Entrikin and Luster were present for the meeting, and mayor Nathan Murrell was absent.

Stockton R-1 School District

2020-2021 Parent Re-Entry Plan

Stockton R-1 School 906 S. Street Stockton, MO 65785

Submitted to the Board of Education July 15th 2020

As a district we are working through our re-entry to the school year with Covid-19 in mind. We know that this will require us all to do many things and consider things we have not in the past. It is important that we focus on the education of your students. We currently are working with the Cedar County Health Department and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education in developing our plans with many possible scenarios in mind.

Please have a plan for the possibility of school closure. There are many things that we cannot predict and plan for.

To date – We have a very low number of cases in Cedar County. This is encouraging to us as a district and community. We must continue to take protective measures to keep everyone healthy and kids in school.

As a parent, we ask in these weeks before school that you begin frequent conversations with your child about prevention of the spread of germs. Handwashing remains the most important method to prevent germ spread. Talk to young children to keep their hands away from their face. Talk to children about not sharing drinks or other personal items with their peers.

We strongly encourage you to take your child's temperature at home. If they have a temperature over 100 degrees do not send them to school.

If we are forced to have on-line learning or use packets throughout the year these assignments must be completed. Students will not be promoted to the next grade level or receive credit if they do not do this work.

Parents who choose not to send their students to school due to medical concerns will have access to our Alternative Learning System. This option requires a doctor's note monthly or a doctor specifying a specific time frame. The details of this system are still being worked on and will continue to be adjusted due to the specific circumstances that may arise. This will include a blend of virtual learning, zoom, YouTube or FB for online lessons and learning packets. Teachers may be available to provide assistance at school for face to face by appointment, by phone and on-line. If the teacher believes the course needs to be taught by packets or we cannot provide you with a device (we can send lessons on thumb drives).

There is an online learning option through Launch that requires parents to have internet and a device. If a student/parent chooses the online learning option, they must complete the entire semester and cannot return midsemester.

It is very important that you communicate with the district. As we look at the below symptoms some of them may be due things not related to Covid. Informing the district of regular allergy flair ups, asthma, or other symptoms will help the Cedar Country Health Department determine if your child can remain in school.

Symptoms of Covid have been given to local school districts. We will be sending students home if they have two of these symptoms:

- Fever or chills
- Cough
- Headache
- Muscle aches
- Nausea, vomiting or diarrhea
- New loss of taste or smell
- New runny nose or congestion
- · Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Sore throat
- Close contact with a person with COVID-19 in the last 14 days

The following statement is guidance from The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) and the Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS):

Students with symptoms should not attend school and parents should consult their healthcare provider and follow CDC considerations regarding their return to school. For students who are diagnosed with COVID-19, either by a laboratory test or based on their symptoms, return to school is permissible when the student is at least 10 days from symptom onset, has had three days with no fever and has improving symptoms. Return to school for children with an alternate diagnosis is at the discretion of their healthcare provider and/or the school nurse. Children with a known close contact with COVID-19 (or an adult with symptoms compatible with COVID-19) should stay home for 14 days from their last contact and until return to school is approved by the local health department in accordance with the CDC guidance.

We will have a Green- Yellow- Red plan for school. At this point we will start the year in green.

GREEN

GREEN - No district cases, no large spike in county cases

- Students will notice very little difference than school in the past.
- We will use symptom screening. Student and staff are to stay at home with a temperature of 100 degrees or greater OR two or more COVID-19 symptoms.
- We will emphasize additional hand washing, hand sanitizer upon entering and exiting a space, spacing in the classroom will strive to be a minimum of 3 ft. apart and facing forward as much as space allows.
- All students should bring a water bottle to school each day. Each building will have a touchless water fountain.
- Breakfast and lunch will be held in the classrooms. School buildings will not open until 7:30 and busses will not dismiss students until 7:30. Students will go straight to their class/homeroom. (Details are still being worked on with this)
- Students must wash hands frequently for 20 seconds with soap and water.

- Students will be asked to bring their own school supplies with a container brought from home to keep them separate from others as much as possible.
- Teachers will have a container for used and unused items and students must place used items in the correct container. We will not have shared supplies.
- Students will be required to have assigned seating everywhere.

 Was vill assessment as the bring the in a hildren as the drive (see
- We will encourage parents to bring their children or to drive/walk to school as weather permits. Busses will be loaded from the back to the front and unloaded from the front to the back. The bus driver may have family units sit together. All busses will have assigned seating.
- Students and staff may wear face coverings however they are not required.
- Outdoor spaces and open windows on the buses will be used whenever possible for learning, eating, bus riding and for PE and recess.
- Any visitor who need to go past the office will be screened for illness. We will limit visitor contact with students and staff. Visitors will sign in to offices.
- School busses will keep an open seat on all busses.
- Parents will not be able to walk their child to the classroom or have lunch with them.

YELLOW

YELLOW - Investigation of a possible case in district/large spike in county with community spread

- Temperatures will be taken daily of staff and students.
- Some teachers will come to the classroom rather than the class going to the teacher when possible.
- Students who show symptoms at school will be asked to wear a mask until they are picked up.
- While not required, staff and students will be asked to wear face coverings.
- Outdoor spaces will be used whenever possible for learning, eating, and for PE and recess

Level RED is still being tweaked at this point. This information will be updated prior to the start of school. These specific strategies have not been addressed by the task force committee or the board of education.

RFD

RED-Case(s) in district/large community/county spread

- We will close face to face school in one or more buildings (most likely all buildings would be closed but if there is a possibility can continue at a specific building, we want the option).
- Facemasks will be required if working outside of your work area or if working with students.
- We will continue learning through our Alternative Learning Plan. This will include a blend of virtual learning, zoom, YouTube or FB for online lessons and learning packets. Teachers will be available to provide assistance at school for face to face by appointment, by phone and on-line. We are very close to having enough devices for every student (2nd -12th). If the teacher believes the course needs to be taught by packets or we cannot provide you with a device (we can send lessons on thumb drives which will be delivered with meals weekly).
- Special needs students will need to have their Alternative Learning Method plan implemented as decided upon by the IEP team.
- Meals will be provided by Grab and Go or bus delivery.
- ALL SCHOOL WORK WILL BE GRADED AND USED TO DETERMINE PASSING to the next grade K-8th or credit to be given at the HS. The teacher will post grades on-line to monitor progress.

In the event of a Suspected Case of COVID-19

In the event of a suspected case of COVID-19, the following protocols will be followed: SCENARIO

- A student doesn't feel well and visits the school nurse.
- The nurse determines symptoms may be COVID related.
- The student will be temporarily separated from others.
- The school nurse will contact the parent. When the parent arrives, the nurse will give parents instructions. The nurse will offer to assist the parent with making phone calls to the healthcare provider.
- The healthcare provider will arrange for the student to be tested if deemed necessary. If the student tests positive for COVID, the healthcare provider will contact the parent.
- A student must be symptom free for 24 hours once sent home. Prior to returning to school, the student must be checked by the school nurse.

If the student has been told to self-isolate, the family will be requested to call the school. The school will check to see if there are siblings or other family members in Stockton Schools and follow health guidelines.

If your child has health concerns identified by a doctor that may cause them to be high risk for COVID 19 please contact nurse Karen at kjcollins@stockton. k12.mo.us You may also call her at 417-276-5143 ext 222. You will need to leave a message however she will be checking these throughout the rest of the summer.

Summertime in the Ozarks

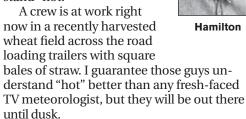

By Jim Hamilton

It is summertime in the Ozarks.

Weather forecasters are doing their best to scare us with daily predictions of temperatures in the high 90's, with "no relief in sight," as if we have never lived through an Ozarks summer.

Most of them are young folks. Few, if any, ever spent a summer in the hayfields or on a construction job. Most have always had air conditioning in their homes, cars and workplaces. I do not know if they really understand "hot."

Once upon a time, I could have been among them. I could not do it now, but in my youth, I tossed unnumbered square bales onto wagons and into the peaks of sweltering-hot barn lofts. Wish I could do it, now. If I still had the strength and stamina of an 18-year-old.

Wishful thinking will not make me 18 again, but I thank God for every hour I toiled under the sun as a young man. Every day in the hayfields or digging ditches put me a little closer to starting college — closer to the luxuries I enjoy today.

Long before I earned a single dollar for filling a neighbor's hay barn, I understood "hot" in the hayfields of home — and in our house and barn, as well.

I am spoiled, today, by air conditioning in my car, truck and house. No matter the heat outside, instant relief is at hand, and at this stage of life (retirement) I can seek a cooling respite anytime I choose.

Not so, when I was a boy on the farm. Dad — not the weatherman — determined what I would do on any given summer day, and the heat that made working most unpleasant was ideal for drying newly mown hay. Day-after-day under the sun, this was summer in the Ozarks of my youth. Of course, every hour was not spent in the hayfields; we went fishing a lot, too, but seldom were we in the house. This is where it was really hot — there and in the milk barn at day's end. What little respite we could find was in front of little electric fans.

The only air conditioning I encountered as a boy was when I went with Mom to a supermarket in town — usually a Consumers. It always hit me like an arctic blast. Too cold to be of much comfort.

Neither Mom nor Dad wanted air conditioning in our cars. Wing vent windows were just as good, and when I bought my first brand-new car in 1974 — a Chevy Nova — I eschewed air conditioning as a waste of money.

I was younger then. It may be a luxury, but I do not want to be without it today.

Another such luxury many families took for granted when I was a boy was hot and cold running water. At times we had only well water drawn with a rope and bucket, and at times running water, but only cold. One thing I missed during summer vacation was the showers I could take after gym class.

Coming in from the hayfield in summer, our only way to rinse off the dirt and chaff was sponge bath, a tub in the back yard after dark, or occasionally a quick dip in Greasy Creek a couple of miles down the road. Most often, though, it was just a wet washcloth. Other than on Sunday morning, we had no one to offend anyway, other than one another.

That was summer in the Ozarks, when I

These days, though, a shower is my best friend — maybe even more so than air conditioning. I love to work outside in the sun and come in hot and grimy, then shower it all away — sometimes two or three times a day. Martha says she does not mind doing laundry (another chore much easier than when I was a boy).

That's summer in the Ozarks. No matter how scary the weather folk make 90-plus sound, it is all good today. I remember when it was not.

A mom's thank you note to the kids' first boss

Rockwood

By Gwen Rockwood

During what many would describe as the suckiest summer in recent history, something good happened at our house. Two of our three children have become gainfully employed with their first official jobs.

Our two sons - the 18-yearold recent high school graduate and the newly mobile 16-yearold – both found part-time jobs at a place serving frozen custard. They applied for and landed the jobs before the pandemic shut most things down in March. Once the weather got warmer this spring, they started work.

I was hesitant about the timing, especially as virus cases surged again this summer. But the frozen custard place is drive-through only and the managers take temperatures, enforce usage of employees' masks and are laser-focused on cleanliness.

first jobs are teaching them. If I could write their bosses a letter, here's what it would say:

Dear Boss,

You have no idea what has happened to my teenagers since you posted the "Now Hiring" sign in your window. What started out as a family trip to get dessert led to an opportunity that has changed them in significant ways.

Even though I am the parent who could not.

For example, a mother can tell her teenager all day long that first impressions really do matter. That it is always smart to show up to work a little early. But when a manager says, "Hey, you were five minutes late today. Don't do that again," the lesson finally sinks in. It finally sticks. This lesson went from being an annoying thing his mother once said to becoming a fact. Now, he leaves for work early and probably always will.

Their dad and I gave the boys a heads-up before their first day of work. We told them that being the new kid on the job is never easy, no matter how old you are. We warned them that the "I don't know what I'm doing" feeling is normal, but it can often feel scary and miserable. We assured them things would get easier with each shift they worked.

But it was the actual work shifts which helped them learn these truths for themselves. When they were new, they made mistakes. They felt stupid. But they were fortunate enough to be taught by managers who did not demean them - people who helped them through those first few nerve-wracking weeks. Particularly for our oldest son who will head off to college next month, I hope he remembers that he worked through the "fish out of water" feeling at his first job, and now he can do it again in college.

Thanks also for wearing them out. Their dad and I both smile when they get home at the end of a shift completely exhausted, smudged with chocolate sauce, sweaty and sore from being on > their feet for hours and then ending the shift with a mop and a bucket.

Their work is fast-paced, and it challenges them both physically and mentally. Perhaps the pandemic has triggered an increased demand for comfort food because our boys say there is rarely a slow moment during their six-hour shifts. They are working hard for the money, and there's something so good about that. I know it will serve them well.

Speaking of service, this first job is also reinforcing what we, as parents, have been showing them since before they could even talk. Kindness matters. Good manners count. What you say and your tone of voice are important, and it is never okay to be rude, no matter how bad your day was or how much money the person in front of you makes per hour.

Now that our kids are working in a service industry, they see firsthand that mean-spirited people are an attack on human dignity. They've learned a deeper appreciation for the kind customers and have learned to endure the rude ones. Because of this experience they've had, I never have to worry that they would ever become one of the rude ones.

Finally, thanks for putting some money in their wallets. Sure, it has kept me from being their maternal ATM this summer, but it is so much more than that. Now they have bank accounts and debit cards. They have a savings account. Through their banking app, they can see how the money comes into their account and how quickly it can go right back out if they're not careful.

Now that it's money they have worked hard for, they have a new perspective on how much they are willing to pay for things. Lately they are drawing much more distinct lines between "wants" and "needs." And they are proud of the money they have socked away in the bank because they know they

So, thank you for hiring teenagers with zero work experience. Thank you for giving them the opportunity to gain that experience. Thank you for helping develop a whole new generation of workers who will go on to shape our communities and the world at large.

My teens grew up mostly at my house, but now I can see that they've done some important growing-up work at your place, too. We are forever grateful.

Sincerely, The Mom

Dear Editor, I am shocked and dismayed by the Stockton city mayor and board of aldermen's most recent decision to deny access to the cemetery for disabled persons. The cemetery board recommended this access be provided, but mayor Hamby broke a 2-2 tie with a vote against this proposal. Why?

I was a primary advocate for my two siblings who were afflicted with cerebral palsy. We fought through the decades from the 1960s until their deaths in 2011 and 2012 for equal access to education, healthcare, and equal access to public buildings

Subsequently, they were the first to be admitted to public schools, as they were both intelligent and capable. Eventually, through hard work and advocacy, laws were passed and enforced favoring disabled access.

Letter to Editor

As adults, they lived in disabled housing, much like the disabled housing on Orchard Street, and they lived on the meager amount of money provided through the social security disability program. Yes, they could have lived with me, but independence was paramount to their individual happiness.

The fact our local disabled and elderly are

Aren't we better than this? pass through the cemetery is discriminatory, and frankly, cruel. The public has access to the cemetery, and it is used on a regular basis for recreational exercise. Mobility is crucial for independent living. Income restrictions prevent these citizens from owning specially equipped cars, so scooters and golf carts are a lifeline to a somewhat mobile and independent life.

My experience with laws related to disabled has me convinced this decision is not legal.

My hope is the city will reconsider, so future advocacy and subsequent actions are not necessary.

> Beth Cumins Stockton

Dear Editor,

The recent decision by the Stockton city aldermen to restrict access to cemetery property leaves unanswered questions regarding fairness and legality.

The recommendation of the cemetery board was denied in a 2-2 tie vote. which was broken by mayor Roger Hamby.

The denial will directly affect individuals desiring access to the Complete Streets project, which connects the east, west, north and south parts of Stockton.

The denial also leaves individuals with disabilities who can legally use authorized golf carts, motorized wheelchairs and small scooters no option except to travel on Route J or Mo. 32, which is not authorized by city ordinances.

The Individuals with Disabilities Act requires all citizens to safe, equal and inclusive access to public properties.

The Complete Streets project was financed by a $20,000 grant directly paid to the city and has remaining funds which can and should be used to create a 4-5-foot opening in the existing fence on the east side of the cemetery and post signage which is already in the city's possession.

I would respectfully request the city's aldermen carefully revisit the cemetery board's recommendation and consider the ramifications of their denial.

This isn't right

Dear Editor,

I attended the city alderman board meeting on Monday, July 27, to learn more about the complete and Shared Streets Program. I was shocked when the first speaker, Mary Norell, was walking up to do her presentation and mayor Hamby said, "Keep it short so we can get out of here — we already spent two hours on this last time."

To begin a meeting with this attitude does not display an open-minded approach to the topic, not to mention being disrespectful to the citizens who were there to speak on the subject.

At issue is the inability of a lifelong disabled resident, who does not have a safe path to access the safe streets. There needs to be a small change made to the fence on the backside of the cemetery to provide this access, and the cemetery board is in favor of this alteration to the fence and mayor Roger Hamby from the cabins "racing all over town in golf carts and eventually ending up etery." If this were going to happen, it already would have, because they already legally have access to the cemetery roads.

The people being denied safe access are the disabled people living in the Orchard Streets Apartments. Their need is not recreational — it is necessary to provide "safe" access to town and allow them to be independent, functioning members of our community.

If the mayor and alderman are so concerned about these throngs of teenagers racing around town, why haven't they done anything about reporting it or enforcing the existing ordinance. This ordinance requires having golf carts registered or licensed and has defined speed limits.

Instead, they choose to allow vacationers to break the law, and then use it as an excuse to deny our disabled residents the protections they are entitled to under the Americans with Disabilities Act, because something bad might happen.

The mayor said, "If you let one person do it, you have to let everyone do it."

Precisely, now "everyone" does not have equal access, and this is wrong and discriminatory. We should be doing everything within our power to make sure we are all treated equally, and help everyone reach their potential and be an independent, contributing part of our community.

Mayor Hamby displayed a close-minded and blatant disregard to this discrimination. I hope the city aldermen will see the error of their ways and help find a workable solution. Otherwise, the city could lose the grant (and must repay the money already spent) and face expensive lawsuits for not abiding by the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mindbending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test! Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle! Answers are on page 12A.

COLORECTAL CANCER IS THE THIRD LEADING CAUSE OF CANCER-RELATED DEATHS FOR BOTH MEN AND WOMEN IN THE U.S.

Unfortunately, about 1 in 3 people in the U.S. who should get tested for colorectal cancer have never been screened.

Finding cancer early, when it's small and hasn't spread, often allows for more treatment options. Some screening tests, such as colonoscopies, can find and remove suspicious growths before they have a chance to become cancer.

White bass are on the move

By Ken White

The white bass have been active recently and many anglers are after them, including George Harris, Springfield.

Harris is in his element this month because the whites are hitting. He fishes White for the whites by watching for places where the fish are chasing shad. When he finds action in the water, he throws a silver spoon into the feeding whites and the fun starts.

Recently, while fishing for walleye early in the morning, Harris saw the water churning in a cove and knew the whites were on a feeding frenzy.

"I sped into the cove and cast a spoon," Harris said. "I caught seven whites before they moved. It was fast action and what I had been waiting for."

> Harris and friend, Carl Thomas, Kansas City, were fishing for white bass on Pomme de Terre and Stockton for years before Harris moved to Springfield, but when the white bass start to hit, they get together for some great fishing on Stockton lake.

"We used to fish Table Rock when the whites were hitting shad about this time of the year," Harris said. "The fast action when you find a school of white bass is about as good as it gets. For years I have caught a lot of whites in Martin's Cove on the Pomme. My old friend Thomas and I would catch what seemed like a ton of whites every August."

Harris sometimes uses a "speck rig" for schooling white bass. He ties his fishing line to one terminal of a three-way swivel then attaches leaders of different lengths to each of the other swivel terminals and ties white jigs to both. When a bass hits one jig, he sets the hook, but does not reel in. Chances are another fish will hit the second jig. Fighting two whites at once isn't as difficult as it may seem, because they usually pull against each other instead of against your rod. Fishing for white bass can get addictive as, Tom Harper knows.

Harper remembers when he fished Pomme de Terre before the white bass were put in, and in just a few years there were limits of fish caught over the lake in a few hours.

"They kept anglers busy around this time of the year," Harper said.

Harper also fishes for whites on Stockton Lake, where he has taken a lot of white bass.

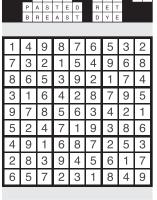

"When the white bass are feeding and you find out just where, the action can be fast and furious," Harper said. "The whites are not only fun to catch and give you all the action you want, they also make for some good eating. Next time out, I want to take my two boys along so they can see just how much fun it can be when you run into a school of feeding white bass."

Fishing reports this week show the white bass are hitting early in the morning and late in the afternoon on most of the state's big impoundments.

Using spoons, jigs or roadrunners are producing limits of whites showing up at local marinas.

White, a Stockton resident, has a versatile background in sports, both as a particiapnt and journalist. His column appears weekly.

Meet R-I's new superintendent

Crawford speaks on experience, hopes for the future

Tith the 2020-21 school year almost at full fruition, a familiar face has taken the reins in the Stockton R-I School District.

Earlier this year, after much effort reviewing a number of qualified candidates, the local school district board selected longtime educator and administrator Dr. Doug Crawford to assume the role after longstanding district leader Dr. Shannon Snow retired this summer.

Crawford — who previously served as the elementary school's principal — holds an undergraduate degree in physical education, a graduate degree in the field of educational leadership, as well as a doctoral degree in education with an emphasis on superintendence.

Spanning his two decades in the educational field, Crawford has served as a physical education teacher, an athletic director, a high school alternative education teacher, taught at the grade school level, coached athletic teams, as well as held the titles of elementary and high school principal, respectively.

In speaking to his familiarity and comfortability within the district, Crawford said he looked forward to the new role in a number of ways because, over the years, he has been in virtually every role an educator or administrator can hold.

"The district here is very involved, and I appreciate the culture that's been cultivated here," Crawford previously told the Republican. "I appreciate what's going on here within the school district, and it's a place I personally enjoyed teaching and holding different roles. I want to see that attitude and atmosphere continue."

In addition to his experience, Crawford said his approach to leadership and administrative duties is multifacted, based largely on his years in a variety of educational roles.

"When it comes to policy-making and how administrative decisions are made, I am in a place where my professional experience allows me to understand them better," Crawford said. "I see how changes and decisions at a district level directly impact the classroom, faculty, staff, athletics and students on individual levels. I can look at things from the perspective of a teacher, a parent, a principal or an administrator and I think that's a very important part of why this new role is a good fit."

Outgoing retired superintendent Snow offered her own support and endorsed the district's selection of Crawford as her successor to the Republican.

> "Doug is an excellent choice to lead the district," Snow previously told the Republican. "His work in elementary has been great and his professional past is well-rounded because he's worked at all levels of education. Doug's got excellent character and he's very approachable, too."

> Crawford also said he had not looked outside the district for similar opportunities — meaning the decades-long tenured educator was not seeking an educational role outside of the Stockton school system. "We make our home here," Crawford said of his commitment to the area. "I wasn't ever looking to leave the district. My wife and I have children in the school system here and I was never looking to relocate out of the area."

New superintendent Dr. Doug

Additionally, Crawford confirmed he will continue to maintain open communication with the entire district and will always be available to communicate with faculty, staff, students, parents/guardians and interested community members.

Speaking personally about his goals moving forward and his approach to the new role, Crawford offered words of reassurance and commitment to the local educational community.

"I don't want to change who I am or who the community knows me to be," Crawford said. "This is a great district to work for and I will continue to develop a mutual respect with our district's board, faculty, staff, students and parents. We're in a good place, we're doing a lot of things the right way for our students and I plan to continue that as we transition into the years ahead."

Crawford welcomes communication from all facets of the Stockton R-I School District and can be reached via email at dcrawford@stockton.k12. mo.us or by calling the superintendent's office at 276-5143.

Stockton R-1 parent reentry plan

Submitted by R-I superintendent Dr. Doug Crawford

As a district, we are working through our reentry to the school year with COVID-19 in mind.

We know this will require us all to do many things and consider things we have not in the past. It is important we focus on the education of your students. We are currently working with the Cedar County Health Department and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education in developing our plans with many possible scenarios in mind. Please have a plan for the possibility of school closure. There are many things we cannot predict and plan for.

To date, we have a very low number of cases in Cedar County. This is encouraging to us as a district and community. We must continue to take protective measures to keep everyone healthy and kids in school.

As a parent, we ask in these weeks before school, you begin frequent conversations with your child about prevention of the spread of germs.

Handwashing remains the most important method to prevent germ spread. Talk to young children to keep their hands away from their face. Talk to children about not sharing drinks or other personal items with their peers.

We strongly encourage you to take your child's temperature at home. If they have a temperature over 100 degrees, do not send them to school.

If we are forced to have online learning or use packets throughout the year, these assignments must be completed. Students will not be promoted to the next grade level or receive credit if they do not do this work.

Parents who choose not to send their students to school due to medical concerns will have access to our Alternative Learning System. This option requires a doctor's note on a monthly basis or a doctor specifying a defined time frame.

The details of this system are still being worked on and will continue to be adjusted due to the specific circumstances which may arise. This will include a blend of virtual learning, Zoom, YouTube or Facebook use for online lessons and learning packets.

Teachers may be available to provide assistance at school face-to-face by appointment, by phone and online.

COVID-19 PREVENTION

If the teacher believes the course needs to be taught by packets or we cannot provide you with a device, we can send lessons on thumb drives.

There is an online learning option through Launch which requires parents to have internet and a device. If a student/parent chooses the online learning option, they must complete the entire semester and cannot return mid-semester.

It is very important you communicate with the district. As we look at the below symptoms some of them may be due things not related to COVID-19. Informing the district of regular allergy flair ups, asthma, or other symptoms will help the CCHD determine if your child can remain in school.

COVID-19 SYMPTOMS

We will be sending students home if they have two of any these symptoms: fever or chills, cough, headache, muscle aches, new loss of taste or smell, new runny nose or congestion, muscle aches, nausea, vomiting or diarrhea, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, a sore throat and/or close contact with a person who has COVID-19 in the last 14 days.

The following statement is guidance from DESE and DHSS:

Students with symptoms should not attend school and parents should consult their healthcare provider and follow CDC considerations regarding their return to school. For students who are diagnosed with COVID-19, either by a laboratory test or based on their symptoms, return to school is permissible when the student is at least 10 days from symptom onset, has had three days with no fever and has improving symptoms. Return to school for children with an alternate diagnosis is at the discretion of their healthcare provider and/or the school nurse. Children with a known close contact with COVID-19 (or an adult with symptoms compatible with COVID-19)

P.O. Box 410 • Stockton

should stay home for 14 days from their last contact and until return to school is approved by the local health department in accordance with the CDC guidance.

GREEN/YELLOW/RED PLAN: GREEN DAYS:

At this point, we will start the year in green.

Green means there are no district cases, no large spike in county cases.

•Students will notice very little difference than school in the past.

•We will use symptom screening. Student and staff are to stay at home with a temperature of 100 degrees or greater OR two or more COVID-19 symptoms.

•We will emphasize additional hand washing, hand sanitizer upon entering and exiting a space, spacing in the classroom will strive to be a minimum of 3 feet apart and facing forward as much as space allows.

•All students should bring a water bottle to school each day. Each building will have a touchless water fountain.

•Breakfast and lunch will be held in the classrooms. School buildings will not open until 7:30 a.m. and busses will not dismiss students until 7:30 a.m. Students will go straight to their class/homeroom.

•Students must wash hands frequently for 20 seconds with soap and water.

•Students will be asked to bring their own school supplies, with a container brought from home, to keep them separate from others as much as possible.

•Teachers will have a container for used and unused items and students must place used items in the cor> rect container. We will not have shared supplies.

•Students will be required to have assigned seating everywhere.

•We will encourage parents to bring their children or to drive/walk to school as weather permits. Busses will be loaded from the back to the front and unloaded from the front to the back. The bus driver may have family units sit together. All busses will have assigned seating.

•Students and staff may wear face coverings; however, they are not required.

 Outdoor spaces and open windows on the buses will be used whenever possible for learning, eating, bus riding and for P.E. and recess.

•Any visitor who need to go past the office will be screened for illness. We will limit visitor contact with students and staff. Visitors will sign in at school offices.

REENTRY PLAN

•School busses will keep an open seat on all busses.

•Parents will not be able to walk their child to the classroom or have lunch with them.

YELLOW DAYS:

Yellow days mean there is an investigation of a possible case in district/ large spike in county with community spread.

•Temperatures will be taken daily of staff and students.

•Some teachers will come to the classroom rather than the class going to the teacher when possible.

•Students who show symptoms at school will be asked to wear a mask until they are picked up.

•While not required, staff and students will be asked to wear face

•Outdoor spaces will be used whenever possible for learning, eating, as well as for physical education and recess.

RED DAYS:

Red day protocols are still being adjusted at this point. This information will be updated prior to the start of school. These specific strategies have not been addressed by the task force committee or the board of education.

RED DAYS IN DISTRICT/LARGE COMMUNITY/COUNTY SPREAD:

•We will close face-to-face school in one or more buildings (most likely all buildings would be closed, but if there is a possibility school can continue at a specific building, we want the option).

•Facemasks will be required if working outside of your work area or if working with students.

•We will continue learning through our Alternative Learning Plan. This will include a blend of virtual learning, Zoom, YouTube or Facebook for online lessons and learning packets. Teachers will be available to provide assistance at school for face to face by appointment, by phone and online. We are very close to having enough devices for every student (secondtwelfth grade). If the teacher believes the course needs to be taught by packets or we cannot provide you with a device, we can send lessons on thumb drives which will be delivered with meals weekly.

•Special-needs students will need to have their Alternative Learning Method plan implemented as decided upon by the IEP team.

•Meals will be provided by Grab and Go or bus delivery.

•All schoolwork will be graded and used to pass students through to the next grade K-8th or credit to be given at SHS. The teacher will post grades online to monitor progress.

IN THE EVENT OF A SUSPECTED CASE OF COVID-19

In the event of a suspected case of COVID-19, the following protocols will be followed:

•A student does not feel well and visits the school nurse.

•The nurse determines symptoms may be COVID-19 related.

•The student will be temporarily separated from others.

•The school nurse will contact the parent. When the parent arrives, the nurse will give parents instructions. The nurse will offer to assist the parent with making phone calls to the healthcare

•The healthcare provider will arrange for the student to be tested if deemed necessary. If the student tests positive for COVID, the healthcare provider will contact the parent.

•A student must be symptom-free for 24 hours once sent home. Prior to returning to school, the student must be checked by the school nurse.

•If the student has been told to selfisolate, the family will be requested to call the school. The school will check to see if there are siblings or other family members in the school system and follow health

•If your child has health concerns identified by a doctor that may cause them to be high risk for COVID 19 please contact nurse Karen at kjcollins@stockton.k12. mo.us You may also call her at 276-5143 ext. 222. You will need to leave a message however she will be checking these throughout the rest of the summer.

Health department offers drive-thru vaccine clinic

The Cedar County Health Department — a service of Cedar County Memorial Hospital — will be hosting a drive-thru vaccination clinic Stockton, according to the Jenean Ehlers, RN, Community Services Manager of CCHD.

Please note the following details:

These vaccination clinics will be for incoming 8th and 12th grade students needing vaccinations for school. Most incoming 8th grade students will be required to receive two vaccines while most 12th grade students may need only one vaccine to comply with state guidelines.

Please bring the student's current shot record and insurance/coverage information to be processed. If you do not have insurance, the cost is $21.50 per vaccine. There will be paperwork to complete before vaccines are administered.

Please limit the number of individuals in each vehicle, and we ask everyone present please wear a mask.

If you have a kindergarten student needing shots for school, please make an appointment in advance by calling (417) 876-5477 in El Dorado Springs.

Preparing kids for back-to-school season

Between sheltering-inplace, online learning and time away from friends, many children will need a little extra support as they head back to school

Consider these tips from the experts at KinderCare to help you emotionally prepare vour children to return to school with confidence, optimism and excitement.

ADDRESS YOU FEELINGS (AND THEIRS):

Children often take cues about how to react from their parents. Think about what it takes for you to feel calm and prepared (or even excited) for the start of a new school year. That could mean talking with your child's teacher or school about the safety precautions they're taking so you can feel more at ease, taking a few minutes to establish a morning routine or stepping away from news that makes you anxious. Focus instead on the positive aspects of school, like the opportunity your child will have to learn, make friends, interact with others and grow into his or her own person.

"Children need a sense of belonging, and school provides an important connection point for them," Dr. Elanna Yalow, chief academic officer for KinderCare Learning Centers said. "Nothing builds a sense of community like personal contact with friends and teachers. That connection is essential in supporting a child's growth and development.'

Set expectations about what to expect before the first day

Some children may feel ready to go and eager to explore, while others can be more reserved or even fearful of new places, faces and routines. When your child knows what to expect, it can go a long way in soothing any worries he or she may have about leaving home and going to school.

It also is important to respect your child's growing independence and empower him or her to help others. As you explain safety precautions like covering the mouth when sneezing or coughing, or proper hand washing, emphasize how your child's actions can help keep family, friends and teachers safe.

"Children may already be apprehensive about returning to school, let alone trying to cope with new safety practices," Dr. Joelle Simpson, a pediatric emergency medicine physician and medical director for emergency preparedness at Children's National Hospital said. "Explaining these precautions ahead of time can help your children see them as part of the school day routine instead of something to fear. For parents, remember that while children can get sick from this virus, it occurs less frequently than in adults and at lower rates than the flu."

CELEBRATE THE START OF A NEW SCHOOL YEAR

Try to plan a special activity or some extra family time the week before school starts and encourage your child to participate in the planning.

"Remember, children didn't have time for a clean break and celebration at the end of the last school year, and this can help your child mentally adjust to a new routine and schedule," Yalow said.

Let your child know how proud you are to see him or her growing up, learning how to be a good friend and exploring and learning about the world. Be sure to talk with your child each school day - what was learned, funny things friends said, the things which seem little but are important to your child.

Tips to help E R bullying this schoolyear

Contributed by StatePoint Media news@cedarrepublican.com

This back-to-school season may look a little different, but no matter what learning environment kids find themselves in this fall, bullying is a real cause

One in five children aged 12-18 has encountered bullying, according to StopBullying.gov. It can happen in person, online or even by text. In an effort to combat the problem, Pilot Pen launched the Erase Bullying for Good campaign to help support bullying prevention programs in schools nationwide. For a smooth start to the school year, they are offering parents these back-to-school tips for facing the issue:

•Sometimes children hesitate to share negative situations they are encountering. This does not mean they are not showing signs something is wrong. Pay attention to sudden changes in mood, sleep patterns, study habits or other signs of stress. Let kids know if they are bullied or witness bullying, it is OK to come to you or another trusted adult, like a teacher, counselor or coach. A strong trust network helps kids feel safe and empowered.

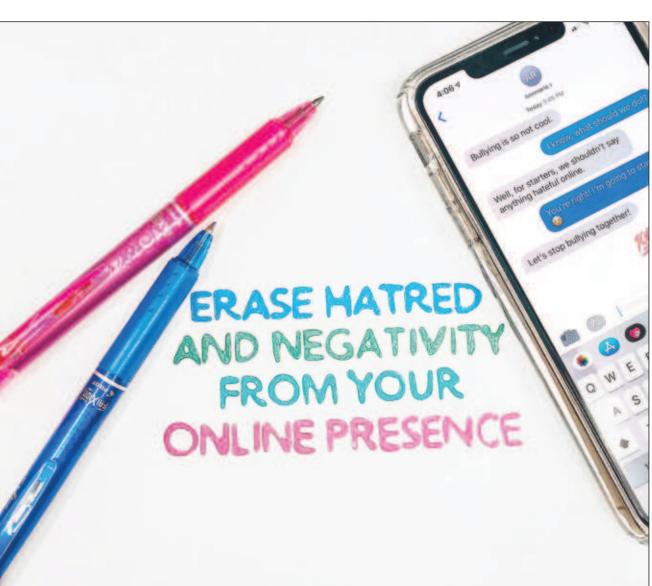

•If your child is being bullied, reassure them that they are not alone and have done nothing wrong. Let them know you will work through this together. Follow up with school officials to ensure the negative behavior is being addressed, especially if your child is being physically bullied or feels like they are in danger.

•The presence of digital devices and broad reach of social media means more avenues for bullies to reach their targets. Maintain an open dialogue with your child regarding online activity, and don't be shy about keeping an eye on profiles and posts.

•Being the target of bullying can feel isolating and overwhelming. If your child witnesses bullying, encourage them to be an "upstander," not just a bystander. This involves being an ally who stands up to bullies, and it can be as simple as seeking help from an adult, or as ambitious as starting an anti-bullying program at school.

•It can be disheartening to learn your own child has engaged in bullying. Remember, bullying is a behavior, and behaviors can be changed. Help your child identify underlying feelings which may be causing them to act out in this way and encourage them to find positive outlets such as sports, art or journaling.

•It is important for kids to understand the goal of bullying is to make the victim feel scared or powerless. Parents can equip children with the knowledge, Bullying is all too common. However, parents can play an active role in helping put a stop to it this back-to-school season and beyond.

resources and confidence they need to feel empowered in the face of bullying, as well as with tools aligning with this cause. By the end of 2020, the Erase Bullying for Good campaign, through purchases of Pilot's FriXion Erasable pens, will have contributed more than $450,000 to organizations committed to bringing bullying prevention and education programs to U.S. schools. FriXion's unique, thermo-sensitive erasable ink writes smoothly and erases cleanly, so students, teachers and parents can write, create and express themselves fearlessly without the stress of written mistakes, empowering them to be upstanders through the written word. Stockton R-I parent checklist

Practice and reinforce good prevention habits with your family:

•Avoid close contact with people who are sick

•Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.

•Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds and always after going to the bathroom, before eating and after blowing your nose, coughing or sneezing.

•If soap and water are not available, use a hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol.

Keep your child at home if sick with any illness:

•If your child is not feeling well, please keep them home and contact your healthcare provider. Monitor your child for the following symptoms: temperature over 100, cough, sore throat, body and muscle aches, headache, loss of taste or smell, congestion, nausea and vomiting and diarrhea.

•Be prepared if your child's school is temporarily closed or he/she is sent home due to a COVID-19 related illness. •Help your school by reinforcing healthy behaviors including staying home if you or your child are sick, washing your hands, social distancing and wearing a mask when social distancing is not possible.

If school is dismissed or your child stays home:

•Talk to your school regarding options for digital and distance learning.

•Discourage children and teens from gathering while school is dismissed.

•Work with your school/local health department to determine when your child should return due to illness - ongoing communication is necessary.

CCR starts bottled water drive for Cedar County schools

By Miles Brite milesb@cedarrepublican.com

It is that time of year once again — the new schoolyear is upon us.

With the growing concerns and mountain of changes ahead for daily operations due to the novel coronavirus' impact on the nation, area schools have been inundated with drastic adjustments.

Currently, both the Stockton R-I and El Dorado Springs R-II districts have thorough, complete plans for both in-school and virtual learning, reactionary protocols in place in the event of exposures and a litany of preventative measures for students, faculty and staff to abide by for all daily school activites.

In finding a way to fill a small need and be of help to the districts, the Cedar County Republican is announcing the "Makin' Waves Bottled Water Drive" beginning Wednesday, Aug. 5.

"As a staff, we just felt it was a way we could do something to help out with resources or necessities as local kids returned to school," CCR marketing consultant Melanie Chance said of the countywide effort. "Other districts are doing this and we felt we could do the same for the schools here."

Adding her own reason for supporting the effort, CCR reporter Kathryn Skopec endorsed the CCR's willingness to play a role in helping local schools.

"In a time when many are apprehensive about returning to school after six months, these kids need to see the community backing them," Skopec said. "Our local school kids need to see businesses supporting their return to school and we want to be a part of that by filling a basic need."

Moving ahead into the 2020-21 schoolyear, cases of bottled water can be dropped off from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday at the CCR office located at 26 Public Square, Stockton.

Donations will be compiled and divided between Stockton and El Dorado schools on a weekly basis and/or as they are substantially available.

Looking to make a donation but do not have a way to transport a contribution? Call the CCR for assistance and a staffer will make arrangements to pick up any quantity of bottled water.

Additional information regarding donations can be obtained by calling the CCR office during regular business hours at 276-4211.

Stockton Korth Center sees renovations

By Kathryn Skopec kathryns@cedarrepublican.com

The front view of the Stockton Korth Center has probably caught the eye of seniors and locals driving to the senior center's curbside pickup, considering the major renovations taking place to the building in the past two months.

The building work has been in the center's plans "for a while," but the timing could not work better in their favor, according to Dave Patterson, the Korth Center's project coordinator.

"We had some damage due to the design," Patterson said, standing inside the center's dining area before the Friday, July 31, lunch rush.

Part of the design issue came from the windows; torrential wet weather managed to seap underneath the northern facing windows and caused damage overtime, so the renovation project will help improve the building's resistance to rain and storms, Patterson said.

A skilled construction crew are the ones who have been working feverishly for the past couple months to resolve the issue, he added, and their work has been funded by the senior center's board of directors.

"We look forward to opening up soon, but we do not have a date of opening at this time," Patterson said. "Our plan is to open with minimal occupancy of about 20 visitors."

In the meantime, the center has prepared a plan to break up opening times, which will allow folks to fill the congregate meal cafeteria three times during the day with a 15-minute break in between.

"We will clean up during the break then allow more to enter," Patterson said. "You will have your temperature checked at the door and registered at the kiosk. Everyone will be required to wear a face mask until seated for their meal."

Patterson said there will be no communal seating at the initial opening, unless a patron is grouped with family members or members of the same household.

Meals will be served with drinks and plastic utensils, and there will be no salad bar or drink station. Empty plates and utensils will be picked up by employees.

Activities such as exercise, cards, bingo, darts, pool, etc., will continue to be on hold until further notice.

"We understand that all of these activities are essential in our community as we all love to interact and socialize with one another," Patterson said. "We do look forward to returning to our fun activities.'

In the meantime, the center's volunteers have been calling around 400 patrons who frequented the center during regular operations to "check in on them and make sure they're okay," Patterson said.

Overall the processes and guidelines will be subject to change at any time according to the Center for Disease Control recommendations.

Until doors open, Korth will continue to provide hot and nutritious meals to the area's customers aged

"We appreciate our volunteers" time as a primary resource for making our community mission possible," Patterson said. "Without you and our generous donations, this endeavor would not have been possible. Thank you all for your virtuous patience at this time."

New wheels, new fuzz

Furry hearts talks news

By Kathryn Skopec kathryns@ cedarrepublican.com

Furry Hearts, a Cedar County 501(c)(3) not-for-profit animal organization which rescues, networks and transports dogs in need, now has a new set of wheels to help out its furry friends on the road.

Becca Loane, a Furry Hearts team member, said her relative — who is a musician — donated a 2006 Chevy Express van to Furry Hearts after he realized he was not using the van anymore.

"It's got some miles on it, but it's in good shape right now, and we plan on running it until it hits the dirt and doesn't come back up," Loane said.

With a chuckle, Loane said the van will be able to hold "a lot," of dogs, estimating around six or eight big dogs could probably fit inside, and a litter of puppies would absolutely fit.

As it turns out, transportation is a vital heartbeat of Furry Hearts; Loane said local dogs who are rescued by her organization are networked to other rescue organizations "all over the country."

"When there's a rescue that has room and thinks that [there] would be a good dog for them to be able to adopt out, then they say, 'Hey, I'll take that one,' and then we figure out how to get it to them," Loane said.

Sometimes, Furry Hearts has hired transportation companies to accomplish this task — especially when there are many animals to transport.

"We try to send two or four dogs at a time to the same rescue just so we can save on transport costs a little bit," Loane said. "In the last couple of years, we've sent to Washington state, we've sent to Colorado several times, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Illinois, New Jersey — basically, both coasts."

Almost all of the dogs Furry Hearts has worked with has been within a 40-mile radius of Stockton, Loane said.

Regarding the coronavirus pandemic, Loane said since many people have been staying at home, there have been more opportunities for people to foster rescue animals; however, the organization's donations are down, she said.

"Some of our businesses that help collect donations for us were closed for a while, or at least not having as many customers coming through, so that dropped our donations," Loane said. "We do have some that are just from individual people who send us donations, and we hugely appreciate those."

The costs for an animal networking organization are "up there," Loane said, and they do not seem to be changing in a downward manner because of the virus.

"We still have dogs that have to go to the vet, we have dogs that need food, we have transportation costs — we still have our expenses, and lowered donations hurts," Loane said.

Regarding Furry Hearts' current statistics, Loane said for the first three weeks of July, the organization either transported or arranged transport for 22 dogs in 21 days.

"That's a little bit more than our average has been, but we're averaging probably about 25 dogs a month that we're helping from this area," Loane said.

In the meantime, Furry Hearts' new van — embedded with the organization's paw print logo — will be seen around town, often transporting little "fuzzes" who will be open to meeting members of the community.

For those who wish to help, Loane said Furry Hearts is desperately in need of short or long term fosters for the dogs, as well as transportation drivers.

Contact Furry Hearts at P.O. Box 540, Stockton, or through email at info@ furryheartsinc.org. Donations can be made via the P.O. Box, the organization's Venmo @Furry-Hearts, paypal account furry-hearts2018@gmail.com, or through Amazon Smiles at Furry Hearts Inc.

Local couple heads up Mighty Mite football in Stockton

By Miles Brite milesb@cedarrepublican.com

Folks throughout the Cedar County area most likely know Josh and Chelsea Abercrombie.

The duo is active in a number of youth organizations, equestrian, cattle groups and agricultural groups, as well as play the role of active parents like so many do across the county.

Starting next week, the Abercrombies can add the coordinating duties of Stockton's Mighty Mite youth football program to their list of regular duties as the pair kicks off summer practices this month.

In speaking of their predecessors, Josh showed appreciation for the leadership and financial stewardship the organization benefitted from under the tenure of previous coordinators, John and Andrea Baxter.

"John and Andrea left us in great shape, both financially and structurally," Josh said. "We're in a good place because of how well they ran things and it makes it much easier for Chelsea and me to step in and pick up where they left off."

Josh said the role was a good fit because, as the Baxter's children aged out of Mighty Mites and moved into middle school sports, the Abercrombie's son, Henry, has already been a part of the pee-wee football program for two years.

Josh said, going into their third season as parents, the familiarity he and Chelsea have with the program made their transition into the leadership role more comfortable and much of their activities can be based on previous experience.

Speaking to his goals for the season, Josh conveyed his and Chelsea's approach to the youth football program's goals.

"This is about teaching teamwork, learning basic skills and seeing the success of this program continue," Josh said. "Chelsea and I have been in touch with coach [Luke] Rader in Stockton already. He's big on structure and building character, and this is where it starts. We'll have some new coaches and some growing to do as a group this year, but we're really looking forward to this summer's season."

Those looking to get a child involved with the local Mighty Mite program in Stockton are encouraged to attend the first practice event at 6 p.m., Aug. 10 at the Stockton High School softball field.

Players must have a current physical, a parent or legal guardian must complete a registration form and sign a waiver — which can be completed at the first practice — and a participation fee of $50 will cover a player's use of protective pads and gear for the 2020 season.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the Abercrombies at 955-0325 or via Facebook by visiting the Stockton MO Mighty Mites page.
